Continuous-use form and instructions.

Form 1099-DIV and these instructions have been converted from an annual revision to continuous use. Both the form and instructions will be updated as needed. For the most recent version, go to IRS.gov/Form1099DIV.

Section 897 gain. RICs and REITs should report any section 897 gains on the sale of United States real property interests (USRPI) in box 2e and box 2f. For further information, see Section 897 gain, later.

Electronic filing of returns. The Taxpayer First Act of 2019, enacted July 1, 2019, authorized the Department of the Treasury and the IRS to issue regulations that reduce the 250-return requirement for 2022 information returns. If those regulations are issued and effective for 2022 information returns required to be filed in 2023, we will post an article at IRS.gov explaining the change.

Online fillable Copies 1, B, 2, and C. To ease statement furnishing requirements, Copies 1, B, 2, and C are fillable online in a PDF format, available at IRS.gov/Form1099DIV. You can complete these copies online for furnishing statements to recipients and for retaining in your own files.

Specific Instructions

File Form 1099-DIV for each person:

- To whom you have paid dividends (including capital gain dividends and exempt-interest dividends) and other distributions valued at $10 or more in money or other property,
- For whom you have withheld and paid any foreign tax on dividends and other distributions on stock,
- For whom you have withheld any federal income tax on dividends under the backup withholding rules, or

- To whom you have paid $600 or more in money or other property as part of a liquidation.

Dividends

If you make a payment that may be a dividend but you are unable to determine whether any part of the payment is a dividend by the time you must file Form 1099-DIV, the entire payment must be reported as a dividend. See the regulations under section 6042 for a definition of dividends.

Exceptions

You are not required to report on Form 1099-DIV the following.

1. Taxable dividend distributions from life insurance contracts and employee stock ownership plans. These are reported on Form 1099-R.

2. Substitute payments in lieu of dividends. For payments received by a broker on behalf of a customer in lieu of dividends as a result of a loan of a customer's securities, see the instructions for box 8 under Specific Instructions for Form 1099-MISC in the current Instructions for Forms 1099-MISC and 1099-NEC.

Substitute payments in lieu of dividends may be reported on a composite statement to the recipient with Form 1099-DIV. See Pub. 1179.

3. Payments made to certain payees. These include a corporation, tax-exempt organization, IRA, Archer MSA, health savings account (HSA), U.S. agency, state, District of Columbia, U.S. possession, or registered securities or commodities dealer.

Certain distributions commonly referred to as "dividends" are actually interest and are to be reported on Form 1099-INT. These include so-called dividends on deposit or on share accounts in cooperative banks, credit unions, domestic building and loan associations, domestic and federal savings and loan associations, and mutual savings banks.

Qualified Dividends

Except as provided below, qualified dividends are dividends paid during the tax year from domestic corporations and qualified foreign corporations.

Exceptions. The following dividends are not qualified dividends.

- Dividends the recipient received on any share of stock held for less than 61 days during the 121-day period that began 60 days before the ex-dividend date. See the instructions for box 1b, later. When determining the number of days the recipient held the stock, you cannot count certain days during which the recipient's risk of loss was diminished. The ex-dividend date is the first date following the declaration of a dividend on which the purchaser of a stock is not entitled to receive the next dividend payment. When counting the number of days the recipient held the stock, include the day the recipient disposed of the stock but not the day the recipient acquired it.

- Dividends attributable to periods totaling more than 366 days that the recipient received on any share of preferred stock held for less than 91 days during the 181-day period that began 90 days before the ex-dividend date. See the instructions for box 1b, later. When determining the number of days the recipient held the stock, you cannot count certain days during which the recipient's risk of loss was diminished. Preferred dividends attributable to periods totaling less than 367 days are subject to the 61-day holding period rule above.

- Dividends that relate to payments that the recipient is obligated to make with respect to short sales or positions in substantially similar or related property.
- Dividends paid by a regulated investment company (RIC) that are not treated as qualified dividend income under section 854.
- Dividends paid by a real estate investment trust (REIT) that are not treated as qualified dividend income under section 857(c).

- Deductible dividends paid on employer securities. See Section 404\(k\) Dividends, later.

Qualified foreign corporation. A foreign corporation is a qualified foreign corporation if it is:

1. Incorporated in a possession of the United States, or
2. Eligible for benefits of a comprehensive income tax treaty with the United States that the Treasury Department determines is satisfactory for this purpose and that includes an exchange of information program.

For a list of income tax treaties of the United States that (a) are comprehensive, (b) include an information exchange program, and (c) have been determined by the Treasury Department to be satisfactory for this purpose, see Notice 2011-64, 2011-37

I.R.B. 231, available at IRS.gov/irb/2011-37 IRB#NOT-2011-64.

If the foreign corporation does not meet either (1) or (2) above, then it may be treated as a qualified foreign corporation for any dividend paid by the corporation if the stock associated with the dividend paid is readily tradable on an established securities market in the United States. See Notice 2003-71, 2003-43 I.R.B. 922, available at IRS.gov/irb/2003-43 IRB#NOT-2003-71, for more information on when stock may be considered to be readily tradable. For additional requirements that must be met, see Notice 2006-3, 2006-3 I.R.B. 306, available at IRS.gov/irb/2006-03 IRB#NOT-2006-3.

A foreign corporation will not be considered a qualified foreign corporation if:

1. The foreign corporation is a passive foreign investment company (as defined in section 1297) for the tax year in which the dividend was paid or the prior year; or

2. The foreign corporation first became a surrogate foreign corporation (as defined in section 7874(a)(2)(B)) after December 22, 2017, but is not treated as a domestic corporation under section 7874(b).

For guidance on the extent to which distributions, inclusions, and other amounts received by, or included in the income of, individual shareholders as ordinary income from foreign corporations subject to certain anti-deferral regimes may be treated as qualified dividends, see Notice 2004-70, 2004-44 I.R.B. 724, available at IRS.gov/irb/2004-44_IRB#NOT-2004-70.

Section 404(k) Dividends

Report as ordinary dividends in box 1a of Form 1099-DIV payments of 404(k) dividends directly from the corporation to the plan participants or their beneficiaries.

Section 404(k) dividends are not subject to backup withholding. Also, these dividends are not eligible for the reduced capital gains rates (see Exceptions under Qualified Dividends, earlier).

RICs and REITs

Qualified dividends. If any part of the total ordinary dividends reported in box 1a is qualified dividends, report the qualified dividends in box 1b.

For guidance pertaining to dividends of RICs and REITs, see Notice 2004-39, 2004-22 I.R.B. 982 (capital gain dividends of RICs and REITs), available at IRS.gov/irb/2004-22_IRB#NOT-2004-39, modified by Notice 2015-41, 2015-24 I.R.B. 1058 (capital gain distributions of RICs), available at IRS.gov/irb/ 2015-24 IRB#NOT-2015-41; and Rev. Rul. 2005-31, 2005-21 I.R.B. 1084 (limitations applicable to dividends received from RICs), available at IRS.gov/irb/ 2005-21 IRB#RR-2005-31.

Qualified REIT dividends. Certain taxpayers are entitled to a deduction under section 199A computed by reference to several types of income, including qualified REIT dividends. A qualified REIT dividend is generally a dividend from a REIT received during the tax year that is not a capital gain dividend or a qualified dividend. However, a qualified REIT dividend does not include any REIT dividend received with respect to any share of REIT stock that is held for 45 days or less during the 91-day period beginning on the date that is 45 days before the date on which such share became ex-dividend with respect to the dividend. When counting the number of days the recipient held the stock, include the day the recipient disposed of the stock, but do not include the day the recipient acquired the stock or certain days during which the recipient's risk of loss was diminished. In addition, a qualified REIT dividend does not include any dividend on shares of REIT stock to the extent the recipient is under an obligation (whether pursuant to a short sale or otherwise) to make related payments with respect to positions in substantially similar or related property.

Section 199A dividends. A RIC that receives qualified REIT dividends in a tax year may generally pay section 199A dividends for that year, which certain shareholders of the RIC that meet holding period requirements may treat as qualified REIT dividends for purposes of section 199A. The amount of section 199A dividends that a RIC may pay for a tax year is limited to the amount of qualified REIT dividends includible in the RIC's taxable income for the year, reduced by properly allocable deductions. See Regulations section 1.199A-3(d) for other limits and rules, including holding period requirements.

Dividend payment delayed until January.

If a RIC or a REIT declares a dividend in October, November, or December payable to shareholders of record on a specified date in such a month, the dividends are treated as paid by the RIC or REIT and received by the recipients on December 31 of such year as long as the dividends are actually paid by the RIC or REIT during January of the following year. Report the dividends on Form 1099-DIV for the year preceding the January they are actually paid. See sections 852(b)(7) and 857(b)(9) for RICs and REITs, respectively.

If a dividend paid in January is subject to backup withholding, withhold when the dividend is actually paid. Therefore, backup withhold in January, deposit the withholding when appropriate, and reflect it on Form 945, Annual Return of Withheld Federal Income Tax, for the year withheld. However, because the dividend is reportable on Form 1099-DIV for the prior year, the related backup withholding is also reportable on the prior year Form 1099-DIV.

Qualified small business stock—RICs.

Under section 1202, a 50% exclusion may be allowed on the gain from the sale or exchange of qualified small business stock issued after August 10, 1993, and held for more than 5 years. A 60% exclusion may be allowed if the stock is empowerment zone business stock acquired after December 21, 2000, but not on gain attributable to periods after December 31, 2018. For qualified small business stock acquired after February 17, 2009, and before September 28, 2010, the exclusion is 75%. For qualified small business stock acquired after September 27, 2010, and before January 1, 2014, the exclusion is 100%. For purposes of the 75% and 100% exclusions, the acquisition date shall be the first day on which the stock was held by the taxpayer determined after the application of section 1223.

If any part of the capital gain distribution reported in box 2a may qualify for this exclusion (taking into consideration the recipient's holding period), report the gain in box 2c, and furnish the recipient a statement that reports separately for each designated section 1202 gain the:

- Name of the corporation that issued the stock that was sold,
- Date(s) on which the RIC acquired the stock,
- Date sold,
- Recipient's part of the sales price,

- Recipient's part of the RIC's basis in the stock, and
- Amount of the recipient's section 1202 gain and the exclusion percentage.

Tax credit bonds. If a RIC or REIT holds any tax credit bonds, any bond tax credit allowed to the RIC or REIT under section 54A or 54AA on the bond is included in the RIC's or REIT's gross income as interest. See sections 54A(f) and 54AA(f)(2); and Notice 2009-15, 2009-6 I.R.B. 449, available at IRS.gov/irb/2009-06_IRB#NOT-2009-15. RICs can make an election to distribute any bond tax credits allowed under sections 54A and 54AA to its shareholders or beneficiaries. See section 853A. Report bond tax credits distributed by a RIC or REIT on Form 1097-BTC.

If a RIC or REIT distributes any credits with respect to its stock, the RIC or REIT must report the distributed credits that are treated as dividends on Form 1099-DIV. See Notice 2010-28, available at IRS.gov/irb/ 2010-15 IRB#NOT-2010-28.

Section 897 gain. If a RIC described in section 897(h)(4) (A)(ii) or a REIT disposes of a USRPI at a gain, any distributions made to the extent attributable to such gain shall be treated as gain recognized by the recipient from the disposition of a USRPI (that is, the look-through rule).

If any part of the ordinary dividend reported in box 1a or capital gain distributions reported in box 2a is attributable to section 897 gains, report that gain in box 2e and box 2f, respectively.

See section 897 for the definition of USRPI and the exceptions to the look-through rule.

Note. Only RICs and REITs should complete boxes 2e and 2f. Boxes 2e and 2f do not need to be completed for recipients that are U.S. individuals.

Restricted Stock

For information about reporting dividends on restricted stock, see Rev. Proc. 80-11, 1980-1 C.B. 616, distinguished by Rev. Proc. 83-38, 1983-1 C.B. 773; and Rev. Rul. 83-22, 1983-1 C.B. 17.

Widely Held Fixed Investment Trusts (WHFITs)

Trustees and middlemen must report the gross amount of dividend income attributable to a trust income holder (TIH) in the appropriate box on Form 1099-DIV if that amount exceeds $10. If the trustee or middleman provides WHFIT information using the safe harbor rules in Regulations section 1.671-5(f)(1) or (g)(1), the trustee or middleman must determine the amounts reported on all Forms 1099 under section 1.671-5(f)(2) or (g)(2), as appropriate.

Due date exception and other requirements for furnishing the tax information statement to TIHs. A tax information statement that includes the information provided to the IRS on all Forms 1099 filed for the calendar year with respect to the TIH's interest in the WHFIT, as well as additional information identified in Regulations section 1.671-5(e), must be provided to the TIHs. The written tax information furnished to the TIH for the reporting tax year is due on or before March 15th of the subsequent year. The amount of an item of trust expense that is attributable to a TIH must be included on the tax information statement provided to the TIH and is not required to be included in box 6 on the Form 1099-DIV.

For more filing requirements, see the current General Instructions for Certain Information Returns.

Statements to Recipients

If you are required to file Form 1099-DIV, you must provide a statement to the recipient. For information about the requirement to furnish statements to recipients, see part M in the current General Instructions for Certain Information Returns.

Truncating recipient's TIN on payee statements. Pursuant to Regulations section 301.6109-4, all filers of this form may truncate a recipient's TIN (social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN)) on payee statements. Truncation is not allowed on any documents the filer files with the IRS. A payer's TIN may not be truncated on any form. See part J in the current General Instructions for Certain Information Returns.

2nd TIN Not.

You may enter an "X" in this box if you were notified by the IRS twice within 3 calendar years that the payee provided an incorrect TIN. If you mark this box, the IRS will not send you any further notices about this account.

However, if you received both IRS notices in the same year, or if you received them in different years but they both related to information returns filed for the same year, do not check the box at this time. For purposes of the two-notices-in-3-years rule, you are considered to have received one notice and you are not required to send a second "B" notice to the taxpayer on receipt of the second notice. See part N in the current General Instructions for Certain Information Returns for more information.

For information on the TIN Matching System offered by the IRS, see Items You Should Note in the current General Instructions for Certain Information Returns.

The account number is also required if you check box 11, FATCA filing requirement. See Box 11, later.
