Overpayment you were penalized for the written advice we gave you followed our written advice in the manner we gave IRS complete and accurate information, you wrote to IRS and asked for advice on a Form 843 to the IRS Service Center where you complete Form 843, a copy of the erroneous written advice from IRS, and the three documents you must attach to your Form 843 are:

- The law requires you to pay at least 90% of the tax shown on your return for the current year or 100% of the tax shown on your return for the prior year, whichever is less. Otherwise, you must make estimated tax payments each quarter, that is generally 25% of the total amount you owe in full. After December 31, 1990, the law allows us to charge interest at the underpayment rate plus two percent on large corporate underpayments of more than $100,000.

Removal of Penalties
Reasonable Cause. The law lets us remove or reduce the penalties we explain in this notice if you have an acceptable reason. If you believe you have reasonable cause you may contact us to explain the reason(s), establishing you used ordinary business care and prudence to comply with your Federal tax obligations but were nonetheless unable to do so. We will consider the facts and circumstances presented and will let you know if we accept your reasonable cause. This procedure does not apply to interest. See Penalty Relief, www.irs.gov.

Erroneous Written Advice from IRS
We will also remove your penalty if:

- you wrote to IRS and asked for advice on a specific issue,
- you gave IRS complete and accurate information,
- IRS wrote back to you and gave you a specific course of action to take or explained what actions you did not take,
- you followed our written advice in the manner we outlined, and
- you were penalized for the written advice we gave you.

To have the penalty removed because of erroneous written advice from IRS you should:

- complete Form 843, Claim for Refund and Request for Abatement,
- request that IRS remove the penalty, and
- send Form 843 to the IRS Service Center where you filed your return for the year you relied on erroneous advice from the IRS.

The three documents you must attach to your Form 843 are:

- a copy of your original request for advice from IRS,
- a copy of the erroneous written advice from IRS, and
- a notice (if any) showing the penalty we charged that you now wish us to remove.

Deposit Penalties - IRC 6656
We may charge penalties if you do not make required deposits on time, make deposits for less than the required amount or if you do not use EFTPS when required. We will not charge penalties if you did not willfully neglect to make a proper and timely deposit and you have a reasonable cause. For amounts not properly or timely deposited, the penalty rates are:

- 2% — deposits made 6 to 15 days late,
- 5% — deposits made 16 days or more late, but on or before the 10th day after the date of the first notice we sent you asking for the tax you owe,
- 10% — deposits made to an unauthorized financial institution, or payments made directly to the IRS, or paid with your tax return.

- 10% — Amounts subject to electronic deposit requirements but not deposited using EFTPS.
- 15% — Amounts still unpaid more than 10 days after the date of the first notice the IRS sent asking for the tax due or the day on which you were required to make your deposit for immediate payment, whichever is earlier.

The law allows you to tell the IRS where to apply your deposits within the tax return period with a deposit penalty. You have 90 days from the date of the correspondence you received showing the deposit penalty to contact the IRS if you want to specify where to apply your deposits.

Also, the law allows the IRS to remove the deposit penalty if: (1) the penalty applies to the first required deposit after a required change to your frequency of deposits, and (2) you file your employment tax returns by the due date.

Filing and Paying Late - IRC 6651 — We charged penalties for filing and paying late because, according to our records, you filed your return late and didn’t pay your tax when it was due.

The penalty for filing late is 5% of the total tax assessed that was not paid when due, it is charged each month or part of a month the return is late, for up to 5 months.

The penalty for paying late is initially 1% of the unpaid tax shown on the return. It is charged each month or part of a month following the payment due date until the tax is paid. The penalty increases to 1% of the unpaid tax for any tax that is not paid within 10 days after we issue a notice of intent to levy. However, the total penalty cannot exceed 25%.

Also, we charge interest on fraud and negligence penalties if the tax returns, including extensions, are due after December 31, 1988. For returns due after December 31, 1989, the Accuracy-Related Penalty is charged from the later of the return due date or extended due date.

We continue to charge interest until you pay the amount you owe in full. After December 31, 1990, the law allows us to charge interest at the underpayment rate plus two percent on large corporate underpayments of more than $100,000.

When both penalties are charged for the same month, we reduce the penalty for filing late by the penalty for paying late for that month.

For returns due before 12/31/2015, if you didn’t file your return within 60 days of the due date, the minimum penalty is $15 or 100% of the tax due on your return, whichever is smaller. For returns due between 01/01/2016 and 12/31/2017, the minimum penalty is the lesser of $205 or 100% of the tax due. For returns due between 01/01/2018 and 12/31/2019, the minimum penalty is the lesser of $435 or 100% of the tax due. For returns due after 12/31/2022, the minimum penalty is $450 or 100% of the tax due (the $450 penalty amount is subject to annual inflation adjustments).

If you think we should remove or reduce either of these penalties, see “Removal of Penalties - Reasonable Cause.”

Underpayment or Late Payment of Estimated Tax - IRC 6654 — We charged you a penalty because, according to our records, you didn’t estimate your tax and pay the correct amount of tax due.

Individuals, Estates, and Certain Trusts — If you expect to owe tax of $1,000 or more for the tax year, you must prepay the tax by having tax withheld or by making estimated tax payments. We charge a penalty when the total tax you pay during the year doesn’t meet the requirements of the law.

The law requires you to pay at least 90% of the tax shown on your return for the current year or 100% of the tax shown on your return for the prior year, whichever is less. Otherwise, you must make estimated tax payments each quarter, that is generally 25% of the total amount you expect to owe for the year.

Estimated Tax Safe Harbor for Higher Income Individuals - IRC 6654(d) — For more information on when the estimated tax penalty may be reduced or removed, see the instructions for Form 2210 for your tax year or Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax.

Corporations — We charge a penalty for not estimating your tax correctly when the corporation owes $500 or more in tax, and the total payments made on time are less than the required amount.

Beginning January 1, 1999, the interest rate we pay on any overpayment of taxes, except for corporate taxes, is the same as the rate of interest we charge on the underpayment of taxes. The law requires us to determine these interest rates quarterly. From January 1, 1987 through December 31, 1998, the interest rate we paid on an overpayment of taxes was one percent less than the rate of interest we charged on your underpayment of taxes. Effective January 1, 1995, we pay a reduced rate of interest on corporate overpayments that exceed $10,000. This reduced rate is the short-term federal interest rate, plus ½%. We compounded interest daily, except on late or underpaid estimated taxes for individuals or corporations.

If you have an underpayment resulting from a tax motivated transaction (for returns due before January 1, 1990), we will charge a special interest rate of 120 percent of the underpayment rate.

We charge interest on penalties for filing late, paying late, over or understating valuations, and substantially understating the tax you owe.

Information About Your Notice, Penalty and Interest

About Your Notice
You may call your local IRS telephone number if the number shown on your notice is a long-distance call for you. All days mentioned in the paragraphs below are calendar days, unless specifically stated otherwise.

Penalty and Interest
We charge a penalty for not estimating your tax correctly when the corporation owes $500 or more in tax, and the total payments made on time are less than the required amount.

The interest rates on underpayment and overpayment of taxes are as follows:
For tax years beginning after December 31, 1993, the law requires corporations to pay their estimated tax in 4 quarterly payments (unless income is seasonal or the corporation used an annualized income method to estimate its tax) based on the lesser of 100% of either the tax shown on the current year tax return or the prior year tax return. Each installment must be at least 25% of the tax shown on the return.

The provision for reasonable cause does not apply to corporate estimated tax penalties. For more information on when the estimated tax penalty may be reduced or removed, see Form 2220 and its instructions for your tax year.

Failure to Deposit - IRC 6656(b) — Federal Tax Deposits Insufficient/Late and Incomplete Return
- We charged a penalty because it appears that you didn’t deposit the correct amounts of tax on time. For returns due after January 1, 2012, the base penalty rate is $210.

Penalties – Reasonable Cause.
- We charged a penalty because your bank did not honor your check or other form of payment. For checks or other forms of payment of $1,250 or more, the penalty is 2% of the amount of the check or other form of payment. For checks or other forms of payment of $1,250 or less, the penalty is equal to or less than $25.

Note: Effective for months beginning after December 31, 1999, the failure to pay tax penalty (FTP) for individuals who are a tax return on or before the due date (including extensions), is limited to half the usual rate (0.25% rather than 0.5%) for any month in which an installment payment Agreement is in effect.

If we issue a Notice of Intent to Levy and you don’t pay the balance due within 10 days from the date of the notice, the penalty increases to 1% a month.

If you think we should remove or reduce this penalty, see “Removal of Penalties — Reasonable Cause.”

Therefore, we applied your deposits to the averaged liabilities in the date order we received them. We figured the penalty on any tax not deposited, deposited late, or not deposited in the correct amounts.

If you believe we computed the penalty incorrectly, please send a complete breakdown of your tax liability on your return (for tax years before 1993). If the amount you owe is less than $100,000, please make sure that we receive your payment within 10 business days from the date of your notice. If the amount you owe is $100,000 or more, please make sure that we receive your payment within 30 days, interest at the higher rate begins on the 31st day after the notice date. Once the additional 2% rate begins to apply, we charge the additional interest on all underpayments for that type of tax and that tax period that begins to apply, we charge the additional interest on all underpayments for that type of tax and that tax period that we apply your deposits in the date order we received them. Failure to Deposit - IRC 6656 - Deposits Insufficient/Late and Incorrect Record of Federal Tax Liability — We charged a penalty because, according to our records, you didn’t deposit your tax using the one-day deposit rule for liabilities $100,000 or more during a deposit period.

Also, your Form 941 Schedule B, Form 945-A or Form 493-A was incomplete and we couldn’t determine if you made a deposit in the amount of the correct amount. Therefore, we averaged the liability you reported and distributed it equally.

Since your average amount of liability was $100,000 or more, we assessed the liability on the first day of the applicable semi-weekly period (eighth-monthly period for tax years ending on or before December 31, 1992). Interest - IRC 6601

Interest — We are required by law to charge interest when you do not pay the amount you owe on time. Generally, we charge interest from the due date of your return (regardless of extensions) until you pay the amount you owe in full, including all interest and any penalty charges. Interest rates are variable and may change quarterly.

Corporate Interest — If you are a C corporation, and you underpay your tax by more than $100,000 for any taxable period, we charge additional interest of 2% if the full amount shown as due on a notice isn’t paid within 30 days of the notice date. If you don’t pay within 30 days, interest at the higher rate begins on the 31st day after the notice date. Once the additional 2% rate begins to apply, we charge the additional interest on all underpayments for that type of tax and that tax period until you pay your balance in full.

Additional Interest Charges — If the amount you owe is $100,000 or more, please make sure that we receive your payment within 10 business days from the date of your notice. If the amount you owe is less than $100,000, please make sure that we receive your payment within 21 calendar days from the date of your notice. If we don’t receive full payment within these time frames, the law requires us to charge interest until you pay the full amount you owe.

Partnership Interest — If the partnership fails to pay within the applicable grace period after the first notice, interest on the balance due will continue to run at the standard underpayment rate under IRC 6621(a)(2) (B) for the first 10 calendar days after the notice and demand date. After that if it is still not paid, interest on the balance due will be calculated with an extra 2% rate until it is paid in full.

Section 6621(a)(2)(B) adds 3 percentage points to the Federal short-term rate determined under section 6621(b) for purposes of establishing the interest rate on underpayments of tax.

Interest Paid

Beginning with tax year 1991, you can no longer deduct interest you paid to the United States Treasury as an itemized deduction on your Form 1040, Schedule A.

Interest Reduced

If we reduce interest that you previously reported as a deduction on your tax return, you must report this reduction of interest as income on your tax return for the year we reduce it.

Interest Removed-Erroneous Refund

The law requires us to remove interest up to the date we request you to repay the erroneous refund when:

- you didn’t cause the erroneous refund in any way, and
- the refund doesn’t exceed $50,000.
- The IRS may remove or reduce interest on other erroneous refunds based on the facts and circumstances involved in each case.

Annual Interest Netting — Effective January 1, 1987 through December 31, 1998, the interest rate we paid on any overpayment of taxes was 1% less than the interest rate we charged on the underpayment of taxes. As of January 1, 1999, the overpayment and underpayment rates differ, but that we pay the refund and the interest on the underpayment and the IRS pays the overpayment and the interest on the overpayment.

The interest rate is 1% less than the rate of interest that we charge on the underpayment of taxes for the same time period that we charge interest on the overpayment.

Request for Net Interest Rate of Zero - IRC 6621(d) General Rule — If you owe interest to the IRS on an underpayment for the same period of time that the IRS owes you interest on an overpayment, you may be entitled to receive a net interest rate of zero (the same rate of interest applies to your underpayment as your overpayment).

To receive the net interest rate of zero for interest you owed (or paid) the IRS, or interest that we owed (or paid) you before October 1, 1998, you must file a Form 843, Claim for Refund and Request for Abatement. For more information on the filing requirements for the Form 843, see Revenue Procedure 99-43 and Form 843 are available at www.irs.gov.

To qualify for the net interest rate of zero, the period of limitation for claiming a refund of interest on an underpayment and the period of limitation for claiming additional interest on an overpayment must have been open on July 22, 1998. Generally, the period of limitation for claiming a refund of interest on an underpayment is 3 years from the time you filed your tax return, or 2 years from the time you paid the interest, whichever is later. The period of limitation to request additional interest on an overpayment is 6 years from the date of the refund. You must file Form 843 on or before the closing date of the later statute of limitation period. Mail Form 843 to:

Payment — Please make your check or money order payable to the United States Treasury. Write on your payment your social security number or employer identification number, the tax period and tax form. Notice about Partial Payments — Generally, we apply your payment first to tax, then to penalty, and finally to the interest you owe.

Additional Tax Concerns

Backup Withholding

If you received interest, dividends or patronage dividend income, but you didn’t report the income on your tax return and you didn’t pay the tax due on your tax return, you could be subject to a special income tax withholding called Backup Withholding. The IRS may request each payer of that income to begin withholding at a rate of 24% if, after we send you four notices over 210 days, a balance remains due on your account.

Federal/State Exchange Program

The Internal Revenue Service has agreements with state and certain local tax agencies to exchange information about federal tax, including increases or decreases. If this change affects the amount of your state or local income taxes, you should file the required state or local form to report the change.
