Paperwork Reduction Act Notice

The Paperwork Reduction Act of 1980 says we must tell you why we are collecting this information, how we will use it, and whether you have to give it to us. We ask for the information to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. We need it to ensure that you are complying with these laws and to allow us to figure and collect the right amount of tax. You are required to give us this information.

Who must complete Form T.—If you claim a deduction for depletion of timber, you must complete and attach Form T to your income tax return.

Generally, Form T must be filed when a taxpayer sells, cuts, or purchases standing timber or is involved with other timber transactions. In addition, taxpayers who elect on their income tax returns to claim gain or loss from cutting timber, as provided by section 631(a), must file Form T with their returns.

Complete this form in accordance with sections 611, 631, and 1231 and related regulations. If you need more space, attach separate sheets and number each answer so that we can identify it with the appropriate question on Form T.

Schedule A Maps

1. This schedule consists of a map (or maps) of your timber properties. Whether you file the maps with your income tax return is your option, but you must make them available on examination of your return. Maps of convenient size are desirable, varying in scale from approximately 4 inches to the mile in small tracts to 1/2 inch to the mile in tracts larger than 200,000 acres. The maps should show your name and the tax year covered. Give standard map symbols in enough detail to show clearly the location of: (a) timber cutting contracts acquired separately from the land, (b) forest lands acquired, (c) areas where you cut timber, (d) timber cutting contracts sold or otherwise disposed of, (e) forest land sold or otherwise disposed of, and (f) forest land sold or otherwise disposed of with the timber cutting rights reserved to you or outstanding in third parties.

Schedule B Purchases

2. For the tax year, report acquisitions (such as purchases or exchanges, whether taxable or not) of timber, timber cutting contracts, or forest land. Report separately each single purchase totaling $10,000 or more, giving month and year of purchase. You may combine purchases of less than $10,000 for each timber or land account, and omit item 5 for combined small purchases. For a purchase or lease of timber cutting rights on a pay-as-cut basis, do not answer items 6 through 10. Instead, give briefly the provisions of the purchase or lease agreement, including the number of years from effective date to date of expiration, minimum cut or payment, and the payment rates for the different kinds of timber and forest products involved. You may report totals for small purchases on a pay-as-cut basis completed within the tax year. Follow the format of items 3 through 10 on additional sheets if you need more space.

Schedule C Profit or Loss from Land and Timber Sales

11. For the tax year, report all dispositions (such as by sale or exchange, whether taxable or tax free) of timber, timber cutting contracts, or forest land. Report separately each single sale involving a total consideration of $10,000 or more. You may combine sales of less than $10,000 for each timber or land account. You may omit item 14 for such combined small sales. For a sale or lease of timber cutting rights on a pay-as-cut basis, to be paid for at intervals during the cutting period according to the number of units cut, answer items 15, 19, and 20 for the tax year only. Instead of answering items 16, 17, and 18, give briefly the provisions of the sale or lease agreement, including the number of years from effective date to date of expiration, minimum cut or payment, and the payment rates for the different kinds of timber and forest products involved. You may combine small sales on a pay-as-cut basis completed within the tax year. Follow the format of items 12 through 20 on additional sheets if you need more space.

The total in Schedule E includes such things as supplies, labor, overhead, transportation, tools, and depreciation on equipment.

Site Preparation.—Report all expenses incurred during the tax year for preparation of the land for planting or seeding (including natural seeding). Include expenses for clearing the land of brush and culling trees by burning, disking, chopping, KG blade, spraying with herbicides, or other measures taken to aid in the successful reforestation of the site. Report separately for each depletion account, block, tract, or operating area tributary to a mill or mill complex. Report contract work separately from your employees' work.

Schedule F Capital Returnable through Depletion

In items 27 through 42, give separately the data for each timber account, covering any changes, that have taken place during the tax year. Attach as many additional pages of this form as you need. If you deplete on the block basis, combine new purchases with the opening balances and use the average depletion rate shown on line 34 for all timber cut or sold, regardless of how long held. If you express timber quantity in board feet, log scale, name the log rule used.

27. Title of account (name of block or tract) ▶	Quantity in board feet, log scale, or other unit ¹	Cost or other basis

¹ If M board feet, log scale, is not the unit used, state what unit you used and explain it.
² Adjust the quantity in M feet, log scale, or other unit remaining at the end of the year for changes in reinventory, standards of use, scattered and/or indefinitely ascertained losses, inaccuracy of the former estimate, or change in the log scale if the log rule now in use differs from the one used as the basis for depletion in earlier years. If you make a change, state clearly the basis for it.
³ Analyze the addition to show the individual items included. Include expenditures for taxes, administration, protection, interest actually paid, etc., if you did not treat these expenditures as expense deductions in the return. Carry expenditures for reforestation, such as site preparation, planting, seeding, etc., in a separate deferred account.

43. Quantity of cut timber that was sold as logs or other rough products

44. Did you elect in your income tax return to report gain or loss from the cutting of timber in accordance with section 631(a) of the Internal Revenue Code? Yes No
 If "Yes," furnish the information asked for in items 45 through 51.

45. Gain or loss as reported in your return. Show the adjusted basis for depletion and the fair market value by species and unit rates (if reported on a species basis).
 over and the amount of timber cut from it during the tax year and the log rule or other method you used to determine the quantity of timber cut. If you kept depletion accounts by separate tracts or purchases, give the information separately for each tract or timber purchase.

46. The date of acquisition of timber that was cut in the tax year, if acquired after March 1, 1913; the quantity of timber remaining (adjusted for growth, correction of estimates, changes in use and any change in the log rule used); and the adjusted basis at the beginning of the tax year. State the acreage cut
 If you used an average depletion rate based on the average value or cost of a timber block in earlier years, the adjusted basis referred to in section 631(a) is the average basis shown in item 34, after adjustment.

47. Section 631(a) requires that you determine as of the beginning of the tax year, the fair market value of the timber cut during the year, if you owned the timber or held a contract right to cut it for more than 12 months. List the value of the timber as it stood in the forest on the first day of the tax year. Describe in detail the characteristics of the timber that affect its value, such as total quantity, species, quality, stand per acre, size of the average tree, logging conditions, distance to markets, and the like.

48. Give evidence in the form of actual sales of comparable timber as of the valuation date, along with other value evidence used. Include a computation showing the difference between the cost (excluding timber or stumpage cost) and value of the primary wood product (logs or other roundwood, chips, etc.) at the mill or plant. Give detailed evidence that permits a comparison with the timber on which you report a value.

49. For all purchases and sales of timber you make, and for all other transactions you report, furnish the relevant information called for by items 2 through 20.

50. Furnish the following additional information:

(a) The log transportation system used, such as truck roads, railroads, etc., and the main topographic features of the area

cut over during the year, as they affect logging and transportation conditions. You may show this in accompanying maps.

(b) The location of the sawmill, log market, or other point of delivery of the logs or wood to the user or buyer.

(c) The total log scale or other units of timber cut, and the length and diameter of the average log or the average number of units per tree.

(d) The percentage of rough lumber grades, by species, produced from the timber manufactured during the year or, if the timber is sold in the log, the percentage of log grades, by species.

51. Section 631(a) applies only to timber owned, or held under a contract right to cut for more than 12 months. In your records show the quantity of timber cut that you held for the required period. Show separately the quantity of timber cut that was not so held. Also, the scale of logs purchased during the year must be shown by species and quantity and excluded from the quantity shown as cut under section 631(a). Records must also show the number, cost, and point of delivery of purchased logs by species and grade.

Schedule G Land Ownership

52. Show changes in land accounts as carried on your books. Attach as many additional sheets as you need, following the format of items 53 through 58.
