INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING U.S. INCOME TAX RETURN

Who Must File—If your income in 1963 was $600 or more ($1,200 if 65 years of age or over), or your net earnings from self-employment was $400 or more, you must file an income tax return. Forms may be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue, your employer, bank, or post office.

A single person with income of less than $600 ($1,200 if 65 years of age or over) should file a return to get a refund if tax was withheld. A married person with income less than her (his) own personal exemption(s) should file a joint return with husband or wife to get the smaller tax or larger refund. To assure any benefit of the split-income provisions, a married couple should file a joint income tax return.

Filing on Form 1040A.—Form 1040A may be used if your gross income (or the combined income of husband and wife) was less than $10,000 and consisted entirely of wages reported on Withholding Tax Statements (Forms W-2) and not more than $200 total of other wages, dividends, and interest.

If you file Form 1040A and your income is less than $5,000, you may figure your own tax or let the Internal Revenue Service do it for you. A tax table is provided in Form 1040A instructions for this purpose. This table allows about 10 percent of your total income for charitable contributions, interest, taxes, casualty losses, medical expenses, and miscellaneous items. If your income is $5,000 or more but less than $10,000, you must use the standard deduction and compute your own tax. A tax computation schedule is provided in Form 1040A instructions for this purpose. If you compute your tax any balance due must be paid in full with the return. If the Service computes the tax for you and there is an underpayment, a bill will be sent to you. In any case where there is an overpayment a refund check will be sent to you.

File Form 1040 instead of Form 1040A if—(1) you had income from sources other than wages, dividends, and interest, (2) either husband or wife itemizes deductions, (3) you claim the status of head of household or surviving husband or wife, (4) you claim dividends received credit or retirement income credit, (5) you claim “sick pay” exclusion for an amount included in wages shown on this form, or (6) you claim deductions for travel, transportation, or “outside salesman” expense.

Filing on Form 1040.—Form 1040 may be used by all taxpayers and is designed to report all types of income and deductions.
