LAW:

IRC SEC. 501. EXEMPTION FROM TAX ON CORPORATIONS, CERTAIN TRUSTS, ETC.

501(a) EXEMPTION FROM TAXATION. —An organization described in subsection (c) or (d) or section 401(a) shall be exempt from taxation under this subtitle unless such exemption is denied under section 502 or 503.

IRC Section 501(c)(4) Civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare, or local associations of employees and the net earnings are devoted exclusively to charitable, educational, or recreational purposes.

Revenue Ruling 74-99, 1974-1 CB 131

Homeowners association, preserving appearance and maintaining common areas.-- A homeowners association, to qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code, (1) must serve a "community" which bears a reasonable recognizable relationship to an area ordinarily identified as governmental, (2) it must not conduct activities directed to the exterior maintenance of private residences, and (3) the common areas or facilities it owns and maintains must be for the use and enjoyment of the general public; Rev. Rul. 72-102 modified.

Revenue Ruling 80-63, 1980-1 CB 116

Homeowners' associations.--

Answers are provided to specific questions as to whether the conduct of certain activities will affect the exempt status under section 501(c)(4) of the Code of otherwise qualifying homeowners' associations; Rev. Rul. 74-99 clarified.

The Internal Revenue Service has received several inquiries asking whether the conduct of certain activities will affect the exempt status under section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of otherwise qualified homeowners' associations.

Section 501(c)(4) of the Code provides for exemption from federal income tax of civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

Section 1.501(c)(4)-1(a)(2)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations provides that an organization is operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare if it is primarily engaged in promoting in some way the common good and general welfare of the people of the community. An organization embraced within this section is one which is operated for the purpose of bringing about civic betterments and social improvements.

Rev. Rul. 72-102, 1972-1 C.B. 149, holds that certain nonprofit organizations of a type usually called homeowners' associations, which are formed to administer and enforce covenants for preserving the architecture and appearance of a housing development and to maintain streets, sidewalks, and other non-residential, non-commercial properties in the development of the type normally owned and maintained by a municipal government, may qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code.

Rev. Rul. 74-99, 1974-1 C.B. 131, modified Rev. Rul. 72-102, to make clear that a homeowners' association of the kind described in Rev. Rul. 72-102 must, in addition to otherwise qualifying for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code, satisfy the following requirements: (1) It must engage in activities that confer benefit on a community comprising a geographical unit which bears a reasonably recognizable relationship to an area ordinarily identified as a governmental subdivision or a unit or district thereof; (2) It must not conduct activities directed to the exterior maintenance of private residences; and (3) It owns and maintains only common areas or facilities such as roadways and parklands, sidewalks and street lights, access to, or the use and enjoyment of which is extended to members of the general public and is not restricted to members of the homeowners' association.

Revenue Ruling 80—63, 1980-1 CB 166 answered specific questions that have been raised relating to Revenue Ruling 74-99 and their answers are as follows:

Question 1.

Does Rev. Rul. 74-99 contemplate that the term "community" for purposes of section 501(c)(4) of the Code embraces a minimum area or a certain number of homeowners?

Answer:

No. Rev. Rul. 74-99 states that it was not possible to formulate a precise definition of the term "community". The ruling merely indicates what the term is generally understood to mean. Whether a particular homeowners' association meets the requirements of conferring benefit on a community must be determined according to the facts and circumstances of the individual case. Thus, although the area represented by an association may not be a community within the meaning of that term as contemplated by Rev. Rul. 74-99, if the association's activities benefit a community, it may still qualify for exemption. For instance, if the association owns and maintains common areas and facilities for the use and enjoyment of the general public as distinguished from areas and facilities whose use and enjoyment is controlled and restricted to members of the association then it may satisfy the requirement of serving a community.

Question 2.

May a homeowners' association, which represents an area that is not a community, qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code if it restricts the use of its

Form 886-A	U.S. Treasury Department-Internal Revenue Service EXPLANATION OF ITEMS	Schedule No. or Exhibit
Name of Taxpayer		Year/Period Ended April 30, 20XX

recreational facilities, such as swimming pools, tennis courts, and picnic areas, to members of the association?

Answer:

No. Rev. Rul. 74-99 points out that the use and enjoyment of the common areas owned and maintained by a homeowners' association must be extended to members of the general public, as distinguished from controlled use or access restricted to the members of the association. For purposes of Rev. Rul. 74-99, recreational facilities are included in the definition of "common areas".

Question 3.

Can a homeowners' association establish a separate organization to own and maintain recreational facilities and restrict their use to members of the association?

Answer:

Yes. An affiliated recreational organization that is operated totally separate from the homeowners' association may be exempt. See Rev. Rul. 69-281, 1969-1 C.B. 155, which holds that a social club providing exclusive and automatic membership to homeowners in a housing development, with no part of its earnings inuring to the benefit of any member, may qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(7) of the Code.

Question 4.

Can an exempt homeowners' association own and maintain parking facilities only for its members if it represents an area that is not a community?

Answer:

No. By providing these facilities only for the use of its members the association is operating for the private benefit of its members, and not for the promotion of social welfare within the meaning of section 501(c)(4) of the Code.

United States Court of Appeals, Fourth Circuit.

FLAT TOP LAKE ASSOCIATION, INC., Plaintiff-Appellant,
v. UNITED STATES of America, Defendant-Appellee.

Association consisting of owners of property surrounding artificial lake that sought to restrict development to members only brought civil action seeking judicial determination that it currently was and had been exempt from federal taxation as social welfare organization. The United States District Court for the Southern District of West Virginia, at Beckley, Elizabeth V. Hallanan, J., granted summary judgment for United States, and association appealed. The Court of Appeals, K.K. Hall, Circuit Judge, held that: (1) organization that operated for exclusive benefit of members did not serve as "community," as that term related to broader concept of social welfare, for purposes of tax exemption, and (2) association that had done everything within its power to create wholly private environment for its members was not "community," within meaning of federal tax exemption, and could not claim tax exemption for benefiting itself.

Affirmed.

IRC Section 528(c)(1) provides, in part, that the term "homeowners association" means an organization that elects (at such time and in such manner as the Secretary of Treasury by regulations prescribes) to have § 528 apply for the taxable year.

Section 1.528-8(a) of the Treasury Regulations provides that a separate election to be treated as a homeowners association under § 528 must be made for each taxable year. This election must be made by filing a properly completed Form 1120-H (or such other form as the Secretary of Treasury may prescribe).

Section 1.528-8(b) of the Treasury Regulations provides that for taxable years ending after December 30, 1976, the election must be made not later than the time, including extensions, for filing an income tax return for the year in which the election is to apply.

TAXPAYER'S POSTION:

In response to the proposed revocation of its tax exempt status, presented during the closing conference with the officer on June 1, 20XX, provided its position in a letter dated July 12, 20XX as follows:

"We have consulted with an independent CPA firm regarding our current tax exempt status. We believe our association meets the requirements found in Revenue Ruling 74-99 to be classified for tax exemption under 501(c)(4) of the Code because of the following:

1. Our association serves a community which bears a reasonable recognizable to an area ordinarily identified as governmental,
2. Our association does not conduct activities directed to the exterior maintenance of private residences, and
3. The common area or facilities it owns and maintains must be for the use and enjoyment of the general public.

Our position in meeting these requirements is as follows:

1. The golf course is available to anyone living in the surrounding area.
2. Our community should be recognized as the general public as a whole.

With the guidance of outside consultation and the review of our original tax exempt application, the Board of Directors for believes we have met the requirements to be classified as an Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(4) organization. Therefore, the Association is tax-exempt under Section 501(a) of the Code".

GOVERNMENT'S POSITION:

was incorporated in 19XX to construct, renovate, and operate the common facilities of the subdivision and golf club located in . It is composed of around 1,500 members. Membership is limited to homeowners whose names are on the deed.

was granted tax exempt status per IRC 501(a) as described under IRC 501(c)(4) as a social welfare organization in 19XX.

Inspection of the subdivision showed that entrance to the subdivision and its common facilities located within the subdivision such as the swimming pool, recreation hall, boat slips, bath houses, and are restricted to members by a gate which can be opened with a card. These common facilities within this gated subdivision are for the use of its members and their guests.

By restricting access and use of its common facilities as noted above, with the exception of the golf course and clubhouse, fails to qualify as a social welfare organization under IRC Section 501(c)(4). This position is supported by Revenue Ruling 74-99 as clarified by questions 1 and 2 of Revenue Ruling 80-63.

Question 1 in Revenue Ruling 80-63:

Does Rev. Rul. 74-99 contemplate that the term "community" for purposes of section 501(c)(4) of the Code embraces a minimum area or a certain number of homeowners?

Answer:

No, Rev. Rul. 74-99 states that it was not possible to formulate the precise definition of the term "community". Although the area represented by an association may not be a community within the meaning of that term as contemplated by Rev. Rul. 74-99, if the association's activities benefit a community, it may still qualify for exemption. For instance, if the association owns and maintains common areas and facilities for the use and enjoyment of the general public, as distinguished from areas and facilities whose use and enjoyment is controlled and restricted to members of the association, then it may satisfy the requirement of serving a community.

Question 2 in Revenue Ruling 80-63:

May a homeowners' association which represents an area that is not a community, qualify for exemption under section 501(c)(4) of the Code if it restricts the use of its recreational facilities, such as swimming pools, tennis courts, and picnic areas, to members of the association?

Answer:

Form 886-A	U.S. Treasury Department-Internal Revenue Service EXPLANATION OF ITEMS	Schedule No. or Exhibit
Name of Taxpayer		Year/Period Ended April 30, 20XX

No. Rev. Rul. 74-99 points out that the use and enjoyment of the common areas owned and maintained by a homeowners' association must be extended to members of the general public, as distinguished from controlled use or access restricted to members of the association. For purposes of Rev. Rul. 74-99, recreational facilities are included in the definition of common areas.

The court case of Flat Top Lake Association, Inc. v. United States of America, 868 F.2d 108, 63 AFTR 2d 89-721, 89-1 USTC P 9180 supports the government's position in the District Court when it ruled that a private association of homeowners which restricts its facilities to the exclusive use of its members does not meet the requirements of exemption set out in Section 501(c)(4) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954.

The Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the District Court's decision and further clarified matters by stating and citing the following:

- a. An organization that operates for the exclusive benefit of its members does not serve a "community" as that term relates to the broader concept of social welfare.
- b. A community within the meaning of section 501(c)(4) of the code and the regulations is not simply an aggregation of homeowners bound together in a structured unit formed as a integral part of a plan for the development of a real estate subdivision and the sale and purchase of homes therein.
- c. It cited the intent of Congress where it believed that an organization cannot serve social welfare if it denies its benefits to the general public.

It is position that it is entitled to continued exemption because 1) the golf course is available to anyone living in the surrounding area; and 2) its community should be recognized as the general public as a whole.

The Government does not dispute position that the golf course is accessible to the public. However, the government would like to point out that owns and maintains other facilities that are restricted to the use of its members and guests such as the swimming pool, recreation hall, boat slips, bath houses and They are all considered recreational facilities included in common facilities as defined by Rev. Rul. 74-99 as common areas.

By limiting the use of the majority of the common areas to its members, it does not qualify as a community as required by Rev. Rul. 74-99. In addition, KK Hall of the Court of Appeals which affirmed the decision of the District Court of the Southern District of West Virginia in Flat Top Lake Association v. United States of America held that: (1) an organization that operated for the exclusive benefit of members did not serve as a "community", as that term related to broader concept of social welfare, for purposes of tax exemption, and (2) an association that had done everything within its powers to create wholly private environment for its members was not a "community" within the meaning of federal tax exemption, and could not claim tax exemption for benefiting itself.

Therefore, exempt status under IRC Section 501(c)(4) should be revoked, effective May 1, 20XX.

In the event that the proposed revocation of its tax exempt status under IRC Section 501(c)(4) is sustained, has the option of electing to be classified as a homeowners association under IRC Section 528 if it satisfies the requirements of that Code section.

CONCLUSION:

does not continue to qualify for exemption under IRC section 501(c)(4) as a homeowners association which promotes social welfare because it restricts access to its common facilities such as the swimming pool, recreation hall, boat slips, roads, bath houses and to its members and their guests, and such facilities are not open to the general public. Therefore, revocation of tax exempt status is proposed, effective May 1, 20XX.
