General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form 8839 to figure your adoption credit and any employer-provided adoption benefits you can exclude from your income. You can claim both the exclusion and the credit for expenses of adopting an eligible child. For example, depending on the cost of the adoption, you may be able to exclude up to $14,300 from your income and also be able to claim a credit of up to $14,300. But, you can’t claim both a credit and exclusion for the same expenses. See Qualified Adoption Expenses and Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits, later.

Adoption credit. Use Form 8839, Part II, to figure the adoption credit you can take on Schedule 3 (Form 1040), line 6. Check box c on that line and enter “8839” in the space next to box c. You may be able to take this credit in 2020 if any of the following statements are true.

1. You paid qualified adoption expenses in connection with the adoption of an eligible U.S. child (including any expenses paid in connection with adopting an eligible U.S. child with special needs) in:
   a. 2019 and the adoption wasn’t final at the end of 2019, or
   b. 2020 and the adoption became final in or before 2020.
2. You adopted an eligible U.S. child with special needs and the adoption became final in 2020. (In this case, you may be able to take the credit even if you didn’t pay any qualified adoption expenses.)
3. You paid qualified adoption expenses in connection with the adoption of an eligible foreign child in:
   a. 2020 or prior years and the adoption became final in 2020, or
   b. 2020 and the adoption became final before 2020. See Column (e), later.
4. You have a carryforward of an adoption credit from 2019.

Income exclusion for employer-provided adoption benefits. Use Form 8839, Part III, to figure the employer-provided adoption benefits you can exclude from your income on Form 1040 or 1040-SR, line 1, or Form 1040-NR, line 1a. You may be able to exclude these benefits from income if your employer had a written qualified adoption assistance program (see Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits, later) and any of the following statements are true.

1. You received employer-provided adoption benefits in 2020. However, special rules apply for benefits received in connection with the adoption of an eligible foreign child. See Column (e), later.
2. You adopted an eligible U.S. child with special needs and the adoption became final in 2020.
3. You received employer-provided adoption benefits in connection with the adoption of an eligible foreign child in:
   a. 2020 or prior years and the adoption became final in 2020, or
   b. 2020 and the adoption became final before 2020. See Column (e), later.

For purposes of calculating the adoption credit in Part II, qualified adoption expenses don’t include expenses reimbursed by an employer under a written qualified adoption assistance program (see Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits). For this reason, you must complete Form 8839, Part III, before you can figure the credit, if any, in Part II. But see Child with special needs.

You can’t exclude employer-provided adoption benefits if your employer is an S corporation in which you own more than 2% of the stock or stock with more than 2% of the voting power.

Income limit. The income limit on the adoption credit or exclusion is based on modified adjusted gross income (MAGI). For 2020, use the following table to see if the income limit will affect your credit or exclusion.

Definitions

Eligible Child

An eligible child is:

- Any child under age 18. If the child turned 18 during the year, the child is an eligible child for the part of the year he or she was under age 18.
- Any disabled individual physically or mentally unable to take care of himself or herself.

If you and another person (other than your spouse if filing jointly) adopted or tried to adopt an eligible U.S. child, see Line 2 (or Line 17, if applicable), before completing Part II (or Part III).
Qualified Adoption Expenses

Qualified adoption expenses are reasonable and necessary expenses directly related to, and for the principal purpose of, the legal adoption of an eligible child.

Qualified adoption expenses include:

- Adoption fees,
- Attorney fees,
- Court costs,
- Travel expenses (including meals and lodging) while away from home, and
- Re-adoption expenses relating to the adoption of a foreign child.

Qualified adoption expenses don't include expenses:

- For which you received funds under any state, local, or federal program;
- That violate state or federal law;
- For carrying out a surrogate parenting arrangement;
- For the adoption of your spouse's child;
- Reimbursed by your employer or otherwise; or
- Allowed as a credit or deduction under any other provision of federal income tax law.

Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits

In most cases, employer-provided adoption benefits are amounts your employer paid directly to either you or a third party for qualified adoption expenses under a qualified adoption assistance program. But see Child with special needs.

A qualified adoption assistance program is a separate written plan set up by an employer to provide adoption assistance to its employees. For more details, see Pub. 15-B.

Employer-provided adoption benefits should be shown in box 12 of your Form(s) W-2 with code T. Your salary may have been reduced to pay these benefits. You may also be able to exclude amounts not shown in box 12 of your Form W-2 if all of the following apply.

- You adopted a child with special needs. See Column (d) for the definition of a child with special needs.
- The adoption became final in 2020.
- Your employer had a written qualified adoption assistance program as described earlier.

The following examples help illustrate how qualified adoption expenses and employer-provided adoption benefits apply to the maximum adoption credit allowed.

Example 1. Madelyn paid $10,000 in qualified adoption expenses for the adoption of an eligible child. Under a qualified adoption assistance program, Madelyn's employer reimbursed her for $4,000 of those expenses. Madelyn may exclude the $4,000 reimbursement from her income. However, because of the employer reimbursement, $4,000 of her expenses no longer meet the definition of qualified adoption expenses. As a result, Madelyn's maximum adoption credit is limited to $6,000 ($10,000 - $4,000).

Example 2. Haylee paid $20,000 in qualified adoption expenses for the adoption of an eligible child, including $8,000 of legal fees. Under a qualified adoption assistance program, Haylee's employer reimbursed the $8,000 of legal fees. Haylee may exclude the $8,000 employer reimbursement from her income. However, because of the employer reimbursement, $8,000 of Haylee's expenses no longer meet the definition of qualified adoption expenses. As a result, Haylee's maximum adoption credit is limited to $12,000 ($20,000 - $8,000).

Example 3. The facts are the same as in Example 2 except that instead of reimbursing Haylee for her legal fees, the employer directly paid the $8,000 to the law firm. The employer's payment of the legal fees produces the same result as the employer's reimbursement of the legal fees in Example 2 ($8,000 exclusion and $12,000 credit).

Example 4. Paul paid $30,000 in qualified adoption expenses to adopt an eligible foreign child, and the adoption became final in 2020. Under a qualified adoption assistance program, Paul's employer reimbursed him for $14,300 of those expenses. Paul may exclude the $14,300 reimbursement from his income. The remaining $15,700 of expenses ($30,000 - $14,300) continue to be qualified adoption expenses that are eligible for the credit. However, Paul's credit is dollar-limited to $14,300. The remaining $1,400 ($30,000 - $14,300 - $14,300) may never be claimed as a credit or excluded from gross income.

Who Can Take the Adoption Credit or Exclude Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits?

You may be able to take the credit or exclusion if all three of the following statements are true.

1. Your filing status is single, head of household, qualifying widow(er), or married filing jointly. Generally, if you are married, you must file a joint return to take the credit or exclusion. However, if you are married and aren't filing jointly, you may be able to take the credit or exclusion on your own return if you are considered unmarried because you are legally separated or living apart from your spouse and you meet certain other requirements. See Married Persons Not Filing Jointly.

2. Your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) is less than $254,520 or you have a carryforward of an adoption credit from 2019. To figure your MAGI, see Line 7 (for the credit) or Line 23 (for the exclusion).

3. You report the required information about the eligible child in Part I.

Married Persons Not Filing Jointly

You may be able to take the credit or exclusion if all of the following apply.

- Statements (2) and (3) under Who Can Take the Adoption Credit or Exclude Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits are true.
- You lived apart from your spouse during the last 6 months of 2020.
- The eligible child lived in your home more than half of 2020.
- You provided over half the cost of keeping up your home.

Additionally, a person who is filing separately may claim an adoption credit carryforward from a prior year or years, provided that, if the person was married in the year in which the qualified adoption expenses first became allowable for the credit, the person filed a joint return for that year.

When To Take the Credit or Exclusion

When you can take the adoption credit or exclusion depends on whether the eligible child is a citizen or resident of the United States (including U.S. possessions) at the time the adoption effort began (domestic adoption).

Child who is a U.S. citizen or resident (U.S. child). If the eligible child is a U.S. citizen or resident, you can take the adoption credit or exclusion even if the adoption never became final. Take the credit or exclusion as shown in the following table.
Child with special needs. If you adopt a U.S. child with special needs, you may be able to exclude up to $14,300 and claim a credit for additional expenses up to $14,300 (minus any qualified adoption expenses claimed for the same child in a prior year). The exclusion may be available, even if you or your employer didn't pay any qualified adoption expenses, provided the employer has a written qualified adoption assistance program. See Column (d) for more information.

Foreign child. If the eligible child is a foreign child, you can't take the adoption credit or exclusion unless the adoption becomes final. A child is a foreign child if he or she wasn't a citizen or resident of the United States (including U.S. possessions) at the time the adoption effort began. Take the credit or exclusion as shown in the following table.

*In the case of a U.S. child, an adoption credit may be allowable for an attempted or unsuccessful adoption, as well as for an adoption that isn't final. See the instructions for Line 1 and Line 5 for additional information.

For more information, see Column (e). To find out when a foreign adoption is treated as final, see Rev. Proc. 2005-31, 2005-26 I.R.B. 1374, available at IRS.gov/irb/2005-26_IRB/.

Specific Instructions

Part I—Information About Your Eligible Child or Children

Line 1

Complete all columns that apply to the eligible child you adopted or tried to adopt.

If you can't give complete information about an eligible child you tried to adopt in 2019 because the adoption was either unsuccessful or wasn't final by the end of 2020, complete the entries that you can on line 1. Leave blank any entries you are unable to complete. For example, if you don't have a social security number (SSN) or an adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN) for your eligible child, leave column (f) blank.

Example 1. You planned to adopt one U.S. child. You paid $10,000 of qualified adoption expenses in an unsuccessful attempt to adopt a child. You later paid $8,000 of additional qualified adoption expenses in a successful adoption of a different child. Complete only the “Child 1” line because you made more than one attempt to adopt one eligible child.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 1 except that both attempts are unsuccessful and no adoption is ever finalized. Enter $18,000 ($10,000 + $8,000) on the “Child 1” line because you made more than one attempt to adopt one eligible child.

Example 3. You planned to adopt one U.S. child. You paid $9,000 in qualified adoption expenses in an unsuccessful attempt to adopt a child. You later successfully adopted twins after paying an additional $24,000 in qualified adoption expenses ($12,000 per child). Enter $21,000 ($9,000 + $12,000) on the “Child 1” line because you made more than one attempt to adopt one eligible child. Enter $12,000 on the “Child 2” line because you made a successful attempt to adopt a second eligible child.
More Than Three Eligible Children
If you adopted or tried to adopt more than three eligible children, fill in and attach as many Forms 8839 as you need to list them. Also, enter “See Attached” to the right of the Caution below line 1.

For Part II, fill in lines 2 through 6 and 10 and 11 for each child. But fill in lines 7 through 9 and 12 through 16 on only one Form 8839. The amount on line 12 of that Form 8839 should be the combined total of the amounts on line 11 of all your Forms 8839.

For Part III, fill in lines 17 through 20, 22, 26, and 27 for each child. But fill in lines 21, 23 through 25, 28, and 29 on only one Form 8839. The amount on line 21 of that Form 8839 should be the combined total of the amounts on line 20 of all your Forms 8839. The amount on line 28 of that Form 8839 should be the combined total of the amounts on line 27 of all your Forms 8839.

Column (c)
A disabled individual, one who is physically or mentally unable to care for himself or herself, is an eligible child regardless of his or her age at the time of adoption.

Column (d)
A child is a child with special needs if all three of the following statements are true.

1. The child was a citizen or resident of the United States or its possessions at the time the adoption effort began (U.S. child).
2. A state (including the District of Columbia) has determined that the child can't or shouldn't be returned to his or her parents' home.
3. The state has determined that the child won't be adopted unless assistance is provided to the adoptive parents. Factors used by states to make this determination include:
   a. The child's ethnic background and age,
   b. Whether the child is a member of a minority or sibling group, and
   c. Whether the child has a medical condition or a physical, mental, or emotional handicap.

   The state must make a determination that a child has special needs before the child is considered to be a child with special needs. A child having a specific factor or condition isn't enough to establish that the state has made a determination of special needs.

   You may be able to claim an exclusion or credit for the adoption of a U.S. child with special needs even if you didn't pay any qualified adoption expenses. See Line 22 and the instructions for Line 5.

   For more information, see Tax Topic 607 available at IRS.gov/taxtopics/tc607.html.

   Example 1. Agency A is the child welfare department of State V. Mark, Rachel, and Janet, brother and sisters, are U.S. children residing in State V. When Mark was 10, Rachel 8, and Janet 6, Agency A removed the children from the home of their biological parents.

   After Agency A placed the children in foster care, Agency A determined it would be difficult to place the children for adoption without providing assistance to the adoptive family because of the ages and sibling relationship of the children. Agency A provided the adoptive parents with monthly subsidy payments on behalf of each child. The adoption assistance agreements entered into between Agency A and the adoptive parents are evidence that State V has determined that Mark, Rachel, and Janet are children with special needs and may be used to support the adoptive parents' claim to the adoption tax credit.

   Mark, Rachel, and Janet are U.S. children who State V has removed from their biological parents. State V also has determined that each child has special needs. Their adoptive parents may claim an adoption tax credit for each child, even if the adoptive parents paid no qualifying adoption expenses, if all other requirements of the credit are met.

   Example 2. Michael and Grace are born in State W and are members of a sibling group. Their biological mother places the siblings through a private adoption agency and voluntarily surrenders her parental rights. Membership in a sibling group is a factor that State W may use in determining that a child has special needs. State W also requires that adoptive parents requesting a state determination of special needs follow certain steps and make the request before the adoption is final. Michael and Grace’s adoptive parents don't make a request or follow the required steps.

   Michael and Grace aren't children with special needs because State W didn't remove them from their biological mother and didn't make a determination of special needs. Although membership in a sibling group is a factor that State W may use in making a determination, State W didn't make a determination that either Michael or Grace wouldn't be adopted unless adoption assistance was provided to the adoptive parents. However, Michael and Grace’s adoptive parents may claim adoption tax credits for the qualified adoption expenses they paid in connection with Michael and Grace’s adoption, if all other requirements of the credit are met.

   Example 3. Hannah is born in State X. Her biological parents place Hannah for adoption through a private adoption agency and voluntarily relinquish their parental rights. Hannah then is adopted. A medical exam performed shortly after Hannah’s birth shows that Hannah has serious physical disabilities. Hannah isn’t a child with special needs because State X didn’t remove her from her biological parents and didn’t make a determination of special needs. However, Hannah’s adoptive parents may claim the adoption tax credit for the qualified adoption expenses they paid in connection with Hannah’s adoption, if all other requirements of the credit are met.

   Example 4. Noah is born in Country Z and is diagnosed with serious physical and mental disabilities. Noah's adoptive parents, who are residents of State Y, adopt Noah in Country Z, bring him to the United States, and re-adopt him in State Y. Noah isn’t a child with special needs because he wasn’t a citizen or resident of the United States when the adoption process began. Additionally, State Y didn’t remove him from the home of his biological parents and didn’t make a determination of special needs. However, Noah’s adoptive parents may claim the adoption tax credit for the qualified adoption expenses they paid in connection with Noah's adoption, if all other requirements of the credit are met.

   If you check the box in column (d) indicating the child has special needs, be sure to keep evidence of the state’s determination in your records.

Column (e)
A child is a foreign child if he or she wasn’t a citizen or resident of the United States when the adoption was final. A child is a foreign child if he or she wasn’t a citizen or resident of the United States or its possessions at the time the adoption effort began.

Special rules. If you paid qualified adoption expenses in 2020 or any prior year in connection with the adoption of a foreign

If you filed Form 8839 for a prior year in connection with this adoption, enter your 2020 information on the same line (Child 1, Child 2, or Child 3) that you used in the prior year.
Exclusion of Prior Year Benefits Worksheet

1. Enter the total employer-provided adoption benefits you received in 2020 and all prior years for the adoption of the foreign child.

2. Enter $14,300. If you and another person (other than your spouse if filing jointly) each received employer-provided adoption benefits in 2020 or any prior year to adopt the same child, see the instructions for line 2 at the end of this worksheet.

Next:
- Enter -0- on Form 8839, line 18.
- Enter the amount from line 3 of this worksheet on Form 8839, line 19.
- On Form 8839, line 20, enter the total amount of employer-provided adoption benefits received in 2020 and all prior years. On the dotted line next to line 20, enter “PYAB” and the total amount of benefits you received before 2020.
- Complete Form 8839 through line 28. Then, complete lines 4 through 9 of this worksheet to figure the amount of any prior year benefits you can exclude and the taxable benefits, if any, to enter on Form 8839, line 29.

4. Is the amount on your 2020 Form 8839, line 28, less than the amount on Form 8839, line 21?

7. Enter the amount from Form 8839, line 28.

8. Enter the total 2020 employer-provided adoption benefits included on Form 8839, line 20, for all children.

9. Prior year excluded benefits. Subtract line 8 of this worksheet from line 7. If zero or less, stop; you can’t exclude any of your prior year benefits.

Next. Figure the total you would enter on line 1 of Form 1040 or 1040-SR or line 1a of Form 1040-NR before you exclude the amount from line 9 of this worksheet. Then, subtract the amount from line 9 of this worksheet from that total. Enter the result on line 1 of Form 1040 or 1040-SR or line 1a of Form 1040-NR. On the dotted line next to the line for wages, enter “PYAB” and the amount from line 9 of this worksheet.

Example. Brian and Susan paid qualified adoption expenses of $7,000 in 2017, $8,000 in 2018, and $9,000 in 2019 in connection with the adoption of an eligible foreign child from Country X. Country X is a non-Hague country (a country not party to the Hague Adoption Convention). In 2019, Country X issued a final decree of adoption to Brian and Susan, who brought the child to the United States on an IR2, IR3, or IR4 visa. In 2020, Brian and Susan paid $1,000 in qualified adoption expenses in connection with re-adopting the child in their home state. Brian and Susan’s modified gross income (MAGI) is less than the MAGI limitation in all years.

Under Rev. Proc. 2005-31, Brian and Susan may treat 2019 (the year of the adoption in Country X) or 2020 (the year of re-adoption in the United States) as the year of finality. If Brian and Susan choose 2019, then the $24,000 of aggregate qualified adoption expenses paid in 2017, 2018, and 2019 ($7,000 plus $8,000 plus $9,000) will be treated as paid in 2019. The credit will be limited to $14,080 (the dollar limitation for 2019).

Brian and Susan instead may choose to treat 2020 (the year of re-adoption in the United States) as the year of finality. If Brian and Susan choose 2020, then the $25,000 of aggregate qualified adoption expenses paid ($24,000 total from 2017, 2018, and 2019, plus the $1,000 of re-adoption expenses paid in 2020) will be treated as paid in 2020. The credit will be limited to $14,300 (the dollar limitation for 2020).

Hague adoptions. In Hague adoptions, there is usually an adoption proceeding in the sending country (and the country is... one that is a party to the Hague Adoption Convention, discussed later) before the child is allowed to come to the United States. Rev. Proc. 2010-31 generally allows taxpayers to choose as the year of finality: (1) the year in which the sending country enters a final decree of adoption, or (2) the year in which the U.S. Secretary of State issues a certificate under section 301(a) of the Intercountry Adoption Act of 2000, 42 U.S.C. sections 14901–14954.

Custodial agreements followed by adoption in the United States. In a few cases, the sending country may allow the child to come to the United States under a custodial agreement. If so, the child will be adopted later in a state court in the United States. Both Rev. Proc. 2005-31 and Rev. Proc. 2010-31 allow the adoptive parent(s) to treat the year of the state-court adoption as the year of finality.

The Hague Convention on Protection of Children and Co-operation in Respect of Intercountry Adoption (Hague Adoption Convention) entered into force for the United States on April 1, 2008. The Hague Adoption Convention applies if you adopted a child from a country that is party to the Hague Adoption Convention and you filed your application and petition (Forms I-800A and I-800) with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service after March 31, 2008. See www.travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/Intercountry-Adoption.html for more information on the Hague Adoption Convention, the application and petition, and a complete list of countries that are parties to the Convention.

If you received employer-provided adoption benefits in 2020 in connection with the adoption of a foreign child and the adoption didn’t become final by the end of 2020, you must include the benefits in the total entered on Form 1040 or 1040-SR, line 1, or Form 1040-NR, line 1a. Also, enter “AB” on the dotted line next to Form 1040 or 1040-SR, line 1, or Form 1040-NR, line 1a.

Exclusion of prior year benefits. If you received employer-provided adoption benefits before 2020 in connection with the adoption of a foreign child and the adoption became final in 2020, you may be able to exclude part or all of those benefits from your 2020 income. To find out if you can, complete the Exclusion of Prior Year Benefits Worksheet. You must also use that worksheet to complete Form 8839, Part III, and to figure any taxable benefits to enter on Form 8839, line 29.

If the adoption of more than one eligible foreign child became final in 2020, complete lines 1 through 3 of the Exclusion of Prior Year Benefits Worksheet separately for each foreign child and use the combined totals to complete lines 4 through 9 of the worksheet.

If you check the box in column (e), you must also check the box in column (g), indicating the adoption was finalized in 2020 or earlier.

Column (f)
Enter the child’s identifying number. This can be a social security number (SSN), an adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or an individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN).

Enter the child’s SSN if the child has an SSN or you will be able to get an SSN in time to file your tax return. Apply for an SSN using Form SS-5.

If you are in the process of adopting a child who is a U.S. citizen or resident alien but you can’t get an SSN for the child in time to file your return, apply for an ATIN using Form W-7A. However, if the child isn’t a U.S. citizen or resident alien, apply instead for an ITIN using Form W-7.

Column (g)Check the box in column (g) if the adoption for each child became final in 2020 or earlier.

Part II—Adoption Credit

Line 2The maximum adoption credit is $14,300 per child. Enter $14,300 on line 2. If you and another person (other than your spouse if filing jointly) each paid qualified adoption expenses to adopt the same child, the $14,300 limit must be divided between the two of you. You can divide it in any way you both agree.
Enter your share of the $14,300 limit on line 2 for that child.

Line 3If you filed Form 8839 for a prior year for the same child, enter on line 3 the total of the amounts shown on lines 3 and 6 (or corresponding line) of the last form you filed for the child.

Line 5Special rules apply if you paid expenses in connection with the adoption of an eligible foreign child. See Column (e) for details.
Enter on line 5 the total qualified adoption expenses (as defined earlier) you paid in:

- 2019 if the adoption wasn’t final by the end of 2020,
- 2019 and 2020 if the adoption became final in 2020, or
- 2020 if the adoption became final before 2020.

Expenses reimbursed by your employer under a written qualified adoption assistance program aren’t qualified adoption expenses and must not be entered on line 5. See the examples following Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits.

Special needs adoption. If you adopted a U.S. child with special needs and the adoption became final in 2020, enter on line 5:

- $14,300, minus
- Any qualified adoption expenses you used to figure any adoption credit you claimed for the same child in a prior year.

This is the amount you entered on line 3 of Form 8839 for this child.

If you didn’t claim any adoption credit for the child in a prior year, enter $14,300 on line 5 even if your qualified adoption expenses for the child were less than $14,300 (and even if you didn’t have any qualified adoption expenses for this child).

Unsuccessful adoption. If you paid qualified adoption expenses in an attempt to adopt a U.S. child and the attempt was unsuccessful, treat those expenses in the same manner as expenses you paid for adoptions not final by the end of the year.

Example. You paid $3,000 of qualified adoption expenses in 2019 in an attempt to adopt a U.S. child. You paid $2,000 in qualified adoption expenses early in 2020. However, the adoption attempt was unsuccessful. Enter $3,000 on line 5. The $2,000 paid in 2020 may qualify in 2021.

Line 7Enter on line 7 the amount from Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 11, increased by the total of any:

- Exclusion of income from Puerto Rico;
- Amounts from Form 2555, lines 45 and 50; and
- Amount from Form 4563, line 15.

Line 16—Credit Carryforward to 2021

If Form 8839, line 15, is smaller than line 14, you may have an unused credit to carry forward to the next 5 years or until used, whichever comes first. Use the Adoption Credit Carryforward Worksheet to figure the amount of your credit carryforward. If you have any unused credit to carry forward to 2021, be sure you keep the worksheet. You will need it to figure your credit for 2021.

Part III—Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits

Line 17

The maximum amount that can be excluded from income for employer-provided adoption benefits is $14,300 per child. Enter $14,300 on line 17. If you and another person (other than your spouse, if filing jointly) each received employer-provided adoption benefits in connection with the adoption of the same eligible child, the $14,300 limit must be divided between the two of you. You can divide it in any way you both agree. Enter your share of the $14,300 limit on line 17 for that child.

If you received employer-provided adoption benefits in a prior year for the same child, enter on line 18 the total of the amounts shown on lines 18 and 22 (or corresponding lines) of the last Form 8839 you filed for the child.

Special rules apply if the prior year benefits were received in connection with the adoption of a foreign child and the adoption became final in 2020. See Exclusion of prior year benefits, earlier.

Line 22
If the child was a child with special needs and the adoption became final in 2020, enter the amount from line 19 only if your employer has a qualified adoption assistance program, as defined earlier under Employer-Provided Adoption Benefits. This requirement applies whether or not you received any employer-provided adoption benefits under this plan.

If your employer has no qualified adoption assistance program, you must enter the smaller of line 19 or line 20.

Line 23
Use the Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) Worksheet to figure your modified adjusted gross income.

Your modified adjusted gross income (MAGI) for the adoption credit may not be the same as the MAGI figured in the following worksheet. If you are taking the credit, be sure to read Line 7 before you enter an amount on that line.
