This is an early release draft of an IRS tax form, instructions, or publication, which the IRS is providing for your information as a courtesy. Do not file draft forms. Also, do not rely on draft forms, instructions, and publications for filing. We generally do not release drafts of forms until we believe we have incorporated all changes. However, unexpected issues sometimes arise, or legislation is passed, necessitating a change to a draft form. In addition, forms generally are subject to OMB approval before they can be officially released. Drafts of instructions and publications usually have at least some changes before being officially released.

Early release drafts are at IRS.gov/DraftForms, and may remain there even after the final release is posted at IRS.gov/DownloadForms. Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to Form 8991, its schedules, and its instructions, such as legislation enacted or guidance published after the form and instructions were issued, go to IRS.gov/Form8991.

Purpose of Form

Tax on Base Erosion Payments of Taxpayers With Substantial Gross Receipts. Public Law 115-97 was enacted on December 22, 2017. P.L. 115-97 added section 59A, Tax on Base Erosion Payments of Taxpayers With Substantial Gross Receipts, to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986. The new section 59A imposes on each applicable taxpayer a tax equal to the base erosion minimum tax amount for the taxable year. Section 59A applies to base erosion payments paid or accrued in taxable years beginning after December 31, 2017.

Reminder

If you file a Form 8991 that you later determine is incomplete or incorrect, file a corrected Form 8991 with an amended tax return, using the amended return instructions for the return with which you originally filed Form 8991. Write "corrected" at the top of the form and attach a statement identifying the changes.

Reporting requirements and penalties. P.L. 115-97 also expanded the information reporting requirements under section 6038A and increased the amount of the penalty for failure to furnish information or maintain records under section 6038A(d) (1) and (2) from $10,000 to $25,000. See Form 5472 and its instructions for further details.

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form 8991 to determine an applicable taxpayer's tax on its base erosion minimum tax amount for the year.

Use Schedule A to determine the amount of base erosion payments and base erosion tax benefits for purposes of:

- Determining the applicable taxpayer's base erosion percentage, and

- Determining the applicable taxpayer's modified taxable income.

Use Schedule B to determine the credits that reduce regular tax liability in computing the base erosion minimum tax amount.

Definitions

Applicable taxpayer. An applicable taxpayer is, with respect to any tax year, a taxpayer which meets all of the following three criteria.

- The taxpayer is a corporation other than a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or an S corporation.
- The taxpayer has average annual gross receipts for the 3-tax-year period ending with the preceding taxable year that are at least $500 million (the "gross receipts test").
- The taxpayer has a base erosion percentage for the tax year of 3% or higher; 2% or higher for taxpayer who is a member of an affiliated group which includes a bank or a registered securities dealer as defined in section 59A(b)(3)(B) (the "base erosion percentage test").

See section 59A(e) for more information.

Base erosion minimum tax amount.

The base erosion minimum tax amount for the tax year is the excess of 10% (5% in the case of a tax year beginning in 2018) of the modified taxable income of the applicable taxpayer for the tax year over the applicable taxpayer's regular tax liability under section 26(b), reduced (but not below zero) by the excess, if any, of:

1. The credits allowed under Chapter 1 against the applicable taxpayer's regular tax liability over
2. The sum of:
 - a. The credit allowed under section 38 which is properly allocable to the research credit determined under section 41(a), plus
 - b. The portion of the applicable section 38 credits not in excess of 80% of the lesser of the amount of the applicable section 38 credits or the base erosion minimum tax amount determined without taking the applicable section 38 credits into account.

If the applicable taxpayer is a member of an affiliated group under section 1504(a)(1) which includes a bank (as defined in section 581) or a registered securities dealer under section 15(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the tax rate in effect for the taxable year for the base erosion minimum tax amount is increased by an additional 1%.

Base erosion payment. A base erosion payment is any amount paid or accrued by an applicable taxpayer to a foreign person (as defined in section 6038A(c)(3)) that is a related party with respect to which a deduction is allowable under Chapter 1.

Base erosion payments include the following.

- Amounts paid or accrued by an applicable taxpayer to a foreign related person in connection with the acquisition of depreciable or amortizable property.
- Premiums or other consideration paid or accrued by an applicable taxpayer to a foreign related person for reinsurance payments which are taken into account under section 803(a)(1)(B) or section 832(b)(4)(A).

Base erosion payments also include any amount paid or accrued by an applicable taxpayer to a foreign related person that is a surrogate foreign corporation (if such foreign person first became a surrogate foreign corporation after November 9, 2017), or a foreign person which is a member of the same expanded affiliated group as the surrogate foreign corporation (collectively, "expatriated entities"), which result in a reduction to gross receipts. See section 59A(d)(4) for more information.

Base erosion payments do not include the following types of payments.

- Amounts paid or accrued for services if such services are services that meet the requirements for eligibility for use of the services cost method under section 482 (determined without regard to the requirement that the services not contribute significantly to the fundamental risks of business success or failure), and that amount constitutes the total services cost with no markup component.
- Qualified derivative payments. A qualified derivative payment is a payment made by an applicable taxpayer pursuant to a derivative (as defined in section 59A(h)(4)) with respect to which the applicable taxpayer: (a) recognizes gain or loss as if the derivative were sold for its fair market value on the last business day of the tax year and any additional times required by the taxpayer's method of accounting; (b) treats the recognized gain or loss as ordinary; and (c) treats the character of all payments made with respect to the derivative as ordinary. A qualified derivative payment will not be excluded from being characterized as a base erosion payment if the payment is properly allocable to a non-derivative component of a contract or if the payment would be treated as a base erosion payment if it were not made pursuant to a derivative, such as an interest, royalty, or services payment.

Related party. A related party is:

- Any 25% owner of the applicable taxpayer (as defined in section 59A(g)(2)),
- Any person who is related (within the meaning of section 267(b) or 707(b)(1)) to the applicable taxpayer or any 25% owner of the applicable taxpayer, or
- Any other person who is related to the applicable taxpayer within the meaning of section 482 and the related regulations.

Section 318, with certain modifications, shall apply in determining whether a person is a related party. See section 59(g)(3) for additional rules relating to the modification of section 318 for use in determining a person's relatedness.

Base erosion tax benefit. Generally, a base erosion tax benefit is any deduction that is allowed under Chapter 1 for the tax year for any base erosion payment. Base erosion tax benefits also include any deductions allowed for the tax year for depreciation or amortization with respect to the property acquired with payments described in section 59A(d)(2) (that are paid or accrued in tax years beginning after 2017). Base erosion tax benefits also include certain reduction in the gross amount of premiums and other consideration on insurance and annuity contracts, or any deduction from the amount of gross premiums written on insurance contracts during the tax year for premiums paid for reinsurance, and payments to expatriated entities (as defined under Base erosion payment above) that cause a reduction in gross receipts in computing gross income of the taxpayer for the tax year. See section 59A(c)(2)(A) for more information.

See the instructions for Schedule A for special rules applicable in determining the amount of the base erosion tax benefit when taxes have been imposed by section 871 or 881 and withheld under section 1441 or 1442 on a base erosion payment; or when the taxpayer has made an interest payment that gives rise to a base erosion tax benefit and section 163(j) applies for the tax year.

Base erosion percentage. The base erosion percentage is the percentage determined by dividing:

1. The aggregate amount of base erosion tax benefits of the taxpayer for the tax year by

2. The aggregate amount of the taxpayer's denominator for the tax year. The aggregate amount of the applicable taxpayer's denominator includes allowable deductions and also includes the taxpayer's base erosion tax benefits but excludes the following deductions:

- a. Any deduction allowed under sections 172, 245A, or 250 for the tax year;
- b. Any deduction for amounts paid or accrued for services to which the exception under section 59A(d)(5) for the section 482 services cost method applies; and
- c. Any deduction for qualified derivative payments which are not treated as base erosion payments by reason of section 59A(h).

Modified taxable income. Modified taxable income is the taxpayer's taxable income determined without regard to any base erosion tax benefit with respect to any base erosion payment or the base erosion percentage of any net operating loss deduction allowed under section 172 for the tax year.

Applicable section 38 credits.

Applicable section 38 credits are the credits allowed under section 38 for the tax year that are properly allocable to:

- The low-income housing credit determined under section 42(a);
- The renewable electricity production credit determined under section 45(a); and
- The investment credit determined under section 46, but only to the extent properly allocable to the energy credit determined under section 48.

See also Instructions for Schedule B, below.

Aggregation rules. For purposes of the gross receipts test and base erosion percentage test, all persons treated as a single employer under section 52(a) (a controlled group of corporations) are treated as 1 person (except that when applying section 1563 the exception for foreign corporations is disregarded). Additionally, the term "controlled group of corporations" has the meaning given by section 1563(a) except that:

1. "More than 50%" is substituted for "at least 80%" each place it appears in section 1563(a), and
2. The determination of the controlled group of corporations is made without regard to sections 1563(a)(4) and (e)(3)(C).

For purposes of completing line 6, column b-2, any reduction in the amount of interest for which a deduction is allowed for the tax year under section 163(j) is treated as allocable first to interest paid or accrued to persons who are not related parties with respect to the applicable taxpayer and then to such related parties.

Do not include any deductions allowed under Chapter 1 for the tax year if the deductible amount is a qualified derivative payment.

Line 9b. Enter the amount paid to a foreign person that is a related party that is a qualified derivative payment excepted by section 59A(h). Determine the amount of the qualified derivative payments after applying the aggregation rules. Generally, a qualified derivative payment is any payment made by the taxpayer pursuant to a derivative contract provided that the taxpayer recognizes gain or loss on the derivative contract as if it were sold for its fair market value on the last business day of the tax year; treats the gain or loss as ordinary; and treats the character of all other items of income, deduction, gain, or loss with respect to a payment pursuant to the derivative as ordinary. A payment is not a qualified derivative payment if the payment would be treated as a base erosion payment if it were not made pursuant to a derivative (such as interest, royalty, or services income). With respect to a contract with both derivative and non-derivative components, a payment is not a qualified derivative payment if it is properly allocable to the non-derivative component.

Until guidance is published that describes the information required to be included on the separate sheet identifying the reporting corporation's qualified derivative payments, no separate sheet will be required to be attached to the Form 8991. Until guidance is published, a reporting corporation will be treated as meeting the reporting requirement of section 59A(h)(2)(B) by entering the amount on line 9b.

Line 10, columns a-1 and b-1. Enter the amount paid or accrued to certain expatriated entities that result in a reduction of the gross receipts of the taxpayer. This amount includes payments to a surrogate foreign corporation that is a related party, but only if the entity first became a surrogate foreign corporation after November 9, 2017. The amount also includes payments to a foreign person that is a member of the same expanded affiliated group, as defined in section 7874(c)(1), as the surrogate foreign corporation. Only include those amounts that have not otherwise been included in Schedule A on lines 3 through 10.

Line 11, columns a-2 and b-2. Enter the amount of deductions allowed under Chapter 1 for the tax year for other base erosion payments paid or accrued to a foreign person which is a related party.

For amounts reported on line 11, attach a statement describing the type and amount of other payments, using the same column headings as specified in Schedule A: "Aggregate Base Erosion Payments," "Aggregate Base Erosion Tax Benefits," "Base Erosion Payments," and "Base Erosion Tax Benefits." For each type of payment, the attachment must identify the relationship of the recipients consistent with the categories and instructions for columns c, d, and e of Schedule A.

Line 12. For columns a-1, a-2, b-1, and b-2, add lines 3 through line 11 and enter the total amount.

Line 13. Enter the aggregate amount of base erosion tax benefits from columns a-2 and b-2 of lines 3 through 11 on which tax is imposed under section 871 or section 881, and with respect to which tax has been deducted and withheld under section 1441 or section 1442 at a 30% rate.

Line 14. Subtract line 13, column a-2 from line 12, column a-2, and enter the difference on line 14, column a-2. Line 14, column a-2, is the total amount of aggregate base erosion tax benefits for the tax year that is used for purposes of determining the taxpayer's base erosion percentage.

Instructions for Worksheet for Schedule A, Column b-2, Line 15

General

Use a separate row for each type of base erosion payment and each treaty-reduced withholding tax rate to which the corresponding base erosion tax benefit is subject.

Do not include a base erosion tax benefit that is subject to the 30% statutory withholding tax rate or a base erosion tax benefit that is exempt from tax pursuant to relevant income tax treaty provisions.

Do not combine the base erosion tax benefits that are subject to different withholding rates. Do not enter any blended withholding tax rates.

Column A. Enter the type of base erosion payment that corresponds to the type of base erosion payment in Schedule A.

Column B. Enter the amount of base erosion tax benefits that correspond to the specific type of base erosion payment on which tax is imposed under section 871 or section 881, and with respect to which tax is deducted and withheld at a reduced withholding rate pursuant to a U.S. income tax treaty.

Column C. Enter the treaty-reduced withholding tax rate to which the base erosion tax benefit is subject.

Column D. Divide the tax rate in column c by 30%. Round to four decimal places.

Column E. Multiple the amount in column b by column d. The product is the portion of base erosion tax benefits with respect to the specific type of base erosion payment and the specific treaty-reduced rate of withholding that is not taken into account in computing modified taxable income. Sum up all the amounts in column e and enter the total on Schedule A, column b-2, line 15.

Schedule B—Credits Reducing Regular Tax Liability in Computing Base Erosion Minimum Tax Amount (BEMTA)

Part I—Credits Allowed Against Regular Tax

Line 1. You must enter the total credits allowed against your regular tax liability in the tax year. Total credits include the sum of Foreign Tax Credit from Form 1118; Qualified Electric Vehicle Credit from Form 8834; General Business Credit from Form 3800; Credit for Prior Year Minimum Tax from Form 8827; and Bond Credits from Form 8912 shown on Form 1120, Schedule J, Part I, line 6; or from the applicable line of your return.

Line 2. Enter the total amount of credit for increasing research activities reported on line 1c, "Increasing research activities (Form 6765)" of all Parts III, Form 3800, with box A, B, C, or D checked. This total equals the available credit for increasing research activities in the tax year.

Line 3. Enter only the portion of the available credit for increasing research activities which was included on Form 3800, Part III, line 38, and used against regular tax liability. You must apply the general rules and the ordering rules for use of general business credits from the Instructions for Form 3800. The Instructions for Form 3800 provide that credits reported on Form 3800 are treated as used on a first-in, first-out basis by offsetting the earliest earned credits first. Therefore, the order in which the credits are used in any tax year is:

- Carryforwards to that year, the earliest ones first;
- The general business credit earned in that year; and
- The carryback to that year.

If your general business credits exceed your tax liability limit, the credits are used in the order as they are listed in section 38(b). Although general business credits are aggregated on Form 3800, you should have a separate record of each credit.

Line 5. Section 59A(b)(1)(B)(ii)(II) limits the allowable adjustment for applicable section 38 credits to 80% of the lesser of applicable section 38 credits or the BEMTA computed without the adjustment for applicable section 38 credits computed in Part III.

Part II—Applicable Section 38 Credits

Line 8. Enter the total amount of credit shown on line 1d, "Low-income housing (Form 8586, Part I only)" and line 4d, "Low-income housing (Form 8586, Part II only)" of all Parts III, Form 3800, with box A, B, C, or D checked. This total equals the available credit for "low-income housing" in the tax year.

Line 9. Enter the total amount of credit shown on lines 1f and 4e, "Renewable electricity, refined coal, and Indian coal production (Form 8835)" of all Parts III, Form 3800, with box A, B, C, or D checked. This total equals the available credit for "Renewable electricity production credit" in the tax year.

Line 10. Enter only the total amount of investment credit allocable to the section 48 energy credit shown on line 4a, "Investment (Form 3468, Part III)" of all Parts III, Form 3800, with box A, B, C, or D checked. The section 48 energy credit portion of the amount in Part III, line 4a, equals the sum of the amounts reported in Form 3468, Part III, Energy credit, on lines 12a, 12b, 12e, 12h, 12k, 12n, 12p, 12q, 12r, 12s, 12t, and 12u. This total equals the available credit for "investment credit" in the tax year.

Line 11. Enter only the portion of the available applicable credits which was included on Form 3800, Part III, line 38, and used against regular tax liability. This represents the amount of applicable credits allowed in the current year. Refer to the ordering rules described in the above Instructions for Schedule B, line 3.

Part III—BEMTA Determined Without Adjustment for Applicable Section 38 Credits

Line 16. You must compute the Base Erosion Minimum Tax Amount without adjustment for applicable section 38 credits to allow computation of the limitation of applicable section 38 credits on lines 4 and 5 of Part I.
