RESPONSIBILITIES OF RETURN PREPARERS

The importance of the role of income tax preparers is recognized in the Internal Revenue Code, which contains provisions that regulate conduct. These provisions include civil tax penalties that can be imposed on return preparers who:

1. Fail to meet disclosure requirements and certain administrative actions,
2. Engage in certain prohibited practices, or
3. Understate a taxpayer's tax liability on any return or claim for refund.

For more information, see Pub. 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney; Circular 230, Regulations Governing the Practice of Attorneys, Certified Public Accountants, Enrolled Agents, Enrolled Actuaries, and Appraisers before the IRS; IRS Notice 90-20, 1990-1 C.B. 328, Rev. September 29, 1998

Dear Tax Professional,

On July 22, 1998, the President signed into law the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act of 1998. This new law represents a milestone and turning point for the IRS and will greatly assist in our efforts to bring a new customer service focus to all facets of our operations.

In addition to its many new and important taxpayer protections, this landmark Act will greatly assist the Service in its modernization efforts focused on meeting the needs of taxpayers. Last January, I unveiled a modernization concept for the IRS designed around a new organizational structure with a new business philosophy to drive it — helping people to comply with the tax laws and ensuring the tax laws are applied fairly. This Act gives us some important tools we need to bring these positive and meaningful changes to the Service.

Over the next few years, we will revamp our business practices, with a focus on understanding, solving and preventing taxpayer problems. Our goals are early intervention, education, outreach and assistance.

When it comes to taxpayer service, it's also clear that a one-size-fits-all IRS does not meet the needs of our taxpayers. The new IRS will have four "operating divisions" that will work with specific groups of taxpayers with similar needs.

The first division will focus on our largest group of taxpayers — those who have only wage and investment income. The second division will be devoted to small business, the self-employed and those with supplemental income. The third will focus on middle market and corporate taxpayers, and the fourth will center on the large tax-exempt sector.

Just as private sector companies create individual marketing programs to reach customers with different needs, the IRS will tailor its publications, education and communications, and assistance programs to taxpayers with particular needs.

The modernization plan is a work in progress and I welcome your thoughts and observations as we try to provide service as good as that found in the private sector. I hope that you will follow our progress by logging on to our web site at www.irs.ustreas.gov.

Sincerely,

Charles O. Rossotti

PRIVACY ACT & PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT NOTICE

The Privacy Act of 1974 and the Paperwork Reduction Act require that when we ask you for information, we must first tell you our legal right to ask for the information, why we are asking for it, and how it will be used. We must tell you what could happen if we do not receive it and whether your response is voluntary, required to obtain a benefit, or mandatory under the law.

As a member of the Tax Professionals Program, your response is voluntary to obtain a benefit: the tax items and tax information offered via this distribution program. If you do not submit the requested information, we may not honor your application to maintain your participation in the Tax Professionals Program.

The time needed to complete Form 3975 will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is 3 minutes.

You are not required to provide information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Internal Revenue Code section 6103.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. You can write to:

INTRODUCTION

The Tax Professionals Program is designed to provide tax professionals with reference copies of the most frequently requested tax forms and instructions (Package X) and tax news and special event information for their localities (District and Service Center newsletters). This publication contains the application form and order blanks for federal tax products available from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS), Superintendent of Documents (SUPDOCS), U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) and National Technical Information Service (NTIS) for tax year 1998. It also contains highlights of initiatives underway in the IRS that effect the tax professional community.

The number of tax professionals participating in the Program continues to decline as we diversify and offer our products and information electronically. The Tax Professional's Corner (TaxPro's Corner) at www.irs.ustreas.gov/prod/bus_info/tax_pro contains detailed information about services and initiatives affecting tax professionals.

Drafts of certain high-usage products can be accessed via the TaxPro's Corner as early as May and approved copies of federal tax products are posted as early as September of each year. Products are usually posted 3 to 5 days after approval (Click-on the Official Forms Release Schedule). The Local News Net available via the TaxPro's Corner is our electronic replacement for the printed local District and Service Center newsletters. Subscribe today!

PROGRAM PARTICIPATION

If you wish to continue or become a participant in the Program, transmit or mail Form 3975, Tax Professionals Annual Mailing List Application and Order Blank, (see on-line ordering for restrictions) to the appropriate IRS Area Distribution Center. Current program participants that do not submit (either electronically or via mail) a Form 3975 will be removed from the Program and will no longer receive Package X or local newsletters. A copy of Form 3975 is provided in this publication and can be downloaded at www.irs.ustreas.gov. Form 3975 should be submitted by only one representative for each firm.

Package X, Reference Copies of Federal Tax Forms and Instructions, is sent to each tax professional participating in the Program (upon request). Package X, a two volume set, and employer tax forms are the only products available to tax professionals at no cost. Employer tax forms (Forms W-2, W-3, W-4, 1096, 1099 series, etc.) can be obtained by calling 1-800-829-3676 or by mail via Form 7018-A, Employer's Order Blank for 1999 Forms.

The employer order blank (Form 7018-A) is included in Publication 15, Employer's Tax Guide. Publication 15 is sent to approximately 7.1 million employers in November. Additional products are available from SUPDOCS, www.irs.ustreas.gov, commercial forms providers, or the IRS TaxFax Service. Package X can be ordered using Form 3975.

PACKAGE X AVAILABILITY FOR TAX YEAR 1998

If we receive your order (Form 3975) for Package X by November 2, 1998, you will receive Volume 1 by mid-December and Volume 2 by mid-January. All orders received after November 2, 1998, will be processed on a weekly basis. Volume 1 weekly shipments will start on November 23, 1998, and Volume 2 shipments will begin on December 21, 1998.
