Purpose of Form

Corporations (including S corporations), tax-exempt organizations subject to the unrelated business income tax, and private foundations use Form 2220 to determine whether they are subject to the penalty for underpayment of estimated tax and, if so, the amount of the penalty.

Who Must Pay the Underpayment Penalty

If the corporation did not pay enough estimated tax by any of the due dates, it may be charged a penalty. This is true even if the corporation is due a refund when its return is filed. The penalty is figured separately for each installment due date. Therefore, the corporation may owe a penalty for an earlier installment due date, even if it paid enough tax later to make up the underpayment.

Generally, a corporation is subject to the penalty if its tax liability is $500 or more and it did not timely pay the smaller of 90% of its tax liability for 1991, or 100% of its tax liability for 1990 (if it filed a 1990 return showing at least some amount of tax and the return covered a full 12 months). However, a "large corporation" (defined in the instructions for line 6(b)) may base only its first required installment on 100% of the prior year's tax liability. A corporation may be able to reduce or eliminate the penalty by using the annualized income installment method or the adjusted seasonal installment method.

IRS May Be Able To Figure the Penalty

Generally, the corporation does not have to file this form because the IRS can figure the amount of any penalty and bill the corporation. However, complete and attach this form if:

1. The annualized income installment method and/or the adjusted seasonal installment method is used (see the instructions for line 6), or
2. The corporation is a "large corporation" computing its first required installment based on the prior year's tax.

How To Use This Form

Complete Part I of Form 2220 to determine the underpayment for any of the four installment due dates. If there is an underpayment on line 13 (column (a), (b), (c), or (d)), go to Part II to figure the penalty. Attach Form 2220 to the income tax return and check the box on line 33, page 1, of Form 1120; line 29 of Form 1120-A; or the comparable line of any other income tax return the corporation is required to file (e.g., Form 990-C, 1120L, 1120S, etc.).

Part I. Figuring the Underpayment

Complete lines 1 through 14 of Part I.

Line 1.—Enter the tax from line 31, Form 1120; line 27, Form 1120-A; or the comparable line for other income tax returns (except as noted below).

Line 2c.—Enter the amount from line 32g, Form 1120; line 28g, Form 1120-A; or the comparable line for other income tax returns.

Line 4b.—All filers other than S corporations.—Figure the corporation's 1990 tax in the same manner as the amount on line 3 of this form was determined, using the taxes and credits from its 1990 tax return.

Skip line 4b and enter the amount from line 4a on line 4c if either of the following apply:

1. The corporation did not file a tax return for 1990 that showed at least some amount of tax; or
2. The corporation had a 1990 tax year of less than 12 months.

S corporations.—Enter on line 4b the sum of: (a) 90% of the sum of the investment credit recapture tax and the built-in gains tax (or the tax on certain capital gains) shown on the return for the 1991 tax year, and (b) 100% of any excess net passive income tax shown on the S corporation's return for the 1990 tax year. If the 1990 tax year was for less than 12 months, do not complete this line. Instead, enter the amount from line 4a on line 4c.

Line 6.—(a) Annualized Income Installment Method or Adjusted Seasonal Installment Method: If the corporation's income varied during the year because, for example, it operated its business on a seasonal basis, it may be able to lower the amount of one or more required installments by using the annualized income installment method or the adjusted seasonal installment method. For example, a ski shop, which receives most of its income during the winter months, may benefit from using one or both of these methods in figuring its required installments. The annualized income installment or adjusted seasonal installment may be less than the required installment under the regular method for one or more due dates, thereby reducing or eliminating the penalty for those due dates.

To use one or both of these methods to figure one or more required installments, use the worksheet on pages 3 and 4 of these instructions. If the worksheet is used for any payment due date, it must be used for all payment due dates. To arrive at the amount of each required installment, the worksheet automatically selects the smallest of: (a) the annualized income installment, (b) the adjusted seasonal installment (if applicable), or (c) the regular installment under section 6655(d) (increased by any reduction recapture under section 6655(e)(1)(B)).

If the corporation is using only the annualized income installment method, it must complete Parts I and III of the worksheet. If it is using only the adjusted seasonal installment method, it must complete Parts II and III of the worksheet. If the corporation is using both methods, it must complete the entire worksheet. Enter in each column on line 6 of Form 2220 the amount from the corresponding column of line 45 of the worksheet. Also attach a copy of the worksheet to Form 2220 and check the box on line 6a.

(b) "Large corporations": A "large corporation" is a corporation (other than an S corporation) that had, or its predecessor had, taxable income of $1 million or more for any of the 3 tax years immediately preceding the tax year involved. For this purpose, taxable income is modified to exclude net operating loss or capital loss carrybacks or carryovers. Members of a controlled group, as defined in section 1563, must divide the $1 million amount among themselves in accordance with rules similar to those in section 1561.

If the annualized income installment method or the adjusted seasonal installment method is not used, follow the instructions below to figure the amount to enter on line 6. Also check the box on line 6b. (If the corporation is using the annualized income installment method and/or the adjusted seasonal installment method, these instructions apply to line 41 of the worksheet.)

If line 4a is smaller than line 4b: Enter 25% of line 4a in columns (a) through (d) on line 6.

If line 4b is smaller than line 4a: Enter 25% of line 4b in column (a) on line 6. In column (b), determine the amount to enter by:

1. Subtracting line 4b from line 4a,
2. Adding the result to the amount on line 4a, and
3. Multiplying the total by 25%.

In columns (c) and (d), enter 25% of line 4a.

Line 7.—In column (a), enter the estimated tax payments deposited by the 15th day of the 4th month of the corporation's tax year; in column (b), enter payments made after the 15th day of the 4th month through the 15th day of the 6th month of the tax year; in column (c), enter payments made after the 15th day of the 6th month through the 15th day of the 9th month of the tax year; and, in column (d), enter payments made after the 15th day of the 9th month through the 15th day of the 12th month of the tax year.

Include in the estimated tax payments any overpayment of tax from the corporation's 1990 return that was credited to the corporation's 1991 estimated tax.

Line 13.—If line 13 shows an underpayment, complete Part II to figure the penalty.

Part II. Figuring the Penalty

Complete lines 15 through 30 to determine the amount of the penalty. The penalty is figured for the period of underpayment determined under section 6655 at a rate determined under section 6621. For underpayments paid after March 31, 1992, see the instructions for lines 25 through 28.

Line 15.—A payment of estimated tax is applied against underpayments of required installments in the order that installments are required to be paid, regardless of which installment the payment pertains to.

For example, a corporation has an underpayment for the April 15 installment of $1,000. The June 15 installment requires a payment of $2,500. On June 10, the corporation deposits $2,500 to cover the June 15 installment. However, $1,000 of this payment is considered to be for the April 15 installment. The penalty for the April 15 installment is figured to June 10 (56 days). The payment to be applied to the June 15 installment will then be $1,500.

If the corporation has made more than one payment for a required installment, attach a separate computation for each payment.

Line 25.—For underpayments paid after March 31, 1992, and before July 1, 1992, use the interest rate that the IRS will determine in January 1992.

Line 26.—For underpayments paid after June 30, 1992, and before October 1, 1992, use the interest rate that the IRS will determine in April 1992.

Line 27.—For underpayments paid after September 30, 1992, and before January 1, 1993, use the interest rate that the IRS will determine in July 1992.

Line 28.—For underpayments paid after December 31, 1992, use the interest rate that the IRS will determine in October 1992.

Instructions for Worksheet

Part I—Annualized Income Installment Method

Line 4.—Filers of Forms 990-PF and 990-T: The period to be used to figure taxable income for each column is as follows: Column (a), first 2 months; column (b), first 4 months; column (c), first 7 months; and column (d), first 10 months.

Line 5.—Filers of Forms 990-PF and 990-T: The annualization amount to be used in each column is as follows: Column (a), 6; column (b), 3; column (c), 1.71429; and column (d), 1.2.

Line 9.—Enter the taxes the corporation owed because of events that occurred during the months shown in the column headings used to figure annualized taxable income. Include the same taxes used to figure line 1 of Form 2220, but do not include the personal holding company tax or interest due under the look-back method of section 460(b)(2).

Line 11.—Enter the credits allowed due to events that occurred during the months shown in the column headings used to figure annualized taxable income.

Line 15.—Before completing line 15 in columns (b) through (d), complete line 16; Part II (if applicable); and lines 40 through 45, in each of the preceding columns. For example, complete line 16, lines 17 through 39 (if using the adjusted seasonal installment method), and lines 40 through 45, in column (a) before completing line 15 in column (b).

Part II—Adjusted Seasonal Installment Method

Do not complete this part unless the corporation's base period percentage for any six consecutive months of the tax year equals or exceeds 70%. The term "base period percentage" for any period of six consecutive months is the average of the three percentages figured by dividing the taxable income for the corresponding six consecutive month period in each of the 3 preceding tax years by the taxable income for each of their respective tax years.

Example: An amusement park that has a calendar year as its tax year receives the largest part of its taxable income during the six-month period from May through October. To compute its base period percentage for the period May through October 1991, it must figure its taxable income for the period May through October in each of the years: 1988, 1989, and 1990. The taxable income for each May-through-October period is then divided by the total taxable income for the tax year in which the period is included, resulting in the following quotients: .69 for May through October 1988, .74 for May through October 1989, and .67 for May through October 1990. Since the average of .69, .74, and .67 is equal to .70, the base period percentage for May through October 1991 is 70%. Therefore, the amusement park qualifies for the adjusted seasonal installment method.

Figure the alternative minimum tax and environmental tax on Form 4626. Figure alternative minimum taxable income and modified alternative minimum taxable income based on the corporation's income and deductions during the months shown in the column headings above line 17. Divide the alternative minimum taxable

Form 1120S filers: For lines 1, 4, 17, 18, and 19, below, "taxable income" refers to excess net passive income or the amount on which tax is imposed under section 1374(a) (or the corresponding provisions of prior law), whichever applies.
