THE IRS MISSION

Provide America's taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all.

FILING TAXES WAS NEVER EASIER

IRS e-file is an electronic filing service that is the fastest, most accurate way to file tax returns.

IRS e-file can be a valuable addition to your client services.

Tap Into a Growing Market – Become an authorized IRS e-file Provider and appeal to a growing market. More than 29 million individual returns were filed electronically during the 1999 Filing Season, a 19 percent increase over last year. IRS has a national marketing campaign supporting e-file and provides a free marketing kit to authorized providers to help them market the program to their clients.

Improve Accuracy of Returns Filed – IRS e-file software alerts you to errors and allows you to correct them before the return is filed. Filing an accurate return decreases the chances of your clients getting error notices from the IRS.

Reduce Your Handling Costs – IRS e-file requires less paper handling by you and your staff. No more envelopes to address. No more trips to the post office.

Your Clients Benefit – With IRS e-file, your clients receive their refunds in half the time—faster with Direct Deposit. Within 48 hours of filing, the IRS delivers proof that your clients' returns are accepted.

File Now, Pay Later – Your clients can file their returns and authorize direct debit from their checking or saving accounts on a date they specify, or pay by credit card until April 17, 2000.

Best of All—Customer Satisfaction – Most people who e-filed liked it. A survey of taxpayers who e-filed their 1998 returns show that 3 out of 4 would do so again.

How Can I Participate? What if I Have Questions? – Contact your Electronic Tax Administration (ETA) Coordinator. Names and phone numbers can be found on the Internet at www.irs.gov, click on "Electronic Services" then "ETA Coordinators". You can also call, toll-free, 1-800-691-1894 and ask for the ETA Coordinator nearest you. We encourage you to speak to a coordinator and request the "IRS e-file Application Package," Publication 3112. This contains the application form and instructions.

Your ETA Coordinator's role is to ensure that IRS e-file works well for you and your clients. Contact your ETA Coordinator today!

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

TY1999 FILING SEASON REFUND/REMIT SORT INITIATIVE

For the upcoming filing season (Tax Year 1999) most of the 1040 Tax Packages will contain an envelope with two labels. The two labels will enable the IRS to more efficiently sort the refund returns from the remittance returns.

These labels will contain the address of the IRS Service Center and separate Zip+4 Zip Codes and PostNet barcodes. One of the labels will be used by taxpayers filing for a refund and the other will be for taxpayers filing a balance due return and remittance.

In addition, the "Where-To-File" instructions will have the same service center addresses with the same two Zip Codes. This will allow the taxpayers or practitioners to place a handwritten address on their tax return envelope and the U.S. Postal Service will imprint the proper PostNet barcode on the face of the envelope. The barcodes will permit the tax returns to be sorted as ones containing the preprinted labels.

COMMISSIONER

August 23, 1999

Dear Tax Professional,

In the past year, the Internal Revenue Service has undergone important and dramatic changes on the road to fulfilling our commitment to modernizing the Agency to meet all of our customers' needs. With our stakeholders, we developed and implemented a new mission for the IRS that reflects this commitment —

"Provide America's taxpayers top quality service by helping them understand and meet their tax responsibilities and by applying the tax law with integrity and fairness to all."

Our goals are to provide service to each taxpayer in each and every transaction; to provide service to all taxpayers by ensuring that each taxpayer pays his or her fair share; and to achieve productivity by providing a quality work environment for employees.

Achieving this mission and attaining these goals requires fundamental changes to long-standing programs and structures. We are building a balanced set of performance measures that weighs customer and employee satisfaction along with business results. These three components will be measured at all levels of the organization, from the front-line employee through every level of management.

The Agency is also designing an organizational structure that best serves the needs of specific groups of taxpayers. Four operating divisions and their top management teams will be responsible for serving a set of taxpayers with similar needs: Wage and Investment, Small Business and Self-Employed, Large and Mid-size Business, and Tax Exempt and Government Entities. We will begin establishing these units, and other support elements, by the end of 1999.

We are also revamping our business practices with a focus on understanding, solving, and preventing taxpayer problems through early intervention, education, outreach, and assistance. And we will be replacing our technology base over the next several years to further enable the IRS to provide top quality service to America's taxpayers.

In the midst of all this change, the IRS must continue to administer a very large, complex, and ever-changing tax system. We are currently planning for the 2000 filing season, implementing hundreds of changes to the tax law, and completing the changes necessary to ensure our computers are compliant with the Century Date Change.

The tax practitioner community is an important partner in our ongoing efforts to educate and assist taxpayers. We recognize the importance of the tax professional community and are partnering with you in many capacities. Please visit the Tax Professional's Corner of the IRS Internet site at www.irs.gov for important up-to-date information. I look forward to working with you in the years to come.

Sincerely,

Charles O. Rossotti

RESPONSIBILITIES OF RETURN PREPARERS

The importance of the role of income tax preparers is recognized in the Internal Revenue Code, which contains provisions that regulate conduct. These provisions include civil tax penalties that can be imposed on return preparers who:

1. Fail to meet disclosure requirements and certain administrative actions,
2. Engage in certain prohibited practices, or
3. Understate a taxpayer's tax liability on any return or claim for refund.

For more information, see Pub. 947, Practice Before the IRS and Power of Attorney; Circular 230, Regulations Governing the Practice of Attorneys, Certified Public Accountants, Enrolled Agents, Enrolled Actuaries, and Appraisers before the IRS; IRS Notice 90-20, 1990-1 C.B. 328, Rev. Proc. 95-95, 1995-2 C.B. 457, IRC sections 6060, 6109, 6662, 6694, 6695, and 7216; and related income tax regulations.

PREPARING FOR Y2K

Just like other federal government agencies, private corporations, utilities, and state and local governments, IRS is working steadily towards being Y2K compliant. At IRS, it's a big job considering we have over 80 mainframe, 1,400 mini, and 100,000 personal computers, plus a massive telecommunications network comprising more than 100,000 components.

But we're just one side of the coin – tax professionals who use electronic tax applications must also ensure that their systems are Y2K compliant before filing season 2000 begins. So, if you haven't started preparing for Y2K, the IRS encourages you to do so now. When we exchange data with you in 2000, both of our systems must be able to accept four-digit years and correctly interpret them.

The IRS does not expect to have any Y2K problems in January, but in the event that we do encounter a glitch, we're prepared to work with you to remedy the problem quickly in order to minimize any impact on you and your clients. We will be taking a proactive approach and notifying the public of any Y2K glitches via our web site at www.irs.gov.

If you have any questions about the IRS Y2K compliant, please call (202) 283-3878.

ALTERNATIVE PREPARER TAX IDENTIFICATION NUMBERS (PTINs)

Section 3710 of the IRS Reform and Restructuring Act of 1998 allowed the Service to provide tax return preparers with alternative identifying numbers (PTINs) to use in lieu of their Social Security Numbers (SSNs) on returns they prepare. The legislation addressed preparers' concern about unauthorized use of their SSNs. Notice 98-63 communicated the Service plan to implement this legislative change to IRC section 6109(a)(4) and provided a contact phone number (202-622-4405) for updated information and inquiries.

Form W-7P, Application for Preparer Tax Identification Number, will be available in early August. At that time, preparers will be able to access, download and print the Form W-7P from "News for Tax Professionals" on the IRS web site, or call the toll free 1-800-829-3676 for a copy. PTINs will first be issued in early October, and applications received by mid-November should be processed in time for the 2000 filing season.

Please Note: PTINs are not mandatory and preparers can continue to use their SSNs; however, use of the SSN is required until the PTIN is received. The PTIN does not substitute for the EIN of a firm preparing tax returns.

PROGRAM INFORMATION

The Tax Professional Program is designed to provide tax professionals with reference copies of the most frequently requested tax forms and instructions (Package X) and tax news and special events information for their localities (District and Service Center newsletters). This publication contains the application form and order blanks for federal tax products available from the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Superintendent of Documents (SUPDOCS), U.S. Government Printing Office (GPO) and National Technical Information Service for tax year 1999.

The Tax Professional's Corner (TaxPro's Corner) at www.irs.gov/bus_info/tax_pro contains detailed information about services and initiatives affecting tax professionals.

Drafts of certain high-usage products can be accessed via the TaxPro's Corner as early as May and approved copies of federal tax products are posted as early as September of each year. Products are usually posted 3 to 5 days after approval (see the Official Forms Release Schedule). The Local News Net available via the TaxPro's Corner is our electronic replacement for the printed local District and Service Center newsletters. Subscribe today!

PROGRAM PARTICIPATION

If you wish to continue or become a participant in the Program, Form 3975, Tax Professionals Annual Mailing List Application and Order Blank, must be transmitted (see on-line ordering for restrictions) or mailed to the appropriate IRS Area Distribution Center. Current program participants who do not submit (either electronically or via mail) a Form 3975 will be removed from the Program and will no longer receive Package X or local newsletters. A copy of Form 3975 is provided on page 9 of this publication and can be downloaded at www.irs.gov. Form 3975 should be submitted by only one representative for each firm.

Package X, Reference Copies of Federal Tax Forms and Instructions, is sent to each tax professional participating in the Program (upon request). Package X, a two volume set, and employer tax forms are the only products available to Tax Professionals at no cost. Employer tax forms (Forms W-2, W-3, 1096, 1099 series, etc.) can be obtained by calling 1-800-829-3676 or by mail via Form 7018-A, Employer's Order Blank for 2000 Forms.

The employer order blank (Form 7018-A) is included in Publication 15, Employer's Tax Guide. Publication 15 is sent to approximately 7.1 million employers in November. Additional products are available from SUPDOCS, www.irs.gov, commercial forms providers, or the IRS TaxFax Service. Package X can be ordered using Form 3975.

PRIVACY ACT & PAPERWORK REDUCTION ACT NOTICE

The Privacy Act of 1974 and the Paperwork Reduction Act require that when we ask you for information, we must first tell you our legal right to ask for the information, why we are asking for it, and how it will be used. We must tell you what could happen if we do not receive it and whether your response is voluntary, required to obtain a benefit, or mandatory under the law.

As a member of the Tax Professionals Program, your response is voluntary to obtain a benefit: the tax items and tax information offered via this distribution program. If you do not submit the requested information, we may not honor your application to maintain your participation in the Tax Professionals Program.

The time needed to complete Form 3975 will vary depending on individual circumstances. The estimated average time is 3 minutes.

You are not required to provide information requested on a form that is subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Internal Revenue Code section 6103.

If you have comments concerning the accuracy of these time estimates or suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. You can write to:

Tax Forms Committee

(See pages 4 and 11 for additional information)

NEW FORM W-7P

Tax Professionals who do not wish to disclose their social security numbers on returns they prepare have another option. They may apply for a Preparer Tax Identification Number (PTIN) by filing Form W-7P, Application for Preparer Tax Identification Number. A PTIN is a permanent identification number assigned by the IRS to tax professionals for use on returns they prepare for payment. This will allow tax return preparers the choice of identifying themselves using either their PTIN or social security number.
