INSTRUCTIONS

A nonresident alien who is employed in the United States may claim the benefit of the personal exemption of $1,500, and if a resident of Canada or Mexico the credit of $400 for each dependent, in connection with payments of compensation, if he files a claim duly executed on this form with his employer not later than February 1, 1931. If the alien is a resident of Canada or Mexico the filing of this form will also entitle him to have the tax withheld from income attributable to compensation for personal services actually performed in the United States in excess of the personal exemption and credit for dependents at the rate of 1½ per cent on the first $4,000, 3 per cent on the second $4,000, and 5 per cent on the amount in excess of $8,000.

No tax will be withheld from a nonresident alien if a claim on this form indicates that his gross income including dividends from sources within the United States does not exceed $10,000 and, exclusive of such dividends, is not in excess of the personal exemption and credit for dependents.

The employer will transmit this form to the Collector with Form 1042 if any tax is withheld from the employee. If no tax is withheld the employer should forward this form directly to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sorting Section, Washington, D. C.
