Introduction
The federal income tax is a pay-as-you-go tax. You must pay the tax as you earn or receive income during the year. There are two ways to pay as you go:

- Withholding. If you are an employee, your employer probably withholds income tax from your pay. In addition, tax may be withheld from certain other income, including pensions, bonuses, commissions, and gambling winnings. In each case, the amount withheld is paid to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in your name.

What's New for 2009

You should consider the items in this section when figuring the amount of your tax withholding (see chapter 1) or estimated tax payments (see chapter 2) for 2009. Unless otherwise stated, see Publication 553, Highlights of 2008 Tax Changes, for more information.

Definition of a qualifying child revised. The following changes to the definition of a qualifying child have been made.

- Your qualifying child must be younger than you.
- A child cannot be your qualifying child if he or she files a joint return, unless the return was filed only as a claim for refund.
- If the parents of a child can claim the child as a qualifying child but no parent so claims the child, no one else can claim the child as a qualifying child unless that person's adjusted gross income (AGI) is higher than the highest AGI of any parent of the child.
- Your child is a qualifying child for purposes of the child tax credit only if you can and do claim an exemption for him or her.

Divorced or separated parents. A noncustodial parent claiming an exemption for a child can no longer attach certain pages from a divorce decree or separation agreement executed after 2008. The noncustodial parent will have to attach Form 8332 or a similar statement signed by the custodial parent whose only purpose is to release a claim for exemption.

Differential wage payments subject to withholding. Beginning in 2009, differential wage payments made to active members of the uniformed services are treated as wages and income tax must be withheld. For more details, see Publication 15, Employer's Tax Guide.

Certain unemployment compensation excluded from income. You can exclude from income up to $2,400 of unemployment compensation you receive.

Economic recovery payment to recipients of social security, supplemental social security, railroad retirement benefits, and veterans' disability compensation or pension benefits. If you receive any of the above benefits, you will receive an economic recovery payment of $250. This is not included in your income.

Qualified small business stock. The exclusion of gain from the sale of qualifying small business stock is increased to 75% for stock acquired after February 17, 2009, and before January 1, 2011.

Limit on exclusion of gain on sale of main home. Generally, gain from the sale of your main home is no longer excludable from income.

Retirement savings plans. The following paragraphs highlight changes that affect individual retirement arrangements (IRAs) and pension plans. For more information, see Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

IRA deduction expanded. You may be able to take an IRA deduction if you were covered by a retirement plan at work and your 2009 modified AGI is less than $65,000 ($109,000 if married filing jointly or a qualifying widow(er)). If your spouse was covered by a retirement plan but you were not, you may be able to take an IRA deduction if your modified AGI is less than $176,000.

Elective salary deferrals. The maximum amount you can defer under all plans generally is limited to $16,500 ($11,500 if you have only SIMPLE plans; $19,500 for section 403(b) plans if you qualify for the 15-year rule). The catch-up contribution limit for individuals age 50 or older at the end of the year is increased to $5,500 (except for section 401(k)(11) plans and SIMPLE plans, for which this limit remains unchanged).

Retirement savings contributions credit (saver's credit). For 2009, the income limits have increased and you may be able to claim this credit if your modified AGI is not more than $27,750 ($55,500 if married filing jointly, $41,625 if head of household).

Temporary waiver of certain minimum distribution rules. No minimum distribution is required from your IRA or employer-provided qualified retirement plan for 2009. For more information, see Publication 575, Pension and Annuity Income, or Publication 590.

Increased standard deduction. You may be able to increase your standard deduction by the following amounts.

- Certain state or local real estate taxes you pay.
- A net disaster loss attributable to a federally declared disaster.
- Sales or excise taxes you pay on the purchase of certain new cars, trucks, motorcycles, or motor homes.

Standard mileage rates. The standard mileage rate for the cost of operating your car is:

- 55 cents a mile for all business miles driven,
- 24 cents a mile for the use of your car for medical reasons,
- 24 cents a mile for the use of your car for a deductible move,
- 14 cents a mile for the use of your car for charitable reasons.

Personal casualty and theft loss. A personal casualty or theft loss must exceed $500 to be allowed. This is in addition to the 10%-of-AGI limit that generally applies to the net loss.

Alternative minimum tax (AMT) exemption amount increases. The AMT exemption amount is increased to $46,700 ($70,950 if married filing jointly or a qualifying widow(er); $35,475 if married filing separately).
Tax on child’s investment income. Generally, Form 8615 will be required to figure the tax for children with investment income of more than $1,900.

Making work pay credit. You can claim a refundable credit of up to $400 ($800 if married filing jointly) if you work. You can claim the credit if you are an employee or self-employed. The credit is 6.2% of your earned income, which includes nontaxable combat pay, up to the $400 (or $800) limit. The credit is phased out if your modified AGI is more than $75,000 ($150,000 if married filing jointly). For more details, see Worksheet 2-9 in chapter 2.

Hope education credit expanded. For 2009 and 2010, the maximum credit is $2,500, the credit is available for the first 4 years of post-secondary education, and 40% of the credit is refundable. The increased benefits will be phased out if your modified AGI is above $80,000 ($160,000 if married filing jointly).

Qualified education expenses under a qualified tuition program (QTP). During 2009 and 2010, qualified education expenses will include the purchase of computer technology, equipment, or Internet access and related services if it is to be used by the beneficiary and the beneficiary’s family during any of the years the beneficiary is enrolled at an eligible educational institution. (This does not include expenses for computer software designed for sports, games, or hobbies unless the software is predominantly educational in nature.)

Earned income credit (EIC). You may be able to take the EIC if:
- Three or more children lived with you and you earned less than $43,279 ($48,279 if married filing jointly),
- Two children lived with you and you earned less than $40,295 ($45,295 if married filing jointly),
- One child lived with you and you earned less than $35,463 ($40,463 if married filing jointly), or
- No children lived with you and you earned less than $13,440 ($18,440 if married filing jointly).

New for 2009 is an increase in the amount of earned income credit for taxpayers with three or more qualifying children.

You can elect to include combat pay as earned income for purposes of claiming the EIC. The maximum investment income you can have and still get the credit has increased to $3,100.

For more information, see Publication 596, Earned Income Credit (EIC).

Additional child tax credit. The earned income threshold generally needed to qualify for the additional child tax credit is reduced to $3,000.

Credit to certain government retirees. If you are a government retiree and you did not receive an economic recovery payment as a recipient of social security, supplemental social security, railroad retirement, and veterans disability compensation or pension benefits, you are allowed a credit of $250 ($500 if both you and your spouse are government retirees and you file jointly). The credit is refundable. See Worksheet 2-9 in chapter 2.

Nonbusiness energy property credit. This credit, which expired after 2007, has been reinstated. The amount of the credit has increased from 10% to 30%, limited to a $1,500 total amount for 2009 and 2010 installations. It also has been expanded to include certain asphalt roofs and stoves that burn biomass fuel.

Residential energy efficient property credit. The 30% credit for qualified solar hot water property, geothermal heat pumps, and wind energy property is no longer limited to $2,000 per year. However, there is a $500 credit limit on qualified fuel cell property expenditures.

Increased alternative fuel vehicle refueling property credit. The credit for alternative fuel vehicle fueling property increases to 50%. For property placed in service during 2009 and 2010 at your main home, the credit limit increases to $2,000.

Credit for qualified plug-in electric vehicles. The electric vehicle credit is now limited to plug-in electric vehicles. The maximum credit for a qualified vehicle acquired after February 17, 2009, is $2,500.

Plug-in conversion credit. A new credit is available for converting a motor vehicle to a qualified plug-in electric drive motor vehicle. The maximum credit is $4,000, and will be claimed as part of the alternative motor vehicle credit.

Build America tax credit bonds. The credit available to taxpayers from Build America bonds must be included in income as interest. Any unused credit is refundable.

First-time homebuyer credit. You may be able to claim a refundable credit of up to $8,000 if you are a first-time homebuyer and buy a principal residence after December 31, 2008, and before December 1, 2009.

Increased health coverage tax credit. For individuals who are eligible trade adjustment assistance (TAA) recipients, alternative TAA recipients, or eligible Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation pension recipients, the credit for the cost of health insurance increases. This credit also is available to eligible TAA recipients who are not currently enrolled in a training program.

Decreased estimated tax payment for certain small businesses. For certain small businesses, your required estimated tax payment for the year is the lesser of 90% of your estimated 2009 tax. This rule applies to individuals who satisfy all of the following:
- Your business had an average of fewer than 500 employees in 2008.
- More than 50% of your gross income from 2008 was income from your small business.
- Your AGI for 2008 was less than $500,000 ($250,000 if married filing separate returns in 2009).

Reminders

Social security (FICA) tax. Generally, each employer for whom you work during the tax year must withhold social security tax up to the annual limit.

Photographs of missing children. The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children may appear in this publication on pages that otherwise would be blank. You can help bring these children home by looking at the photographs and calling 1-800-THE-LOST (1-800-843-5678) if you recognize a child.
1. Tax Withholding for 2009

Introduction
This chapter discusses income tax withholding on:
- Salaries and wages,
- Tips,
- Taxable fringe benefits,
- Sick pay,
- Pensions and annuities,
- Gambling winnings,
- Unemployment compensation, and
- Certain federal payments.

Salaries and Wages
Income tax is withheld from the pay of most employees. Your pay includes your regular pay, bonuses, commissions, and vacation allowances. It also includes reimbursements and other expense allowances paid under a nonaccountable plan. See Supplemental Wages on page 13 for definitions of accountable and nonaccountable plans.

If your income is low enough that you will not have to pay income tax for the year, you may be exempt from withholding. This is explained under Exemption From Withholding on page 13.

Military retirees. Military retirement pay is treated in the same manner as regular pay for income tax withholding purposes, even though it is treated as a pension or annuity for other tax purposes.

Household workers. If you are a household worker, you can ask your employer to withhold income tax from your pay. A household worker is an employee who performs household work in a private home, local college club, or local fraternity or sorority chapter.

Tax is withheld only if you want it withheld and your employer agrees to withhold it. If you do not have enough income tax withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax, as discussed in chapter 2.

Farmworkers. Generally, income tax is withheld from your cash wages for work on a farm unless your employer both:
- Pays you cash wages of less than $150 during the year, and
- Has expenditures for agricultural labor totaling less than $2,500 during the year.

Differential wage payments. When employees are on leave from employment for military duty, some employers make up the difference between the military pay and civilian pay. Payments made after December 31, 2008, to an employee who is on active duty for a period of more than 30 days, will be subject to income tax withholding. The wages and withholding will be reported on Form W-2.

You can ask your employer to withhold income tax from noncash wages and other wages not subject to withholding. If your employer does not agree to withhold tax, or if not enough is withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax, as discussed in chapter 2.

Determining Amount of Tax Withheld Using Form W-4

The amount of income tax your employer withholds from your regular pay depends on two things:
- The amount you earn.
- The information you give your employer on Form W-4.

Form W-4 includes three types of information that your employer will use to figure your withholding.
- Whether to withhold at the single rate or at the lower married rate.
- How many withholding allowances you claim (each allowance reduces the amount withheld).
- Whether you want an additional amount withheld.

Note. You must specify a filing status and a number of withholding allowances on Form W-4. You cannot specify only a dollar amount of withholding.

New Job
When you start a new job, you must fill out a Form W-4 and give it to your employer. Your employer should have copies of the form. If you need to change the information later, you must fill out a new form.

If you work only part of the year (for example, you start working after the beginning of the year), too much tax may be withheld. You may be able to avoid overwithholding if your employer agrees to use the part-year method, explained on page 12.

Employee also receiving pension income. If you receive pension or annuity income and begin a new job, you will need to file Form W-4 with your new employer. However, you can choose to split your withholding allowances between your pension and job in any manner. See Publication 919 for more information.

Changing Your Withholding
Events during the year may change your marital status or the exemptions, adjustments, deductions, or credits you expect to claim on your tax return. When this happens, you may need to give your employer a new Form W-4 to change your withholding status or number of allowances.

If the event changes your withholding status or the number of allowances you are claiming, you must give your employer a new Form W-4 within 10 days after either of the following:
- Any event that requires you to change to single status.
- Any event that decreases the number of withholding allowances you can claim.

Events that will decrease the number of withholding allowances you can claim include the following:
- You have been claiming an allowance for your spouse, but you get divorced or your spouse begins claiming his or her own allowance on a separate Form W-4.
- You have been claiming a marital allowance for a dependent who is a qualifying relative, but you no longer expect to provide more than half the dependent's support for the year.
- You have been claiming an allowance for a qualifying child, but you now find that he or she will provide more than half of his or her own support during the year.
- You have been claiming allowances for your expected deductions, but you now find they will be less than expected.
- You filed for bankruptcy under chapter 11 of the U.S. Bankruptcy Code and you may not be entitled to the same number of allowances or the bankruptcy estate may be taxed at a higher rate.

Generally, you can submit a new Form W-4 whenever you wish to change the number of your withholding allowances for any other reason. If you change the number of your withholding allowances, you can request that your employer...
withhold using the cumulative wage method, explained on page 12.

Changing your withholding for 2010. If events in 2009 will decrease the number of your withholding allowances for 2010, you must give your employer a new Form W-4 by December 1, 2009. If an event occurs in December 2009, submit a new Form W-4 within 10 days. The following are examples of events that will decrease the number of your allowances.

- You claimed allowances for 2009 based on child care expenses, moving expenses, or large medical expenses, but you will not have these expenses in 2010.
- You have been claiming an allowance for your spouse, but he or she died in 2009.

Note. Because you can file a joint return for 2009, your spouse’s death will not affect the number of your withholding allowances until 2010. You will have to change from married to single status for 2010, unless you can file as a qualifying widow or widower because you have a dependent child, or you remarry. You must file a new Form W-4 showing single status by December 1 of the last year you are eligible to file as qualifying widow or widower.

Checking Your Withholding

After you have given your employer a Form W-4, you can check to see whether the amount of tax withheld from your pay is too little or too much. See Publication 919 (beginning on page 12). If too much or too little tax is being withheld, you should give your employer a new Form W-4 to change your withholding.

Note. You cannot give your employer a pay- ment to cover federal income tax withholding on salaries and wages for past pay periods or a payment for estimated tax.

Completing Form W-4 and Worksheets

When reading the following discussion, you may find it helpful to refer to the filled-in Form W-4 on pages 10 and 11.

Marital Status (Line 3 of Form W-4)

There is a lower withholding rate for people who qualify to check the “Married” box on line 3 of Form W-4. Everyone else must have tax withheld at the higher single rate.

Single. You must check the “Single” box if any of the following applies.

- You are single. If you are divorced, or sepa- rated from your spouse under a court de- cree of separate maintenance, you are considered single.
- You are married, but neither you nor your spouse is a citizen or resident of the United States.
- You are married, either you or your spouse is a nonresident alien, and you have not chosen to have that person treated as a resident alien for tax pur- poses. For more information, see "Nonresi- dent Spouse Treated as a Resident" in chapter 1 of Publication 519. Married. You qualify to check the “Married” box if any of the following applies.

- You are married and neither you nor your spouse is a nonresident alien. You are considered married for the whole year even if your spouse died during the year.
- You are married, either you or your spouse is a nonresident alien, and you have chosen to have that person treated as a resident alien for tax purposes. For more information, see "Nonresident Spouse Treated as a Resident" in chapter 1 of Publication 519.
- You expect to be able to file your return as a qualifying widow or widower. You usu- ally can use this filing status if your spouse died within the previous 2 years and you provide more than half the cost of keeping up a home for the entire year that was the main home for you and your child whom you can claim as a dependent. However, you must file a new Form W-4 showing your filing status as single by December 1 of the last year you are eligible to file as a qualifying widow or widower. For more in- formation on this filing status, see "Qualify- ing Widow(er) With Dependent Child Under Filing Status in Publication 501, Ex- emptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information."

Married, but withhold at higher single rate. Some married people find that they do not have enough tax withheld at the married rate. This can happen, for example, when both spouses work. To avoid this, you can check the "Married, but withhold at higher Single rate" box (even if you qualify for the married rate). Also, you may find that more tax is withheld if you fill out the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet, ex- plained on page 9.

Withholding Allowances (Line 5 of Form W-4)

The more allowances you claim on Form W-4, the less income tax your employer will withhold. You will have the most tax withheld if you claim "0" allowances. The number of allowances you can claim depends on the following factors.

- How many exemptions you can take on your tax return.
- Whether you have income from more than one job.
- What deductions, adjustments to income, and credits you expect to have for the year.
- Whether you will file as head of house- hold.

If you are married, it also depends on whether your spouse also works and claims any al- lowances on his or her own Form W-4.

Form W-4 worksheets. Form W-4 has work- sheets to help you figure how many withholding allowances you can claim. The worksheets are for your own records. Do not give them to your employer.

Complete only one set of Form W-4 work- sheets, no matter how many jobs you have. If you are married and will file a joint return, com- plete only one set of worksheets for you and your spouse, even if you both earn wages and each must give a Form W-4 to your employers. Complete separate sets of worksheets only if you and your spouse will file separate returns.

If you are not exempt from withholding (see Exemption From Withholding on page 13), com- plete the Personal Allowances Worksheet on page 1 of the form. Also, use the worksheets on page 2 of the form to adjust the number of your withholding allowances for itemized deductions and adjustments to income, and for two-earner or multiple-job situations. If you want to adjust the number of your withholding allowances for certain tax credits, use the Deductions and Ad- justments Worksheet on page 2 of Form W-4, even if you do not have any deductions or ad- justments.

Complete all worksheets that apply to your situation. The worksheets will help you figure the maximum number of withholding allowances you are entitled to claim so that the amount of income tax withheld from your wages will match, as closely as possible, the amount of income tax you will owe at the end of the year.

Multiple jobs. If you have income from more than one job at the same time, complete only one set of Form W-4 worksheets. Then split your allowances between the Forms W-4 for each job. You cannot claim the same al- lowances with more than one employer at the same time. You can claim all your allowances with one employer and none with the other(s), or divide them any other way.

Married individuals. If both you and your spouse are employed and expect to file a joint return, figure your withholding allowances using your combined income, adjustments, deduc- tions, exemptions, and credits. Use only one set of worksheets. You can divide your total al- lowances any way, but you cannot claim an allowance that your spouse also claims.

If you and your spouse expect to file sepa- rate returns, figure your allowances using sepa- rate worksheets based on your own individual income, adjustments, deductions, exemptions, and credits.

Alternative method of figuring withholding allowances. You do not have to use the Form W-4 worksheets if you use a more accurate method of figuring the number of withholding allowances.

The method you use must be based on with- holding schedules, the tax rate schedules, and the 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet in chapter 2. It must take into account only the items of in- come, adjustments to income, deductions, and tax credits that are taken into account on Form W-4.

You can use the number of withholding al- lowances determined under an alternative Personal Allowances Worksheet

Use the Personal Allowances Worksheet on page 1 of Form W-4 to figure your withholding allowances based on all of the following that apply.

- Exemptions.
- Only one job.
- Head of household filing status.
- Child and dependent care credit.
- Child tax credit.

Exemptions (worksheet lines A, C, and D).

You can claim one withholding allowance for each exemption you expect to claim on your tax return.

Self. You can claim an allowance for your exemption on line A unless another person can claim an exemption for you on his or her tax return. If another person is entitled to claim an exemption for you, you cannot claim an allowance for your exemption even if the other person will not claim your exemption or the exemption will be reduced.

Worksheet 1-1. Personal Allowances Worksheet (Form W-4)

Reduction of Personal Allowances if AGI Above Phaseout Threshold

Spouse. You can claim an allowance for your spouse’s exemption on line C unless your spouse is claiming his or her own exemption or another person can claim an exemption for your spouse. Do not claim this allowance if you and your spouse expect to file separate returns.

Dependents. You can claim one allowance on line D for each exemption you will claim for a dependent on your tax return.

Reduction of personal allowances. For 2009, your deduction for personal exemptions on your tax return is reduced if your adjusted gross income (AGI) is more than the AGI shown below for your filing status.

- Single: $166,800
- Married filing jointly: $125,000
- Married filing separately: $125,100
- Head of household: $208,500

If you expect your AGI to be more than that amount, use Worksheet 1-1 to figure your reduced number of personal allowances on lines A, C, and D of the Personal Allowances Worksheet.

Only one job (worksheet line B). You can claim an additional withholding allowance if any of the following apply for 2009.

- You are single, and you have only one job at a time.
- You are married, you have only one job at a time, and your spouse does not work.
- Your wages from a second job or your spouse’s wages (or the total of both) are $1,500 or less.

If you qualify for this allowance, enter "1" on line B of the worksheet.

Head of household filing status (worksheet line E). Generally, you can file as head of household if you are unmarried and pay more than half the cost of keeping up a home that:

- Was the main home for all of 2009 of your parent whom you can claim as a dependent, or
- You lived in for more than half the year with your qualifying child or any other person you can claim as a dependent.

For more information, see Publication 501.

If you expect to file as head of household on your 2009 tax return, enter "1" on line E of the worksheet.

Child and dependent care credit (worksheet line F). Enter "1" on line F if you expect to claim a credit for at least $1,800 of qualifying child or dependent care expenses on your 2009 return.

Child tax credit (worksheet line G). If your income will be less than $61,000 ($90,000 if married), enter "2" on line G for each eligible child. Subtract "1" from that amount if you have more than four eligible children.

- If your total income will be between $61,000 and $84,000 ($90,000 and $119,000 if married), enter "1" on line G for each eligible child plus "1" additional if you have six or more eligible children.

An eligible child is any child:

- Who is your son, daughter, stepchild, foster child, brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of any of them (for example, your grandson),
- Who will be under age 17 at the end of 2009,
- Who will not provide over half of his or her own support for 2009,
- Who will live with you for more than half of 2009,
- Who is a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, or a resident of the United States,
- For whom you will claim a personal exemption,
- Who will not file a joint return, unless the return is filed only as a claim for refund, and
- Who is younger than you.

Also, if the parents of a child can claim the child as an eligible child, no one else can claim the child as an eligible child unless that person's AGI is higher than the highest AGI of any parent of the child.

For more information about the child tax credit, see the instructions in your Form 1040 or Form 1040A tax package.

Instead of using line G, you can choose to take the credit into account on line 5 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet, as explained under Tax credits on page 6.
Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet, as explained under Tax credits on page 8.

Total personal allowances (worksheet line H). Add lines A through G and enter the total on line H. If you do not use either of the worksheets on the back of Form W-4, enter the number from line H on line 5 of Form W-4.

Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet

Use the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet on page 2 of Form W-4 in the following situations.

- You plan to itemize your deductions, claim certain credits, or claim adjustments to the income on your 2009 tax return and you want to reduce your withholding.
- You are increasing your standard deduction by certain items allowed for 2009 (see Adjustments to income beginning on this page).
- You have changes to any of the above items and need to see if you should change your withholding.

Use the amount of each item you reasonably can expect to show on your return. However, do not use more than:

1. The amount shown for that item on your 2008 return (or your 2007 return if you have not yet filed your 2008 return), plus
2. Any additional amount related to a transaction or occurrence (such as payments already made, the signing of an agreement, or the sale of property) that you can prove has happened or will happen during 2008 or 2009.

Do not include any amount shown on your last tax return that has been disallowed by the IRS.

Example. On June 30, 2008, you bought your first home. On your 2008 tax return, you claimed itemized deductions of $6,600, the total mortgage interest and real estate tax you paid during the 6 months you owned your home. Based on your mortgage payment schedule and your real estate tax assessment, you reasonably can expect to claim deductions of $13,200 for those items on your 2009 return. You can use $13,200 to figure the number of your withholding allowances for itemized deductions.

Not itemizing deductions. If you expect to claim the standard deduction on your tax return, skip lines 1 and 2, and enter "0" on line 3 of the worksheet.

Itemized deductions (worksheet line 1). Enter your estimated total itemized deductions on line 1 of the worksheet.

Listed below are some of the deductions you can take into account when figuring additional withholding allowances for 2009. You normally claim these deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040.

1. Medical and dental expenses that are more than 7.5% of your 2009 AGI (defined under AGI on this page).
2. State and local income or sales taxes and property taxes.
3. Sales and excise taxes paid on the purchase of certain new cars, trucks, motorcycles, and motor homes.
4. Deductible home mortgage interest.
5. Investment interest up to net investment income.
6. Charitable contributions.
7. Casualty and theft losses that are more than $500 and 10% of your AGI. However, the 10%-of-AGI limitation does not apply to a casualty loss occurring in a federally declared disaster area. In addition, the $500 limit for each separate casualty and the 10%-of-AGI limitation do not apply to the following disasters.
   b. The storms, tornadoes, or flooding in the Midwestern disaster area. See Publication 4490-B, Information for Affected Taxpayers in the Midwestern Disaster Areas.
8. Fully deductible miscellaneous itemized deductions, including:
   a. Impairment-related work expenses of persons with disabilities.
   b. Federal estate tax on income in respect of a decedent.
   c. Repayment of more than $3,000 of income held under a claim of right that you included in income in an earlier year because at the time you thought you had an unrestricted right to it.
   d. Unrecovered investments in an annuity contract under which payments have ceased because of the annuitant's death.
   e. Gambling losses up to the amount of gambling winnings reported on your return, and
   f. Casualty and theft losses from income-producing property.
9. Other miscellaneous itemized deductions that are more than 2% of your AGI, including:
   a. Reimbursed employee business expenses, such as education expenses, work clothes and uniforms, union dues and fees, and the cost of work-related small tools and supplies.
   b. Safe deposit box rental.
   c. Tax counsel and assistance, and
   d. Certain fees paid to an IRA trustee or custodian.

AGI. For the purpose of estimating your itemized deductions, your AGI is your estimated total income for 2009 minus any estimated adjustments to income (discussed below) that you include on line 4 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.

Phaseout of itemized deductions. For 2009, your total itemized deductions may be phased out (reduced) if your AGI is more than $166,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately). If you expect your AGI to be more than that amount, use Worksheet 1-2 on page 8 to figure the amount to enter on line 1 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.

Adjustments to income (worksheet line 4). Enter your estimated total adjustments to income and any additions to your standard deduction on line 4 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.

You can take the following adjustments to income into account when figuring additional withholding allowances for 2009. These adjustments appear on page 1 of your Form 1040 or 1040A.

- Net losses from Schedules C, D, E, and F of Form 1040 and from Part II of Form 4797, line 18b.
- Net operating loss carryovers.
- Educator expenses.
- Certain business expenses of reservists, performing artists, and fee-based government officials.
- Health savings account or medical savings account deduction.
- Certain moving expenses.
- Deduction for one-half of self-employment tax.
- Deduction for contributions to self-employed SEP, and qualified SIMPLE plans.
- Self-employed health insurance deduction.
- Penalty on early withdrawal of savings.
- Alimony paid.
- IRA deduction.
- Student loan interest deduction.
- Tuition and fees deduction.
- Jury duty pay given to your employer.
- Reforestation amortization and expenses.
- Deductible expenses related to income reported on line 21 from the rental of personal property engaged in for profit.
- Repayment of certain supplemental unemployment benefits.
- Contributions to IRC 501(c)(18)(D) pension plans.
- Attorney fees and court costs for certain unlawful discrimination claims.
- Attorney fees and court costs for certain whistleblower awards.
- Estimated amount of decrease in tax attributable to income averaging using Schedule J (Form 1040).
You also can take into account the following special additions to the standard deduction:
- Certain state and local real estate taxes you paid.
- Net disaster loss attributable to a federally declared disaster.
- Sales and excise taxes you paid on the purchase of certain vehicles.

Tax credits (worksheet line 5). Although you can take most tax credits into account when figuring withholding allowances, the Personal Allowances Worksheet uses only the child and dependent care credit (line F) and the child tax credit (line G). But you can take these credits and others into account by adding an extra amount on line 5 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.

If you take the child and dependent care credit into account on line 5, do not use line F. If you take the child tax credit into account on line 5, do not use line G.

In addition to the child and dependent care credit and the child tax credit, you can take into account the following credits:
- Foreign tax credit, except any credit that applies to wages not subject to U.S. income tax withholding because they are subject to income tax withholding by a foreign country. See Publication 514, Foreign Tax Credit for Individuals.
- Credit for the elderly or the disabled. See Publication 524, Credit for the Elderly or the Disabled.
- Hope credit. See Publication 970, Tax Benefits for Education.
- Lifetime learning credit. See Publication 970.
- Retirement savings contributions credit (saver’s credit). See Publication 590.
- Mortgage interest credit. See Publication 530, Tax Information for Homeowners.
- Adoption credit. See the Instructions for Form 8839.
- Credit for prior year minimum tax (both refundable and nonrefundable) if you paid alternative minimum tax in an earlier year. See the Instructions for Form 8801.
- General business credit. See the Instruc- tions for Form 3800.
- Earned income credit, unless you re- quested advance payment of the credit. See Publication 596.
- Alternative motor vehicle credit (including the plug-in conversion credit). See Form 8910, Part III, and the instructions.
- Alternative fuel vehicle refueling property credit. See Form 8911, Part III, and the instructions.
- Plug-in electric drive motor vehicle credit. See Form 8834.
- Credit to holders of tax credit bonds. See Form 8912 and instructions.

- Health coverage tax credit. See Form 8885 and instructions.
- Residential energy credits. See Form 5695 and instructions.
- District of Columbia first-time homebuyer credit. See Form 8859 and instructions.
- First-time homebuyer credit. See Form 5405.
- Making work pay credit (including special credit for government retirees). See Worksheet 2-9 on page 43.
- Carryforward from prior years of a qualified electric vehicle passive activity credit. See Form 8834 and instructions.

Example. You are married and expect to file a joint return for 2009. Your combined estimated wages are $68,000. Your estimated tax credits include a child and dependent care credit of $860 and a mortgage interest credit of $1,700 (total credits = $2,660).

In Table 1-1a, the number corresponding to your combined estimated wages ($38,001 – $90,000) is 6.7. Multiply your total estimated tax credits of $2,660 by 6.7. Add the result, $17,822, to the amount you otherwise would show on line 5 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet and enter the total on line 5. Because you choose to account for your child and dependent care credit this way, do not make an entry on line F of the Personal Allowances Worksheet.

Nonwage income (worksheet line 6). Enter on line 6 your estimated total nonwage income (other than tax-exempt income). Nonwage income includes interest, dividends, net rental income, unemployment compensation, alimony, gambling winnings, prizes and awards, hobby income, capital gains, royalties, and partnership income.

If line 6 is more than line 5, you may not have enough income tax withheld from your wages. See Getting the Right Amount of Tax Withheld on page 9.

Net deductions and adjustments (worksheet line 8). If line 7 is less than $3,500, enter “0” on line 8. If line 7 is $3,500 or more, divide it by $3,500, drop any fraction, and enter the result on line 8.

Example. If line 7 is $5,200, $5,200 ÷ $3,500 = 1.49. Drop the fraction (.49) and enter “1” on line 8.

Worksheet 1-2. Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet (Form W-4)—Line I Phaseout of Itemized Deductions

1. Enter the estimated total of your itemized deductions .............. 1.
2. Enter the amount included in line 1 for medical and dental expenses, investment interest, casualty or theft losses, and gambling losses. Also include in the total amount included as a carryover of charitable contributions that you elected to treat as a qualified contribution for relief efforts in a Midwestern disaster area ........................................ 2.
3. Is the amount on line 2 less than the amount on line 1?
   □ No. Stop here. Your deduction is not limited. Enter the amount from line 1 above on line 1 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.
   □ Yes. Subtract line 2 from line 1 ........................................ 3.
4. Multiply line 3 by 80% (.80) ........................................ 4.
5. Enter your expected AGI ........................................ 5.
7. Is the amount on line 6 less than the amount on line 5?
   □ No. Stop here. Your deduction is not limited. Enter the amount from line 1 above on line 1 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet.
   □ Yes. Subtract line 6 from line 5 ........................................ 7.
8. Multiply line 7 by 5% (.05) ........................................ 8.
9. Enter the smaller of line 4 or line 8 ........................................ 9.
10. Divide line 9 by 1.5 ........................................ 10.
11. Subtract line 10 from line 9 ........................................ 11.
12. Subtract line 11 from line 1. Enter the result here and on line 1 of the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet ........................................ 12.
Illustrated Example—Form W-4

Joyce Green works in a bookstore and expects Form W-4 information for a substantial care expense of $2,400. They enter $1 on line A, $4 on line B, and 2 on line C. Because they are married, they divide line 4 by $3,500, and drop the remainder. The result, $3,800, is their total additional withholding needed for the year.

Getting the Right Amount of Tax Withheld

In most situations, the tax withheld from your pay will be close to the tax you figure on your return if you follow these two rules:

- You accurately complete all the Form W-4 worksheets that apply to you.
- You give your employer a new Form W-4 when changes occur.

But because the worksheets and withholding methods do not account for all possible situations, you may not be getting the right amount withheld. This is most likely to happen in the following situations:

- You are married and both you and your spouse work.
- You have more than one job at a time.
- You have nonwage income, such as interest, dividends, alimony, unemployment compensation, or self-employment income.
- You will owe additional amounts with your return, such as self-employment tax.
- Your withholding is based on obsolete Form W-4 information for a substantial part of the year.
- Your earnings are more than $130,000 if you are single or $180,000 if you are married.
- You work only part of the year.
- You change the number of your withholding allowances during the year.

Form W-4 (2009)

Purpose. Complete Form W-4 so that your employer can withhold the correct federal income tax from your pay. Consider completing a new Form W-4 each year and when your personal or financial situation changes.

Exemption from withholding. If you are exempt, complete only lines 1, 2, 3, 4, and 7 and sign the form to validate it. Your exemption for 2009 expires February 16, 2010. See Pub. 501, Exemptions, Standard Deduction, and Filing Information, for information.

Basic instructions. If you are not exempt, complete the Personal Allowances Worksheet below. The worksheets on page 2 further adjust your withholding allowances based on itemized deductions, certain credits, adjustments to income, or two-earner/multiple job situations.

Personal Allowances Worksheet (Keep for your records.)

| A | Enter “1” for yourself if no one else can claim you as a dependent |
| B | Enter “1” if:
| C | You are single and have only one job; or
| D | You are married, have only one job, and your spouse does not work; or
| E | You wages from a second job or your spouse’s wages (or the total of both) are $1,500 or less.
| F | Enter “1” for your spouse. But, you may choose to enter “0” if you are married and have either a working spouse or more than one job. (Entering “0” may help you avoid having too little tax withheld.)
| G | Enter number of dependents (other than your spouse or yourself) you claim on your tax return.
| H | Enter “1” if you will file as head of household on your tax return (see conditions under Head of household above)
| I | Enter “1” if you have at least $1,800 of child or dependent care expenses for which you plan to claim a credit.

Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet

Note. Use this worksheet only if you plan to itemize deductions, claim certain credits, adjustments to income, or an additional standard deduction.

1. Enter an estimate of your 2009 itemized deductions. These include qualifying home mortgage interest, charitable contributions, state and local taxes, medical expenses in excess of 7.5% of your income, and miscellaneous deductions. (For 2009, you may have to reduce your itemized deductions if your income is over $96,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately). See Worksheet 2 in Pub. 919 for details.)

2. Enter:
   - $8,350 if head of household
   - $5,700 if single or married filing separately

3. Subtract line 2 from line 1. If zero or less, enter "-0-".

4. Enter an estimate of your 2009 adjustments to income and any additional standard deduction. (Pub. 919.)

5. Add lines 3 and 4 and enter the total. (Include any amount for credits from Worksheet 8 in Pub. 919.)

6. Enter an estimate of your 2009 nonwage income (such as dividends or interest).

7. Subtract line 6 from line 5. If zero or less, enter "-0-".

8. Divide the amount on line 7 by $3,500 and enter the result here. Drop any fraction.

9. Enter the number from the Personal Allowances Worksheet, line H, page 1.

10. Add lines 8 and 9 and enter the total here. If you plan to use the Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet, also enter this total on line 1 below. Otherwise, stop here and enter this total on Form W-4, line 5, page 1.

Two-Earners/Multiple Jobs Worksheet

(See Two earners or multiple jobs on page 1.)

1. Enter the number from line H, page 1 (or from line 10 above if you used the Deductions and Adjustments Worksheet).

2. Find the number in Table 1 below that applies to the LOWEST paying job and enter it here. However, if you are married filing jointly and wages from the highest paying job are $50,000 or less, do not enter more than "3.9".

3. If line 1 is more than or equal to line 2, subtract line 2 from line 1. Enter the result here (if zero, enter "-0-"

4. Enter the number from line 2 of this worksheet.

5. Enter the number from line 1 of this worksheet.

6. Subtract line 5 from line 4.

7. Find the amount in Table 2 below that applies to the HIGHEST paying job and enter it here.

8. Multiply line 7 by line 6 and enter the result here. This is the additional annual withholding needed.

9. Divide line 8 by the number of pay periods remaining in 2009. For example, divide by 26 if you are paid every two weeks and you complete this form in December 2008. Enter the result here and on Form W-4, line 6, page 1. This is the additional amount to be withheld from each paycheck.

Privacy Act and Paperwork Reduction Act Notice. We ask for the information on this form to carry out the Internal Revenue laws of the United States. The Internal Revenue Code requires this information under sections 3402(f)(2)(A) and 6109 and their regulations. Failure to provide a properly completed form will result in your being treated as a single person who claims no withholding allowances; providing fraudulent information may also subject you to penalties. Routine uses of this information include giving it to the Department of Justice for civil and criminal litigation, to cities, states, the District of Columbia, and U.S. commonwealths and possessions for use in administering their tax laws, and using it in the National Directory of New Hires. We may also disclose this information to other countries under a tax treaty, to federal and state agencies to enforce federal nontax criminal laws, or to federal law enforcement and intelligence agencies to combat terrorism. You are not required to provide the information requested on this form as subject to the Paperwork Reduction Act unless the form displays a valid OMB control number. Books or records relating to a form or its instructions must be retained as long as their contents may become material in the administration of any Internal Revenue law. Generally, tax returns and return information are confidential, as required by Code section 6103.

The average time and expenses required to complete and file this form will vary depending on individual circumstances. For estimated averages, see the instructions for your income tax return.

If you have suggestions for making this form simpler, we would be happy to hear from you. See the instructions for your income tax return.
Part-Year Method

If you work only part of the year and your employer agrees to use the part-year withholding method, less tax will be withheld from each wage payment than would be withheld if you worked all year. To be eligible for the part-year method, you must meet both of the following requirements.

- You must use the calendar year (the 12 months from January 1 through December 31) as your tax year. You cannot use a fiscal year.
- You must not expect to be employed for more than 245 days during the year. To figure this limit, count all calendar days that you are employed (including weekends, vacations, and sick days) beginning with the first day you are on the job for pay and ending with your last day of work. If you are temporarily laid off for 30 days or less, count those days too. If you are laid off for more than 30 days, do not count those days. You will not meet this requirement if you begin working before May 1 and expect to work for the rest of the year.

How to apply for the part-year method. You must ask in writing that your employer use this method. The request must state all three of the following.

- The date of your last day of work for any prior employer during the current calendar year.
- That you do not expect to be employed more than 245 days during the current calendar year.
- That you use the calendar year as your tax year.

Cumulative Wage Method

If you change the number of your withholding allowances during the year, too much or too little tax may have been withheld for the period before you made the change. You may be able to compensate for this if your employer agrees to use the cumulative wage withholding method for the rest of the year. You must ask your employer in writing to use this method.

To be eligible, you must have been paid for the same kind of payroll period (weekly, bi-weekly, etc.) since the beginning of the year.

Publication 919

To make sure you are getting the right amount of tax withheld, get Publication 919. It will help you compare the total tax to be withheld during the year with the tax you can expect to figure on your return. It also will help you determine how much, if any, additional withholding is needed.

You CANNOT claim exemption from withholding.
Withholding, the IRS will issue a notice on the lock-in letter. After the lock-in letter takes effect, your employer must withhold tax on the basis of the withholding rate (marital status) and maximum number of withholding allowances specified in that letter.

If you later believe that you are entitled to claim exemption from withholding or more allowances than the IRS determined, you can complete a new Form W-4 and a written statement to support the claims made on the Form W-4 and send them directly to the IRS address shown on the lock-in letter. Your employer must continue to figure withholding on the basis of the number of allowances previously determined by the IRS until the IRS advises your employer otherwise.

At any time, either before or after the lock-in letter becomes effective, you may give your employer a new Form W-4 that does not claim complete exemption from withholding and results in more income tax withheld than specified in the lock-in letter. Your employer must then withhold tax based on this new Form W-4.

Additional information is available on the IRS website at www.irs.gov. Enter “withholding compliance questions” in the search box.

Claiming exemption from withholding.
If you claim exemption from withholding, your employer will not withhold federal income tax from your wages. The exemption applies only to income tax, not to social security or Medicare tax.

You can claim exemption from withholding for 2009 only if both of the following situations apply.

- For 2008 you had a right to a refund of all federal income tax withheld because you had no tax liability.
- For 2009 you expect a refund of all federal income tax withheld because you expect to have no tax liability.

Use Figure 1-B on page 12 to help you decide whether you can claim exemption from withholding. Do not use Figure 1-B if you:

- Are 65 or older.
- Are blind.
- Will itemize deductions on your 2009 return.
- Will claim an exemption for a dependent on your 2009 return, or
- Will claim any tax credits on your 2009 return.

These situations are discussed later.

Students. If you are a student, you are not automatically exempt. If you work only part time or during the summer, you may qualify for exemption from withholding.

Example 1. You are a high school student and expect to earn $2,500 from a summer job. You do not expect to have any other income during the year, and your parents will be able to claim an exemption for you on their tax return. You worked last summer and had $375 federal income tax withheld from your pay. The entire $375 was refunded when you filed your 2008 return. Using Figure 1-B, you find that you can claim exemption from withholding.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 1, except that you also have a savings account and expect to have $350 interest income during the year. Using Figure 1-B, you find that you cannot claim exemption from withholding because your unearned income will be more than $300 and your total income will be more than $950.

Itemizing deductions or claiming exemptions or credits.
If you had no tax liability for 2008, and you will:

- Itemize deductions,
- Claim an exemption for a dependent, or
- Claim a tax credit, use the 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet in Form 1040-ES (also see chapter 2), to figure your 2009 expected tax liability. You can claim exemption from withholding only if your total expected tax liability (line 13c of the worksheet) is zero.

Claiming exemption from withholding. To claim exemption, you must give your employer a Form W-4. Do not complete lines 5 and 6. Enter “Exempt” on line 7.

If you claim exemption, but later your situation changes so that you will have to pay income tax after all, you must file a new Form W-4 within 10 days after the change. If you claim exemption in 2009 but you expect to owe income tax for 2010, you must file a new Form W-4 by December 1, 2009.

Your claim of exempt status may be reviewed by the IRS. See IRS review of your withholding on this page.

An exemption is good for only one year.
You must give your employer a new Form W-4 by February 15 each year to continue your exemption.

Supplemental Wages
Supplemental wages include bonuses, commissions, overtime pay, vacation allowances, certain sick pay, and expense allowances under certain plans. The payer can figure withholding on supplemental wages using the same method used for your regular wages, your employer or other payer of supplemental wages can withhold income tax from these wages at a flat rate.
Expense allowances. Reimbursements or other expense allowances paid by your employer under a nonaccountable plan are treated as supplemental wages. A nonaccountable plan is a reimbursement arrangement that does not require you to account for, or prove, your business expenses to your employer or does not require you to return your employer’s payments that are more than your proven expenses.

Reimbursements or other expense allowances paid under an accountable plan that are more than your proven expenses are treated as paid under a nonaccountable plan if you do not return the excess payments within a reasonable period of time.

Accountable plan. To be an accountable plan, your employer’s reimbursement or allowance arrangement must include all three of the following rules.

- Your expenses must have a business connection. That is, you must have paid or incurred deductible expenses while performing services as an employee of your employer.
- You must adequately account to your employer for these expenses within a reasonable period of time.
- You must return any excess reimbursement or allowance within a reasonable period of time.

An excess reimbursement or allowance is any amount you are paid that is more than the business-related expenses that you adequately accounted for to your employer.

The definition of reasonable period of time depends on the facts and circumstances of your situation. However, regardless of those facts and circumstances, actions that take place within the times specified in the following list will be treated as taking place within a reasonable period of time.

- You receive an advance within 30 days of the time you have an expense.
- You adequately account for your expenses within 60 days after they were paid or incurred.
- You return any excess reimbursement within 120 days after the expense was paid or incurred.
- You are given a periodic statement (at least quarterly) that asks you to either return or adequately account for outstanding advances and you comply within 120 days of the statement.

Nonaccountable plan. Any plan that does not meet the definition of an accountable plan is considered a nonaccountable plan.

For more information about accountable and nonaccountable plans, see chapter 6 of Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment, Gift, and Car Expenses.

Penalties

You may have to pay a penalty of $500 if both of the following apply.

- You make statements or claim withholding allowances on your Form W-4 that reduce the amount of tax withheld.
- You have no reasonable basis for those statements or allowances at the time you prepare your Form W-4.

There is also a criminal penalty for willfully supplying false or fraudulent information on your Form W-4 or for willfully failing to supply information that would increase the amount withheld. The penalty upon conviction can be either a fine or imprisonment.

Worksheet 1-3. Exemption From Withholding for Persons Age 65 or Older or Blind

Use this worksheet only if, for 2008 you had a right to a refund of all federal income tax withheld because you had no tax liability.

Caution. This worksheet does not apply if you can be claimed as a dependent. See Worksheet 1-4 instead.

1. Check the boxes below that apply to you.
   - 65 or older
   - Blind
2. Check the boxes below that apply to your spouse if you will claim your spouse’s exemption on your 2009 return.
   - 65 or older

Tips

The tips you receive while working on your job are considered part of your pay. You must include your tips on your Form W-4 in an attempt to reduce or eliminate the proper withholding of taxes. A simple error or an honest mistake will not result in one of these penalties. For example, a person who has tried to figure the number of withholding allowances correctly, but claims seven when the proper number is six, will not be charged a Form W-4 penalty. However, see chapter 4 for information on the penalty for underpaying your tax.

Reporting tips to your employer. If you receive tips of $20 or more in a month while working for any one employer, you must report to your employer the total amount of tips you receive on the job during the month. The report is due by the 10th day of the following month. If you have more than one job, make a separate report to each employer. Report only the tips you received while working for that employer, and only if they total $20 or more for the month.

How employer figures amount to withhold. The tips you report to your employer are counted as part of your income for the month you report them. Your employer can figure your withholding in either of two ways.

- By withholding at the regular rate on the sum of your pay plus your reported tips.
- By withholding at the regular rate on your pay plus a percentage of your reported tips.

Not enough pay to cover taxes. If your regular pay is not enough for your employer to withhold all the tax (including income tax, Medicare tax, and social security or railroad retirement tax) due on your pay plus your tips, you can give your employer money to cover the shortage. If you do not give your employer money to cover the shortage, your employer first withholds as much Medicare tax and social security or railroad retirement tax as possible, up to the proper amount, and then withholds income tax up to the full amount of your pay. If not enough tax is withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax. When you file your return, you also may have to pay any Medicare tax and social security or railroad retirement tax your employer could not withhold.

Tips not reported to your employer. On your tax return, you must report all the tips you receive during the year, even tips you do not report to your employer. Make sure you are having enough tax withheld, or are paying enough estimated tax (see chapter 2), to cover all your tip income.

Allocated tips. If you work in a large establishment that serves food or beverages to customers, your employer may have to report an allocated amount of tips on your Form W-2.

Your employer should not withhold income tax, Medicare tax, and social security or railroad retirement tax on the allocated amount. Withholding is based only on your pay plus your reported tips. Your employer should refund to you any incorrectly withheld tax.

More information. For more information on the reporting and withholding rules for tip income and on tip allocation, get Publication 531, Reporting Tip Income.

Taxable Fringe Benefits

The value of certain noncash fringe benefits you receive from your employer is considered part of your pay. Your employer generally must withhold income tax on these benefits from your regular pay.

Although the value of your personal use of an employer-provided car, truck, or other highway motor vehicle is taxable, your employer can choose to not withhold income tax on that amount. Your employer must notify you if this choice is made.

When benefits are considered paid. Your employer can choose to treat a fringe benefit as paid by the pay period, by the quarter, or on some other basis as long as the benefit is considered paid at least once a year. Your employer can treat the benefit as being paid on one or more dates during the year, even if you get the entire benefit at one time.

Special rule. Your employer can choose to treat a benefit provided during November or December as paid in the next year. Your employer must notify you if this rule is used.

Example. Your employer considers the value of benefits paid from November 1, 2007, through October 31, 2008, as paid to you in 2008. To determine the total value of benefits paid to you in 2009, your employer will add the value of any benefits paid in November and December of 2008 to the value of any benefits paid in January through October of 2009.

Exceptions. Your employer cannot choose when to withhold tax on the transfer of either real property or personal property of a kind normally held for investment (such as stock). Your employer must withhold tax on these benefits at the time of the transfer.

How withholding is figured. Your employer can either add the value of a fringe benefit to your regular pay and figure income tax withholding on the total or withhold a flat percentage of the benefit’s value.

If the benefit’s actual value cannot be determined when it is paid or treated as paid, your employer can use a reasonable estimate. Your employer must determine the actual value of the benefit by January 31 of the next year. If the actual value is more than the estimate, your employer must pay the IRS any additional withholding tax required. Your employer has until April 1 of that next year to recover from you the additional income tax paid to the IRS for you.

How your employer reports your benefits. Your employer must report on Form W-2 the total of the taxable fringe benefits paid or treated as paid to you during the year and the tax withheld for the benefits. These amounts can be shown either on the Form W-2 for your regular pay or on a separate Form W-2. If your employer provided you with a car, truck, or other motor vehicle and chose to treat all of your use of it as personal, its value must be either separately shown on Form W-2 or reported to you on a separate statement.

More information. For information on fringe benefits, see Fringe Benefits in Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income.

Sick Pay

Sick pay is a payment to you to replace your regular wages while you are temporarily absent from work due to sickness or personal injury. To qualify as sick pay, it must be paid under a plan in which your employer is a party.

If you receive sick pay from your employer or an agent of your employer, income tax must be withheld. An agent who does not pay regular wages to you may choose to withhold income tax at a flat rate.

However, if you receive sick pay from a third party who is not acting as an agent of your employer, income tax will be withheld only if you choose to have it withheld. See Form W-4S below.

If you receive payments under a plan in which your employer does not participate (such as an accident or health plan where you paid all the premiums), the payments are not sick pay and usually are not taxable.

Union agreements. If you receive sick pay under a collective bargaining agreement between your union and your employer, the agreement may determine the amount of income tax withholding. See your union representative or your employer for more information.

Form W-4S. If you choose to have income tax withheld from sick pay paid by a third party, such as an insurance company, you must fill out Form W-4S. Instructions contain a worksheet you can use to figure the amount you want withheld. They also explain restrictions that may apply.

Give the completed form to the payer of your sick pay. The payer must withhold according to your directions on the form.

Form W-4S remains in effect until you change or cancel it, or stop receiving payments. You can change your withholding by giving a new Form W-4S or a written notice to the payer of your sick pay.
Estimated tax. If you do not request withholding on Form W-4S, or if you do not have enough tax withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax. If you do not pay enough tax, either through estimated tax or withholding, or a combination of both, you may have to pay a penalty. See chapters 2 and 4.

Pensions and Annuities

Income tax usually will be withheld from your pension or annuity distributions unless you choose not to have it withheld. This rule applies to distributions from:

• A traditional individual retirement arrangement (IRA);
• A life insurance company under an endowment, annuity, or life insurance contract;
• A pension, annuity, or profit-sharing plan;
• A stock bonus plan; and
• Any other plan that defers the time you receive compensation.

The amount withheld depends on whether you receive payments spread out over more than 1 year (periodic payments), within 1 year (nonperiodic payments), or as an eligible rollover distribution (ERD). You cannot choose not to have income tax withheld from an ERD. ERDs are discussed on this page under Eligible Rollover Distributions.

Nontaxable part. The part of your pension or annuity that is a return of your investment in your retirement plan (the amount you paid into the plan or its cost to you) is not taxable. Income tax will not be withheld from the part of your pension or annuity that is not taxable. The tax withheld will be figured on, and cannot be more than, the taxable part.

For information about figuring the part of your pension or annuity that is not taxable, see Publication 575.

Periodic Payments

Withholding from periodic payments of a pension or annuity is figured in the same way as withholding from salaries and wages. To tell the payer of your pension or annuity how much you want withheld, fill out Form W-4P or a similar form provided by the payer. Follow the rules discussed under Salaries and Wages, starting on page 4, to fill out your Form W-4P.

Note. Use Form W-4, not Form W-4P, if you receive any of the following.

• Military retirement pay.
• Payments from certain nonqualified deferred compensation plans. These are employer plans that pay part of your compensation at a later time, but are not tax-qualified deferred compensation plans. See Nonqualified Deferred Compensation and Section 457 Plans in Publication 957, Reporting Back Pay and Special Wage Payments to the Social Security Administration.
• Payments from a state or local deferred compensation plan (section 457 plan).

Withholding rules. The withholding rules for pensions and annuities differ from those for salaries and wages in the following ways:

• If you do not fill out a withholding certificate, tax will be withheld as if you were single or married and claiming three withholding allowances. This means that tax will be withheld as if you were married and claimed three withholding allowances. This means that tax will be withheld as if you were single and were claiming no withholding allowances. This means that tax will be withheld if your pension or annuity is at least $1,600 a month (or $19,200 a year).
• You can choose not to have tax withheld, regardless of how much tax you owed last year or expect to owe this year. You do not have to qualify for exemption. See Choosing Not To Have Income Tax Withheld on this page.
• If you do not give the payer your social security number (in the required manner) or the IRS notifies the payer before any payment or distribution is made that you gave an incorrect social security number, estimated tax will be withheld as if you were single and were claiming no withholding allowances. This means that tax will be withheld if your pension or annuity is at least $230 a month (or $2,760 a year).

Effective date of withholding certificate. If you give your withholding certificate (Form W-4P or a similar form) to the payer on or before the date your payments start, it will be put into effect by the first payment made more than 30 days after you submit the certificate.

If you give the payer your certificate after your payments start, it will be put into effect with the first payment which is at least 30 days after you submit it. However, the payer can elect to put it into effect earlier.

Nonperiodic Payments

Tax will be withheld at a flat 10% rate on any nonperiodic payments you receive, unless you tell the payer not to withhold.

Because withholding on nonperiodic payments does not depend on withholding allowances or whether you are married or single, you cannot use Form W-4P to tell the payer how much to withhold. But you can use Form W-4P to specify that an additional amount be withheld. You also can use Form W-4P to choose not to have tax withheld or to revoke a choice not to have tax withheld.

You may need to use Form W-4P to ask for additional withholding. If you do not have enough tax withheld, you may need to pay estimated tax, as explained in chapter 2.

Eligible Rollover Distributions

A distribution you receive that is eligible to be rolled over tax free into a qualified retirement or annuity plan is called an eligible rollover distribution (ERD). This is the taxable part of any distribution from a qualified pension plan or tax-sheltered annuity that is not any of the following:

1. A required minimum distribution.
2. One of a series of substantially equal periodic pension or annuity payments made over:
   a. Your life (or your life expectancy) or the joint lives of you and your beneficiary (or your life expectancies), or
   b. A specified period of 10 or more years.
3. A hardship distribution.

The payer of a distribution must withhold at a flat 20% rate on any part of an ERD that is distributed rather than rolled over directly to another qualified plan. You cannot elect to not have withholding on these distributions. No withholding is required on any part rolled over directly to another plan.

Choosing Not To Have Income Tax Withheld

For payments other than ERDs, you can choose not to have income tax withheld. The payer will tell you how to make this choice. If you use Form W-4P, check the box on line 11 to make this choice. This choice will remain in effect until you decide you want withholding.

The payer must withhold if either of the following applies:

• You do not give the payer your social security number (in the required manner), or
• The IRS notifies the payer, before any payment or distribution is made, that you gave it an incorrect social security number.

If you do not have any income tax withheld from your pension or annuity, or if you do not have enough withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax. See chapter 2.

If you do not pay enough tax, either through estimated tax or withholding, or a combination of both, you may have to pay a penalty. See chapter 4.

Payments delivered outside the United States. You generally must have tax withheld from pension or annuity benefits delivered outside the United States. However, if you are a U.S. citizen or resident alien, you can choose not to have tax withheld if you give the payer the benefits a home address in the United States or in a U.S. possession. The payer must withhold tax if you provide a U.S. address for a nominee, trustee, or agent to whom the benefits are to be delivered, but do not provide your own home address in the United States or in a U.S. possession.

Notice required of payer. The payer of your pension or annuity must send you a notice telling you about your right to choose not to have tax withheld.

Generally, the payer will not send a notice to you if it is reasonable to believe that the entire amount you will be paid is not taxable.

Revoking a choice not to have tax withheld. The payer of your pension or annuity will tell you how to revoke your choice not to have income Tax withheld from periodic or nonperiodic payments. If you use Form W-4P to revoke the choice, enter “Revoked” by the checkbox on line 1 of the form. This will instruct the payer to withhold as if you were married and claiming three allowances. However, you can tell the payer exactly how much to withhold by completing line 2 of the form.

Gambling Winnings

Income tax is withheld at a flat 25% rate from certain kinds of gambling winnings. Gambling winnings of more than $5,000 from the following sources are subject to income tax withholding:

- Any sweepstakes; wagering pool, including payments made to winners of poker tournaments; or lottery.
- Any other wager if the proceeds are at least 300 times the amount of the bet.

It does not matter whether your winnings are paid in cash, in property, or as an annuity. Winnings not paid in cash are taken into account at their fair market value.

Exception. Gambling winnings from bingo, keno, and slot machines generally are not subject to income tax withholding. However, you may need to provide the payer with a social security number to avoid withholding. See Backup withholding on gambling winnings on this page. If you receive gambling winnings not subject to withholding, you may need to pay estimated tax. See chapter 2.

If you do not pay enough tax, either through withholding or estimated tax, or a combination of both, you may have to pay a penalty. See chapter 4.

Form W-2G. If a payer withholds income tax from your gambling winnings, you should receive a Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings, showing the amount you won and the amount withheld.

Report the tax withheld on your 2009 Form 1040, along with all other federal income tax withheld, as shown on Forms W-2 and 1099.

Information to give payer. If the payer asks, you must give the payer all the following information:

- Your name, address, and social security number.
- Whether you made identical wagers (explained below).
- Whether someone else is entitled to any part of the winnings subject to withholding. If so, you must complete Form 5754, Statement by Person(s) Receiving Gambling Winnings, and return it to the payer. The payer will use it to prepare a Form W-2G for each of the winners.

Identical wagers. You may have to give the payer a statement of the amount of your winnings, if any, from identical wagers. If this statement is required, the payer will ask you for it. You provide this statement by signing Form W-2G or, if required, Form 5754.

Identical wagers include two bets placed in a pari-mutuel pool or on one horse to win a particular race. However, the bets are not identical if one bet is “to win” and one bet is “to place.” In addition, they are not identical if the bets were placed in different pari-mutuel pools. For example, a bet in a pool conducted by the racetrack and a bet in a separate pool conducted by an offtrack betting establishment in which the bets are not pooled with those placed at the track are not identical wagers.

Backup withholding on gambling winnings. If you have any kind of gambling winnings and do not give the payer your social security number, the payer may have to withhold income tax at a flat 28% rate. This rule also applies to winnings of at least $1,200 from bingo or slot machines or $1,500 from keno, and to certain other gambling winnings of at least $600.

Unemployment Compensation

You can choose to have income tax withheld from unemployment compensation. To make this choice, you will have to fill out Form W-4V (or a similar form provided by the payer) and give it to the payer.

The first $2,400 of unemployment compensation is excluded from income. All other unemployment compensation is taxable. So, if you do not have income tax withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax. See chapter 2.

If you do not pay enough tax, either through withholding or estimated tax, or a combination of both, you may have to pay a penalty. See chapter 4.

Form 1099-G. If you receive $10 or more in unemployment compensation, you will receive a Form 1099-G, Certain Government Payments. Box 1 will show the amount of unemployment compensation you got for the year. Box 4 will show the amount of federal income tax withheld, if any.

Federal Payments

You can choose to have income tax withheld from certain federal payments you receive. These payments are:

1. Social security benefits.
2. Tier 1 railroad retirement benefits.
3. Commodity credit loans you choose to include in your gross income, and
4. Payments under the Agricultural Act of 1949 (7 U.S.C. 1421 et seq.), as amended, or title II of the Disaster Assistance Act of 1988 that are treated as insurance proceeds and that you received because:
   a. Your crops were destroyed or damaged by drought, flood, or any other natural disaster, or
   b. You were unable to plant crops because of a natural disaster described in (a).

To make this choice, fill out Form W-4V (or a similar form provided by the payer) and give it to the payer.

If you do not choose to have income tax withheld, you may have to pay estimated tax. See chapter 2.

If you do not pay enough tax, either through withholding or estimated tax, or a combination of both, you may have to pay a penalty. See chapter 4.

Backup Withholding

Banks or other businesses that pay you certain kinds of income must file an information return (Form 1099) with the IRS. The information return shows how much you were paid during the year. It also includes your name and taxpayer identification number (TIN). TINs are explained later in this discussion.

These payments generally are not subject to withholding. However, “backup” withholding is required in certain situations.

Payments subject to backup withholding. Backup withholding can apply to most kinds of payments that are reported on Form 1099. These include:

- Interest payments (Form 1099-INT).
- Dividends (Form 1099-DIV).
- Patronage dividends, but only if at least half the payment is in money (Form 1099-PATR).
- Rents, profits, or other gains (Form 1099-MISC).
- Commissions, fees, or other payments for work you do as an independent contractor (Form 1099-MISC), and
- Royalty payments (Form 1099-MISC).

Backup withholding also may apply to gambling winnings. See Backup withholding on gambling winnings under Gambling Winnings on this page.

Payments not subject to backup withholding. Backup withholding does not apply to payments reported on Form 1099-MISC (other than payments by fishing boat operators and royalty payments) unless at least one of the following three situations applies:

- The amount you receive from any one payer is $600 or more.
- The payer had to give you a Form 1099 last year.
The payer made payments to you last year that were subject to backup withholding.

Form 1099 and backup withholding are generally not required for a payment of less than $10.

Withholding rules. When you open a new account, make an investment, or begin to receive payments reported on Form 1099, the bank or other business will give you Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification, or a similar form. You must enter your TIN on the form and, if your account or investment will earn interest or dividends, you also must certify (under penalties of perjury) that your TIN is correct and that you are not subject to backup withholding.

The payer must withhold at a flat 28% rate in the following situations:

- You do not give the payer your TIN in the required manner.
- The IRS notifies the payer that the TIN you gave is incorrect.
- You are required, but fail, to certify that you are not subject to backup withholding.
- The IRS notifies the payer to start withholding on interest or dividends because you have underreported interest or dividends on your income tax return. The IRS will do this only after it has mailed you four notices over at least a 210-day period.

Taxpayer identification number. Your TIN is one of the following three numbers:

- A social security number (SSN).
- An employer identification number (EIN).
- An IRS individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). Aliens who do not have an SSN and are not eligible to get one should get an ITIN. Use Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, to apply for an ITIN.

An ITIN is for tax use only. It does not entitle you to social security benefits or change your employment or immigration status under U.S. law. For more information on ITINs, get Publication 1915, Understanding Your IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number.

How to prevent or stop backup withholding. If you have been notified by a payer that the TIN you gave is incorrect, you usually can prevent backup withholding from starting or stop backup withholding once it has begun by giving the payer your correct name and TIN. You must certify that the TIN you give is correct.

However, the payer will provide additional instructions if the TIN you gave needs to be validated by the Social Security Administration or by the IRS. This may happen if both of the following conditions exist.

1. The IRS notifies the payer twice within 3 calendar years that a TIN you gave for the same account is incorrect.
2. The incorrect TIN is still being used on the account when the payer receives the second notice.

Underreported interest or dividends. If you have been notified that you underreported interest or dividends, you must request and receive a determination from the IRS to prevent backup withholding from starting or to stop backup withholding once it has begun. Your request must show that at least one of the following situations applies.

- No underreporting occurred.
- You have a bona fide dispute with the IRS about whether an underreporting occurred.
- Backup withholding will cause or is causing an undue hardship and it is unlikely that you will underreport interest and dividends in the future.
- You have corrected the underreporting by filing an original return if you did not previously file one, or by filing an amended return, and by paying all taxes, penalties, and interest due for any underreported interest or dividend payments.

If the IRS determines that backup withholding should stop, it will provide you with certification and will notify the payers who were sent notices earlier.

Penalties. There are civil and criminal penalties for giving false information to avoid backup withholding. The civil penalty is $500. The criminal penalty, upon conviction, is a fine of up to $1,000 or imprisonment of up to one year, or both.
Who Does Not Have To Pay Estimated Tax

If you receive salaries and wages, you can avoid having to pay estimated tax by asking your employer to take more tax out of your earnings. To do this, file a new Form W-4 with your employer. See chapter 1.

Estimated tax not required. You do not have to pay estimated tax for 2009 if you meet all three of the following conditions:
- You had no tax liability for 2008.
- You were a U.S. citizen or resident alien for the whole year.
- Your 2008 tax year covered a 12-month period.

Example 1. The facts are the same as in Example 1, except that Jane expects only $8,500 tax to be withheld in 2009. Because that is less than $10,476, her answer to the chart’s second question is NO. Jane’s answer to the chart’s third question is YES; she expects to owe at least $1,000 for 2009 and must pay estimated tax for 2009.

Example 2. The facts are the same as in Example 2, except that the tax shown on Jane’s 2008 return was $8,000. Because she expects to have more than $8,000 withheld in 2009 ($8,500), her answer to the chart’s third question is YES, Jane does not need to pay estimated tax for 2009.

Married Taxpayers

If you qualify to make joint estimated tax payments, apply the rules discussed here to your joint estimated income. You and your spouse can qualify to make joint estimated tax payments even if you are not living together. However, you and your spouse cannot make joint estimated tax payments if:
- You are legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance,
- You and your spouse have different tax years, or
- Either spouse is a nonresident alien (unless that spouse ele. is treated as a resident alien). See Choosing Resident Alien Status in Publication 519.

If you do not qualify to make joint estimated tax payments, apply these rules to your separate estimated income. Making joint or separate estimated tax payments will not affect your choice of filing a joint tax return or separate returns for 2009.

2008 separate returns and 2009 joint return. If you plan to file a joint return with your spouse for 2009, but you filed separate returns for 2008, your 2008 tax is the total of the tax shown on your separate returns. You filed a separate return if you filed as single, head of household, or married filing separately.

2008 joint return and 2009 separate returns. If you plan to file a separate return for 2009, but you filed a joint return for 2008, you must file a separate return for 2008 in the share of the tax on the joint return. You file a separate return if you filed as single, head of household, or married filing separately.

To figure your share of the tax on a joint return, first figure the tax both you and your spouse would have paid had you filed separate returns for 2008 using the same filing status as... for 2009. Then multiply the tax on the joint return by the following fraction.

The tax you would have paid if you had filed a separate return

The total tax you and your spouse would have paid if you had filed separate returns

Example. Joe and Heather filed a joint return for 2008 showing taxable income of $48,500 and a tax of $6,476. Of the $48,500 taxable income, $40,100 was Joe’s and the rest was Heather’s. For 2009, they plan to file married filing separately. Joe figures his share of the tax on the 2008 joint return as follows:

Tax on $40,100 based on separate return ... $6,375
Tax on $8,400 based on separate return ... $863
Total ... $7,238
Joe’s share of tax on joint return ... ($6,476 × 88%) ... $5,699

Special Rules

There are special rules for eligible small businesses, farmers, fishermen, and certain higher income taxpayers.

Eligible Small Businesses

If you have an eligible small business, substitute 90% for 100% in (2b) under General Rule on the previous page.

You have an eligible small business if you satisfy the following.

- You certify that more than 50% of your gross income in 2008 was income from a small business.
- The average number of employees for the 2008 calendar year was less than 500.
- Your AGI for 2008 was less than $500,000 ($250,000 if you are married filing separate returns in 2009).

Farmers and Fishermen

If at least two-thirds of your gross income for 2008 or 2009 is from farming or fishing, substitute 66 2/3% for 90% in (2a) under General Rule on the previous page.

Gross income. Your gross income is all income you receive in the form of money, goods, property, and services that is not exempt from tax. To determine whether two-thirds of your gross income for 2008 was from farming or fishing, use as your gross income the total of the income (not loss) amounts.

Joint returns. On a joint return, you must add your spouse’s gross income to your gross income to determine if at least two-thirds of your total gross income is from farming or fishing.

Gross income from farming. This is income from cultivating the soil or raising agricultural commodities. It includes the following amounts.

- Income from operating a stock, dairy, poultry, bee, fruit, or truck farm.
- Income from a plantation, ranch, nursery, range, orchard, or oyster bed.
- Crop shares for the use of your land.
- Gains from sales of draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting livestock.

For 2008, gross income from farming is the total of the following amounts.
- Schedule F (Form 1040), Profit or Loss From Farming, line 11.
- Form 4835, Farm Rental Income and Expenses, line 7.
- Your share of the gross farming income from a partnership, S corporation, estate or trust, from: Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), Box 14, code B; Schedule K-1 (Form 1120S), Box 17, code T; or Schedule K-1 (Form 1041), Box 14, code F.
- Your gains from sales of draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting livestock shown on Form 4797, Sales of Business Property.

Wages you receive as a farm employee and wages you receive from a farm corporation are not gross income from farming.

Gross income from fishing. This is income from catching, taking, harvesting, cultivating, or farming any kind of fish, shellfish (for example, clams and mussels), crustaceans (for example, lobsters, crabs, and shrimp), sponges, sea-weeds, or other aquatic forms of animal and vegetable life.

Gross income from fishing includes the following amounts.
- Schedule C (Form 1040), Profit or Loss From Business, line 7.

* 110% if less than two-thirds of your gross income for 2008 and 2009 is from farming or fishing and your 2008 adjusted gross income was more than $150,000 ($75,000 if your filing status for 2009 is married filing a separate return); 90% if you certify that more than 50% of your gross income in 2008 was income from your small business that had an average of fewer than 500 employees in 2008, and your 2008 AGI was less than $500,000 ($250,00 if married filing separate returns in 2009).
How To Figure Estimated Tax

To figure your estimated tax, you must figure your expected AGI, taxable income, taxes, deductions, and credits for the year.

When figuring your 2009 estimated tax, it may be helpful to use your income, deductions, and credits for 2008 as a starting point. Use your 2008 federal tax return as a guide. You can use Form 1040-ES to figure your estimated tax.

Expected AGI—Line 1

Your expected AGI for 2009 (line 1) is your expected total income minus your expected adjustments to income.

Total income. Include in your total income all adjustments you expect to take on your 2009 tax return. If you are using your 2008 return as a guide and filed Form 1040, your adjustments for 2008 were on lines 23–35, plus any write-in adjustments on line 36. If you filed Form 1040A, your 2008 adjustments were on lines 16–19.

Adjustments to income. Be sure to subtract from your expected total income all of the adjustments you expect to take on your 2009 tax return. If you are using your 2008 return as a guide and filed Form 1040, your adjustments for 2008 were on lines 23–35, plus any write-in adjustments on line 36. If you filed Form 1040A, your 2008 adjustments were on lines 16–19.

Self-employed. If you expect to have income from self-employment, use Worksheet 2-2 on page 37 to figure your expected self-employment tax and your deduction for one-half of your self-employment tax. Include the amount from line 11 of Worksheet 2-2 in your expected adjustments to income. If you file a joint return and both you and your spouse have net earnings from self-employment, each of you must complete a separate worksheet.

Expected Taxable Income—

Lines 2–5

Reduce your expected AGI for 2009 (line 1) by either your expected itemized deductions or your standard deduction and by your exemptions (lines 2 through 5).

Itemized deductions—line 2. If you expect to claim itemized deductions on your 2009 tax return, enter the estimated amount on line 2.

Itemized deductions are the deductions that can be claimed on Schedule A of Form 1040.

Phaseout of itemized deductions.

For 2009, your total itemized deductions may be reduced if your AGI is more than $166,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately). If you expect your AGI to be more than that amount, use Worksheet 2-4 on page 39 to figure the amount to enter on line 2.

Standard deduction—line 2. If you expect to claim the standard deduction on your 2009 tax return, enter the amount on line 2. Use Worksheet 2-3 on page 38 to figure your standard deduction.

No standard deduction. The standard de-fraction for some individuals is zero. Your standard deduction will be zero if you:

• File a separate return and your spouse itemizes deductions.
• Are a dual-status alien, or
• File a return for a period of less than 12 months because you change your acounting period.

Exemptions—line 4. After you have subtracted either your expected itemized deductions or your standard deduction from your expected AGI, reduce the amount remaining by $3,650 for each exemption you expect to take on your 2009 tax return. If another person (such as your parent) can claim an exemption for you on his or her tax return, you cannot claim your own personal exemption. This is true even if the other person will not claim your exemption or the exemption will be reduced or eliminated under the phaseout rule.

Reduction of personal exemption amount.

For 2009, your deduction for personal exemptions is reduced if your AGI is larger than the AGI shown below for your filing status.

If you expect your AGI to be more than that amount, use Worksheet 2-5 on page 39 to figure the amount to enter on line 4.

Caution:

- If line 1 above is over $166,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately), your deduction may be reduced. See Pub. 505 for details.
- If you do not plan to itemize deductions, enter your standard deduction from page 1 or Pub. 505, Worksheet 2-3.

Alternative minimum tax from Form 6251:

- You may be able to claim an additional amount from any source for providing the housing excludes, see Publication 4492-B.
- You did not receive any rent or other amount of $2,000 in 2008.

Additional requirements for claiming the exemption amount:

- You did not claim the additional exemption amount in 2008 for the same individual.
- You did not claim the maximum exemption amount of $2,000 in 2008.

Use Worksheet 2-6 on page 40 to figure the additional exemption amount. For more information, see Publication 4492-B.
Expected Taxes and Credits—Lines 6—13c

After you have figured your expected taxable income (line 5), follow the steps below to figure your expected taxes, credits, and total tax for 2009. Most people will have entries for only a few of these steps. However, you should check every step to be sure you do not overlook anything.

Step 1. Figure your expected income tax (line 6). Generally, you will use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules, found on page 40 or in the instructions to Form 1040-ES, to figure your expected income tax. However, see below for situations where you must use a different method to compute your estimated tax.

Tax on child’s investment income. You must use a special method to figure tax on the income of the following children who have more than $1,900 of investment income.

1. Children under age 18 at the end of 2009.
2. The following children if their earned income is not more than half their support.
   b. Children who are full-time students over age 18 and under age 24 at the end of 2009.

See Publication 929, Tax Rules for Children and Dependents. Although the ages and dollar amounts in the publication will be different in the 2009 revision, this reference will give you basic information for figuring the tax.

Tax on capital gain. The regular income tax rates for individuals do not apply to a net capital gain. Instead, your net capital gain is taxed at a lower maximum rate.

The term “net capital gain” means the amount by which your net long-term capital gain for the year is more than your net short-term capital loss.

Tax on qualified dividends. Generally, the maximum tax rate for qualified dividends is 15% (0% for people whose other income is taxed at the 10% or 15% rate).

Tax on capital gain and qualified dividends. If the amount on line 1 includes a net capital gain or qualified dividends, use Worksheet 2-7 on page 41 to figure your tax.

Tax if excluding foreign earned income or excluding or deducting foreign housing. If you expect to claim the foreign earned income exclusion or the housing exclusion or deduction on Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ, use Worksheet 2-8 on page 42 to figure your estimated tax.

Step 2. Total your expected taxes (line 8). Include on line 8 the sum of:

1. Your tax on line 6;
2. Your expected alternative minimum tax (AMT) from Form 6251 (or included on Form 1040A, line 28) on line 7;
3. Your expected additional taxes from Form 8814, Parents’ Election To Report Child’s Interest and Dividends, and Form 4972, Tax on Lump-Sum Distributions (line 44, boxes a and b, of the 2008 Form 1040);
4. Any recapture of education credits.

Step 3. Subtract your expected credits (line 9). If you are using your 2008 return as a guide and filed Form 1040, your total credits for 2008 were shown on line 55. If you filed Form 1040A, your total credits for 2008 were on line 34.

If your credits on line 9 are more than your taxes on line 8, enter “-0-” on line 10 and go to Step 4.

Step 4. Add your expected self-employment tax (line 11). You already should have figured your self-employment tax (see Self-employed under Expected AGI—Line 1 on page 21).

Step 5. Add your expected other taxes (line 12). Other taxes include:

1. Additional tax on early distributions from:
   a. An IRA or other qualified retirement plan;
   b. A tax-sheltered annuity, or
2. Advance earned income credit payments;
3. Household employment taxes (before subtracting advance EIC payments made to your employee(s)) if:
   a. You will have federal income tax withheld from wages, pensions, annuities, gambling winnings, or other income, or
   b. You would be required to make estimated tax payments even if you did not include household employment taxes when figuring your estimated tax; and
4. Amounts written in on Form 1040 on the line for “total tax” (line 61 on the 2008 Form 1040). But, do not include tax on recapture of a federal mortgage subsidy or tax on golden parachute payments, look-back interest due under section 167(g) or 466(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, excise tax on insider stock compensation from an expatriated corporation, or uncompensated employee social security, Medicare, or RRTA tax on tips or group-term life insurance.
5. Repayment of the first-time homebuyer credit if the home will cease to be your main home in 2009. See Form 5405 for exceptions.

If you filed a 2008 Form 1040A, your only other tax was any advance earned income credit payments on line 36.

Step 6. Subtract your refundable credits (line 13b). These include your expected earned income credit, additional child tax credit, Form 4136 fuel tax credit, Form 5405 first-time homebuyer credit, Form 8801 (line 30) refundable credit for prior year minimum tax, Form 8885 health coverage tax credit, Making Work Pay credit (see Worksheet 2-9 on page 43), and Form 8863 refundable Hope education credit. These are shown on the 2008 Form 1040, lines 64a, 66, 68b, 68c, 68d, and 69, if they were 2008 refundable credits.

To figure your expected fuel tax credit, do not include fuel tax for the first three quarters of the year that you expect to have refunded to you.

Required Annual Payment—Line 14c

On lines 14a through 14c, figure the total amount you must pay for 2009, through withholding and estimated tax payments, to avoid paying a penalty.

General rule. The total amount you must pay is the smaller of:
1. 90% of your total expected tax for 2009, or
2. 100% of the total tax shown on your 2008 return. Your 2008 tax return must cover all 12 months.

Special rules. There are special rules for certain small businesses and higher income taxpayers and for farmers and fishermen.

Small businesses. If more than 50% of your gross income from 2008 was from a small business and your AGI in 2008 was less than $500,000 ($250,000 if you are married filing separately), substitute 110% for 100% in (2) above. Your business is a small business if it had an average of fewer than 500 employees in 2008.

Higher income taxpayers. If your AGI for 2008 was more than $150,000 ($75,000 if your filing status for 2009 is married filing separately), substitute 110% for 100% in (2) above. This rule does not apply to farmers and fishermen.

For 2008, AGI is the amount shown on Form 1040, line 37; Form 1040A, line 21, and Form 1040EZ, line 4.

Example. Jeremy Martin’s total tax on his 2008 return was $42,581, and his expected tax for 2009 is $71,253. His 2008 AGI was $180,000. Because Jeremy had more than $150,000 of AGI in 2008, he figures his required annual payment as follows. He determines that 90% of his expected tax for 2009 is $64,128 (.90 × $71,253). Next, he determines that 110% of the tax shown on his 2008 return is $46,839 (1.10 x $42,581). Finally, he determines that his required annual payment is $46,839, the smaller of the two.

Farmers and fishermen. If at least two-thirds of your gross income for 2008 or 2009 is from farming or fishing, your required annual payment is the smaller of:
1. 66%/1% (.6667) of your total tax for 2009, or
2. 100% of the total tax shown on your 2008 return. (Your 2008 tax return must cover all 12 months.)

For definitions of “gross income from farming” and “gross income from fishing,” see Farmers and Fishermen, under Special Rules beginning on page 20.
Total tax for 2008—line 14b. Your 2008 total tax on Form 1040 is the amount on line 61 reduced by the following.

1. The amounts on lines 58, 64a, 66, and 69.
2. The following amounts from Form 5329 included on line 59.
   a. Any tax on excess contributions to IRAs, Archer MSAs, Coverdell education savings accounts, and health savings accounts.
   b. Any tax on excess accumulations in qualified retirement plans.
3. The following amounts included on line 61.
   a. Recapture of a federal mortgage subsidy.
   b. Tax on golden parachute payments.
   c. Look-back interest due under section 167(g) or 460(b) of the Internal Revenue Code.
   d. Excise tax on insider stock compensation from an expatriated corporation.
   e. Uncollected employee social security, Medicare, or railroad retirement tax on tips or group-term life insurance.
4. Any credit from Form 4136, Form 8801, or Form 8885 included on line 68.

On the 2008 Form 1040A, it is the amount on line 37 reduced by the amount on lines 40a and 41. On the 2008 Form 1040EZ, it is the amount on line 11 reduced by the amount on line 8a.

Total Estimated Tax Payments Needed—Line 16a

Use lines 15 and 16a to figure the total estimated tax you must pay for 2009. Subtract your expected withholding from your required annual payment (line 14c). You usually must pay this difference in four equal installments. See When To Pay Estimated Tax on this page and How To Figure Each Payment on page 25. You do not have to pay estimated tax if:

- Line 14c minus line 15 is zero or less, or
- Line 13c minus line 15 is less than $1,000.

Withholding—line 15. Your expected withholding for 2009 (line 15) includes the income tax you expect to be withheld from all sources (wages, pensions and annuities, etc.). It also includes excess social security and railroad retirement tax you expect to be withheld from your wages.

For this purpose, you will have excess social security or tier 1 railroad retirement tax withholding for 2009 only if your wages from two or more employers are more than $106,800. See Excess Social Security or Railroad Retirement Tax Withholding in chapter 3.

When To Pay Estimated Tax

For estimated tax purposes, the year is divided into four payment periods. Each period has a specific payment due date. If you do not pay enough tax by the due date of each of the payment periods, you may be charged a penalty even if you are due a refund when you file your income tax return. The payment periods and due dates for estimated tax payments are shown next.

For the period: Due date:
Jan. 1—March 31. . . . . . . . . . April 15
April 1—May 31 . . . . . . . . . . . June 15
June 1—August 31 . . . . . . . . . . . September 15
Sept. 1—Dec. 31 . . . . . . . . . . . January 15

1 If your tax year does not begin on January 1, see Fiscal year taxpayers below.
2 See January payment below.

Saturday, Sunday, holiday rule. If the due date for an estimated tax payment falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, the payment will be on time if you make it on the next business day.

January payment. If you file your 2009 Form 1040 or Form 1040A by February 1, 2010, and pay the rest of the tax you owe, you do not need to make the payment due on January 15, 2010.

Example. Janet Adams does not pay any estimated tax for 2009. She files her 2009 income tax return and pays the balance due on her return on January 26, 2010. Janets estimated tax for the fourth payment period is considered to have been paid on time. However, she may owe a penalty for not making the first three estimated tax payments. Any penalty for not making those payments will be figured up to January 26, 2010.

Fiscal year taxpayers. If your tax year does not start on January 1, your payment due dates are:

1. The 15th day of the 4th month of your fiscal year,
2. The 15th day of the 6th month of your fiscal year,
3. The 15th day of the 9th month of your fiscal year, and
4. The 15th day of the 1st month after the end of your fiscal year.

You do not have to make the last payment listed above if you file your income tax return by the last day of the first month after the end of your fiscal year and pay all the tax you owe with your return.

When To Start

You do not have to make estimated tax payments until you have income on which you will owe the tax. If you have income subject to estimated tax during the first payment period, you must make your first payment by the due date for the first payment period. You can pay all your estimated tax at that time, or you can pay it in installments. If you choose to pay in installments, make your first payment by the due date for the first payment period. Make your remaining installment payments by the due dates for the later periods.

No income subject to estimated tax during first period. If you do not have income subject to estimated tax until a later payment period, you must make your first payment by the due date for that period. You can pay your entire estimated tax by the due date for that period or you can pay it in installments by the due date for that period and the due dates for the remaining periods. Table 2-1 below shows the dates for making installment payments.

How much to pay to avoid penalty. To determine how much you should pay by each payment due date, see How To Figure Each Payment on page 25.

Farmers and Fishermen

If at least two-thirds of your gross income for 2008 or 2009 is from farming or fishing, you have only one payment due date for your 2009 estimated tax, January 15, 2010. The due dates for the first three payment periods, discussed under When To Pay Estimated Tax on this page, do not apply to you.

If you file your 2009 Form 1040 by March 1, 2010, and pay all the tax you owe, you do not need to make an estimated tax payment.

Fiscal year farmers and fishermen. If you are a farmer or fisherman, but your tax year does not start on January 1, you can either:

- Pay all your estimated tax by the 15th day after the end of your tax year, or
- File your return and pay all the tax you owe by the 1st day of the 3rd month after the end of your tax year.
How To Figure Each Payment

After you have figured your total estimated tax, figure how much you must pay by the due date of each payment period. You should pay enough by each due date to avoid a penalty for that period. If you do not pay enough during any payment period, you may be charged a penalty even if you are due a refund when you file your tax return. The penalty is discussed in chapter 4.

Regular Installment Method

If your first estimated tax payment is due April 15, 2009, you can figure your required payment for each period by dividing your annual estimated tax due (line 16a of the 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet) by 4. Enter this amount on line 17. However, use this method only if your income is basically the same throughout the year.

Household employers. Reduce your required payment for each period by the amount of advance EIC payments you paid during the period.

Change in estimated tax. After you make an estimated tax payment, changes in your income, adjustments, deductions, credits, or exemptions may make it necessary for you to refigure your estimated tax. Pay the unbalanced payment of your amended estimated tax by the next payment due after the change or in installments by that date and the due dates for the remaining payment periods.

If you do not receive your income evenly throughout the year, your required estimated tax payments may not be the same for each period. See Annualized Income Installment Method on this page.

Amended estimated tax. If you refigure your estimated tax during the year, or if your first estimated tax payment is due after April 15, 2009, figure your required payment for each remaining payment period using Worksheet 2-16 on page 48.

Example. Early in 2009, Mira Roberts figures that her estimated tax due is $1,800. She makes estimated tax payments on April 15 and June 15 of $450 each ($1,800 ÷ 4).

On July 10, she sells investment property at a gain. Her refinanced estimated tax is $4,100. Her required estimated tax payment for the third payment period is $2,175, as shown in her filled-in Worksheet 2-16 on this page.

If Mira’s estimated tax does not change again, her required estimated tax payment for the fourth payment period will be $1,025.

Underpayment penalty. If your estimated tax payment for a previous period is less than one-fourth of your amended estimated tax, you may be charged a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax for that period when you file your tax return. See chapter 4 for more information.

Annualized Income Installment Method

If you do not receive your income evenly throughout the year (for example, your income from a repair shop you operate is much larger in the summer than it is during the rest of the year), your required estimated tax payment for one or more periods may be less than the amount figured using the regular installment method.

The annualized installment method annualizes your tax at the end of each period based on a reasonable estimate of your income, deductions, and other items relating to events that occurred from the beginning of the tax year through the end of the period. To see whether you can pay less for any period, complete the 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10) beginning on page 44.

You first must complete the 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet through line 16b. (See page 35 for a blank worksheet.)

Use the result you figure on line 28 of the 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet to make your estimated tax payments and complete your payment vouchers. See Example 2, beginning on page 30, to see how the worksheet is completed.

Note. If you use the annualized income installment method to figure your required estimated tax payments, you must file Form 2210 with your 2009 tax return. See Annualized Income Installment Method (Schedule A) in chapter 4 for more information.

Instructions for the 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10)

Use Figure 2-C beginning on page 27 to help you follow these instructions. Another worksheet is available for your use on pages 44 and 45.

The purpose of this worksheet is to determine your estimated tax liability as your income accumulates throughout the year, rather than dividing your entire year’s estimated tax liability by four as if your income was earned equally throughout the year. The top of the worksheet (see page 27) shows the dates for each payment period. The periods build; that is, each period includes all previous periods. After the end of each payment period, complete the corresponding worksheet column to figure the payment due for that period.

Line 1. Enter your AGI for the period. This is your gross income, including your share of partnership or S corporation income or loss, for the period, minus your adjustments to income for that period. See Expected AGI—Line 1 on page 21.

Self-employment income. If you had self-employment income, first complete Section B of this worksheet. Use the amounts on line 39 when figuring the AGI to enter in each column of Section A, line 1.

Line 4. Be sure to consider all deduction limits figured on Schedule A (Form 1040), such as reducing your medical expenses by 7.5% of your AGI, or reducing certain miscellaneous deductions by 2% of your AGI. Figure your deduction limits using your expected AGI in the corresponding column of line 1 (2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10)).

Line 6. Multiply line 4 by line 5 and enter the result on line 6, unless line 3 is more than $166,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately). In that case, use Worksheet 2-11 on page 45 to figure the amount to enter on line 6. Complete Worksheet 2-11 for each period, as necessary.

Line 7. If you will not itemize your deductions, use Worksheet 2-3 (see page 38) to figure your standard deduction.

If the amount on line 4 is due September 15, 2009, enter the full amount on line 6 here and on the payment voucher for your payment due January 15, 2010.

In that case, use Worksheet 2-12 on page 46 to figure the amount to enter on line 10. How-however, if in 2009 you provide housing to individuals displaced by a Midwestern disaster, see Taxpayers housing individuals displaced by a Midwestern disaster on page 22. Then complete Worksheet 2-6 on page 40 before entering an amount multiply 10 of your 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10).

Generally, you will use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules on page 40 or in the instructions to Form 1040-ES to figure the tax on your annualized income. However, see below for situations where you must use a different method to compute your estimated tax.

Tax on child’s investment income. You must use a special method to figure tax on the income of the following children who have more than $1,900 of investment income.
1. Children under age 18 at the end of 2009.
2. The following children if their earned income is not more than half their support.
   b. Children who are full-time students over age 18 and under age 24 at the end of 2009.

See Publication 929.

Tax on net capital gain. The regular income tax rates for individuals do not apply to a net capital gain. Instead, your net capital gain is taxed at a lower maximum rate. The term “net capital gain” means the amount by which your net long-term capital gain for the year is more than your net short-term capital loss.

Tax on qualified dividends. Generally, the maximum tax rate for qualified dividends is 15% (0% for people whose other income is taxed at the 10% or 15% rate).

Tax on capital gain and qualified dividends. If the amount on line 1 includes a net capital gain or qualified dividends, use Worksheet 2-13 on page 47 to figure the amount to enter on line 12.

If you expect to claim the foreign earned income or the housing exclusion or deduction on Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ, use Worksheet 2-14 on page 48 to figure the amount to enter on line 12.

Enter your self-employment tax for the period from Section B, line 37.

Add your expected other taxes. Other taxes include:
1. Additional tax on early distributions from:
   a. An IRA or other qualified retirement plan,
   b. A sheltered annuity, or
   c. A modified endowment contract entered into after June 20, 1986,
2. Advance earned income credit payments;
3. Household employment taxes (before subtracting advance EIC payments made to your employee(s)); if:
   a. You will have federal income tax withheld from wages, pensions, annuities, gambling winnings, or other income, or
   b. You would be required to make estimated tax payments even if you did not include household employment taxes when figuring your estimated tax; and 4. Amounts written in on Form 1040 on the line for “total tax” (line 61 on the 2008 Form 1040). But do not include tax on recapture of a federal mortgage subsidy, tax on golden parachute payments, look-back interest due under section 167(g) or 460(b) of the Internal Revenue Code, excise tax on insider stock compensation from an ex-patriated corporation, or uncollected employee social security, Medicare, or RRTA tax on tips or group-term life insurance.
5. Repayment of the first-time homebuyer credit if the home will cease to be your main home in 2009. See Form 5405 for exceptions.
6. Tax from Form 4972.
7. Tax from Form 8814.
8. Tax from recapture of an education credit.
9. Use Form 6251 to see if you also owe the alternative minimum tax (AMT). Figure alternative minimum taxable income based on your income and deductions during the period shown in the column headings. Multiply this amount by the annualization amounts shown for each column on line 2 of the 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10). Include any AMT owed in the amount on line 14 of this worksheet.

Also include estimated federal income tax withholding. One-fourth of your estimated withholding is considered withheld on the due date of each payment period. To figure the amount to include on line 27 for each period, multiply your total expected withholding for 2009 by:
• 25% (.25) for the first period,
• 50% (.50) for the second period,
• 75% (.75) for the third period, and
• 100% (1.00) for the fourth period.

However, you may choose to include your withholding according to the actual dates on which the amounts will be withheld. For each period, include withholding made from the beginning of the period up to and including the payment due date. You can make this choice separately for the taxes withheld from your wages and all other withholding. For an explanation of what to include in withholding, see Total Estimated Tax Payments Needed—Line 16a on page 24.

Nonresident aliens. If you will file Form 1040NR and you do not receive wages as an employee subject to U.S. income tax withholding, the instructions for the worksheet are modified as follows.
1. Skip column (a).
2. On line 1, enter your income for the period that is effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business.
3. On line 17, increase your entry by the amount determined by multiplying your income for the period that is not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business by the following.
   a. 72% for column (b).
   b. 45% for column (c).
   c. 30% for column (d).

However, if you can use a treaty rate lower than 30%, use the percentages determined by multiplying your treaty rate by 2.4, 1.5, and 1, respectively.
4. On line 22, enter one-half of the amount from line 16c of the Form 1040-ES (NR) 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet in column (b), and one-fourth in columns (c) and (d).
5. On lines 20 and 23, skip column (b).
6. On line 27, if you do not use the actual withholding method, include one-half of your total expected withholding in column (b) and one-fourth in columns (c) and (d).

See Publication 519 for more information.

Estimated Tax Payments Not Required
You do not have to pay estimated tax if your withholding in each payment period is at least as much as:
• One-fourth of your required annual payment, or
• Your required annualized income installment for that period.

Estimated tax payment required by the next due date. Subtract line 27 from line 26 and enter the result (but not less than zero) here and on your payment voucher.
You also do not have to pay estimated tax if you will pay enough through withholding to keep the amount you will owe with your return under $1,000.

How To Pay Estimated Tax

There are five ways to pay estimated tax:

• Credit an overpayment on your 2008 return to your 2009 estimated tax.
• Send in your payment (check or money order) with a payment voucher from Form 1040-ES.
• Pay electronically using the Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS).
• Pay by electronic funds withdrawal if you are filing Form 1040 or Form 1040A electronically.
• Pay by credit card using a pay-by-phone system or the Internet.

Credit an Overpayment

If you show an overpayment of tax after completing your Form 1040 or Form 1040A for 2008, you can apply part or all of it to your estimated tax for 2009. On line 74 of Form 1040, or line 46 of Form 1040A, enter the amount you want credited to your estimated tax rather than refunded. Take the amount you have credited into account when figuring your estimated tax payments. If you timely file your 2008 return, treat the credit as a payment made on April 15, 2009. If you are a beneficiary of an estate or trust, and the trustee elects to credit 2009 trust payments of estimated tax to you, you can treat the amount credited as paid by you on January 15, 2010. If you choose to have an overpayment of tax credited to your estimated tax, you cannot have any of that amount refunded to you until you file your tax return for the following year. You also cannot use that overpayment in any other way.

Example. When Kathleen finished filling out her 2008 tax return, she saw that she had overpaid her taxes by $750. Kathleen knew she would owe additional tax in 2009. She credited $600 of the overpayment to her 2009 estimated tax or refunded to her, the IRS billed her for the additional $250 she owed, plus penalties and interest. Kathleen could not use any of the $600 she had credited to her 2009 estimated tax to pay the bill.

Pay by Check or Money Order Using the Estimated Tax Payment Voucher

Each payment of estimated tax by check or money order must be accompanied by a payment voucher from Form 1040-ES. If you made estimated tax payments last year, you should receive a copy of the 2009 Form 1040-ES in the mail unless you used a paid tax preparer. It will have payment vouchers preprinted with your name, address, and social security number. Using the preprinted vouchers will speed processing, reduce the chance of error, and help save processing costs.

If you did not pay estimated tax last year, you will have to get a copy of Form 1040-ES from the IRS (see chapter 5). Follow the instructions in the package to make sure you use the vouchers correctly.

Use the window envelopes that came with your Form 1040-ES package. If you use your own envelopes, make sure you mail your payment vouchers to the address shown in the Form 1040-ES instructions for the place where you live.

Pay by Electronic Federal Tax Payment System (EFTPS)

EFTPS is a free tax payment system where you input your tax payment information electronically, online or by phone. Through EFTPS, you can schedule one-time or recurring payments for withdrawal from your checking or savings account up to 365 days in advance. You also can modify or cancel payments up to 2 business days before the scheduled withdrawal date. To use EFTPS, you must enroll. Enroll online at www.eftps.gov or call 1-800-555-4477 (for business accounts) or 1-800-516-6541 (for individual accounts) to receive an enrollment form and instructions by mail. TTY/TDD help is available.

You also must notify the IRS if you are making estimated tax payments and you changed your address during the year. Send a clear and concise written statement to the Internal Revenue Service Center where you filed your last return and provide all of the following information:

• Your full name (and your spouse’s full name).
• Your signature (and spouse’s signature).
• Your old address (and spouse’s old address if different).
• Your new address.
• Your social security number (and spouse’s social security number).

You can use Form 8822, Change of Address, for this purpose.

Annualization amounts

Multiply line 33 by the smaller of line 29 or line 32.

33 35 0.496 0.2976 0.186 0.124

34 35 0.116 0.0696 0.0435 0.029

36 37 8 4.8 3 2

Deduction for one-half of self-employment tax. Divide line 37 by line 38.

Enter the amount you have credited into account when figuring your estimated tax payments. If you timely file your 2008 return, treat the credit as a payment made on April 15, 2009. If you are a beneficiary of an estate or trust, account up to 365 days in advance. You also can modify or cancel payments up to 2 business days before the scheduled withdrawal date. To use EFTPS, you must enroll. Enroll online at www.eftps.gov or call 1-800-555-4477 (for business accounts) or 1-800-516-6541 (for individual accounts) to receive an enrollment form and instructions by mail. TTY/TDD help is available.
Illustrated Examples

The following examples show how to figure estimated tax payments under the regular installment method and under the annualized income installment method.

Example 1—Regular Installment Method

Early in 2009, Anne and Larry Jones figure their estimated tax payments for the year. They expect to receive the following income during 2009.

<table>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>Interest income</td>
<td>$2,784</td>
</tr>
<tr>

They also use the following expected items to figure their estimated tax.

Adjustment to income for IRA contributions ........................................ $1,000
Deduction for itemized deductions .................................................... 11,825
Deduction for exemptions ($3,650 x 2) .............................................. 7,300
2009 total tax ....................................................................................... 14,347

*Your net profit from self-employment is found on Schedule C, line 31; Schedule C-EZ, line 3; Schedule F, line 36; Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), box 14, code A; and Schedule K-1 (Form 1065-B), box 9, code J1.
First Period

On April 1, 2009, the Joneses complete the first column of the worksheet for the period January 1 through March 31. They had the following income for the period.

Larry’s salary .................................. $ 9,975
Anne’s net profit from self-employment .... 3,000
Net rental income ................................ 0-
Itemized deductions ............................ 1,375
Making Work Pay credit .......................... 800
Total ........................................... $14,565

They also take into account the following items for the period.

Adjustment to income for IRA contributions .... $ 150
Itemized deductions ............................ 1,375
Making Work Pay credit .......................... 800
Withholding ...................................... 843

Annualized AGI. Before the Joneses figure their AGI for the period, they first figure Anne’s self-employment tax in Section B, and then her adjustment to income for self-employment tax.

On line 29 of Section B, they enter $2,771, which is Anne’s net profit from self-employment for the period ($3,000 x .9235). The prorated social security tax limit is preprinted on line 30. She has no social security wages, so they enter zero on line 30, and $26,700 on line 32. Anne’s annualized social security tax on line 34 is $1,374 ($2,771 x .496). Her annualized Medicare tax on line 36 is $321 ($2,771 x .116). Her total annualized self-employment tax on line 37 is $1,695. They enter that amount on line 13 of Section A.

The Joneses figure their adjustment to income for Anne’s self-employment tax on lines 38 and 39 (Section B). That amount is $321 ($1,695 – 0). They subtract that amount and their $150 IRA contributions from their $14,565 total income and enter their AGI for the period, $14,203, on line 1 of Section A. They multiply that amount by 4 and enter their annualized AGI, $56,812, on line 3.

Annualized taxable income. The Joneses figure their annualized itemized deductions ($1,375 x 4) on lines 4 through 6 of Section A. Because the result is smaller than their standard deduction, they enter their $1,400 standard deduction on line 8. After subtracting that amount and their $7,300 deduction for exemptions, the Joneses’ annualized taxable income on line 11 is $38,112.

Annualized taxes and credits. The Joneses use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedule Y-1 on page 40 to figure their annualized income tax, $4,882, which they enter on line 12 of Section A.

They have no other taxes for the period that would be entered on line 14, so they leave that line blank and enter $6,577 ($4,882 + $1,695) on line 15.

They use Worksheet 2-15 on page 49 to figure their Making Work Pay credit of $800. They have no other credits for the period that would be entered on line 16, so they enter $800 on line 16. After subtracting their Making Work Pay credit from their total tax, the Joneses’ estimated tax for the period is $5,777 ($6,577 – $800). They enter $5,777 on line 17.

Required estimated tax payment. The Joneses’ annualized income installment on lines 19 and 21 of Section A is $2,313 ($5,777 ÷ 22.5%). On lines 22 and 24 they enter $3,156, one-fourth of their $12,623 annual payment required by line 14c of their 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet. Because $1,300 is smaller, they enter that amount on lines 25 and 26.

Larry’s total estimated withholding for the year is $3,372. The Joneses can treat one-fourth of that amount, $843, as paid on April 15, or they can use Larry’s actual withholding for the period. The Joneses enter $843 on line 27.

On line 28, the Joneses’ required estimated tax payment for the period under the annualized income installment method is $457 ($1,300 – $843). They will send in an estimated tax payment of $457 for the first period.

Second, Third, and Fourth Periods

After the end of each remaining payment period, the Joneses complete the column of the worksheet for that period (from the beginning of the year through the end of that payment period) in the same way they did for the first period. They had the following income for each period.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Second Period</th>
<th>Third Period</th>
<th>Fourth Period</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Larry’s salary .................................. $16,625 | $26,600 | $39,900
| State tax refund ................................ 600 | 600 | 600
| Anne’s net profit from self-employment ..... 6,000 | 16,000 | 40,100
| Net rental income .............................. 796 | 2,784 | 2,784
| Interest income ............................... 1,250 | 2,500 | 4,000
| Total ........................................ $25,506 | $41,904 | $59,589 |

They also take into account the following items for each period.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Second Period</th>
<th>Third Period</th>
<th>Fourth Period</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Adjustment to income for IRA contributions ... $ 250 | $ 400 | $ 1,000
| Itemized deductions ............................ 3,120 | 7,250 | 11,825
| Making Work Pay credit .......................... 800 | 800 | 800
| Withholding ...................................... 843 | 843 | 843

For the second period, as for the first, the annualized income installment method allows the Joneses to pay less than their required payment under the regular installment method of figuring estimated tax payments. They make up the difference in the third and fourth periods when their income is higher.

Because the Joneses are using the annualized income installment method, they must file Form 2210 with their tax return for 2009.

2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet

Keep For Your Records

Adjusted gross income you expect in 2009 (see instructions below)

1

If you plan to itemize deductions, enter the estimated total of your itemized deductions.

Caution: If line 1 above is over $166,800 ($83,400 if married filing separately), your deduction may be reduced. See Pub. 505 for details.

3

4

Exemptions. Multiply $3,650 by the number of personal exemptions.

5

Caution: See Pub. 505 to figure the amount to enter if line 1 above is over: $250,200 if married filing jointly or qualifying widow(er); $208,500 if head of household; $166,800 if single; or $125,100 if married filing separately.

7

Tax. Figure your tax on the amount on line 5 by using the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules on page 5.

8

Caution: If you will have qualified dividends or a net capital gain, or expect to claim the foreign earned income exclusion or housing exclusion, see Pub. 505 to figure the tax.

10

Subtract line 9 from line 8. If zero or less, enter -0-

11

Self-employment tax (see instructions below). Estimate of 2009 net earnings from self-employment

12

Caution: If you also have wages subject to social security tax or the 6.2% portion of tier 1 Railroad Retirement tax, see Pub. 505 to figure the amount to enter.

13

Add lines 10 through 12

14

Earned income credit, additional child tax credit, and credits from Forms 4136, 5405, 8801 (line 27), and 8885

15

Total 2009 estimated tax. Subtract line 13b from line 13a. If zero or less, enter -0-

16

Multiply line 13c by 90% (66 2⁄₃ % for farmers and fishermen)

17

Subtract line 15 from line 14c

18

Income tax withheld and estimated to be withheld during 2009 (including income tax withholding on pensions, annuities, certain deferred income, etc.)

If the first payment you are required to make is due April 15, 2009, enter ¼ of line 16a (minus any 2008 overpayment that you are applying to this installment) here, and on your estimated tax payment voucher(s) if you are paying by check or money order. (Note: Household employers, see instructions below)

2 This includes a section 1202 exclusion from eligible gain on qualified small business stock and gain or loss from the sale or exchange of collectibles. See the instructions for Schedule D (Form 1040) for more information.
Worksheet 2-8.
2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet—Line 6
Foreign Earned Income Tax Worksheet

Before you begin: If line 5 of your 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet is zero, do not complete this worksheet.

1. Enter the amount from line 5 of your 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet ........................................ 1. _____

2. Enter the total foreign earned income and housing amount you (and your spouse if filing jointly) expect to exclude or deduct in 2009 on Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ ....................................................... 2. _____

3. Add lines 1 and 2 .............................................................. 3. _____

4. Tax on the amount on line 3. Use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules or Worksheet 2-7,* as appropriate .... 4. _____

5. Tax on the amount on line 2. Use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules ....................................................... 5. _____

6. Subtract line 5 from line 4. Enter the result here and on line 6 of your 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet. If zero or less, enter -0- ............................................................. 6. _____

*If using Worksheet 2-7 (Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet), enter the amount from line 3 above on line 1 of Worksheet 2-7. Complete Worksheet 2-7 through line 9. Next, determine if you have a capital gain excess.

Figuring capital gain excess. To find out if you have a capital gain excess, subtract line 5 of your 2009 Estimated Tax Worksheet from line 9 of Worksheet 2-7. If the result is more than zero, that amount is your capital gain excess.

No capital gain excess. If you do not have a capital gain excess, complete the rest of Worksheet 2-7 according to its instructions. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Capital gain excess. If you have a capital gain excess, complete a second Worksheet 2-7 as instructed above but in its entirety and with the following additional modifications. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Make these modifications only for purposes of filling out Worksheet 2-8 above.

a. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 3 of Worksheet 2-7 by your capital gain excess.

b. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 2 of Worksheet 2-7 by any of your capital gain excess not used in (a) above.

c. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 5 of Worksheet 2-7 by your capital gain excess.

d. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 6 of Worksheet 2-7 by your capital gain excess.

Worksheet 2-14. 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet—Line 12

Foreign Earned Income Tax Worksheet

Before you begin: If line 11 of Worksheet 2-10 (2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet) is zero for the period, do not complete this worksheet.

1. Enter the amount from line 11 of your 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet for the period ........
2. Enter the annualized amount* of foreign earned income and housing amount you (and your spouse if filing jointly) expect to exclude or deduct for the period on Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ ..................
3. Add lines 1 and 2 ..................................................
4. Tax on the amount on line 3. Use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules or Worksheet 2-13, as appropriate ..........................
5. Tax on the amount on line 2. Use the 2009 Tax Rate Schedules ..............................................
6. Subtract line 5 from line 4. Enter the result here and on line 12 of your 2009 Annualized Estimated Tax Worksheet (Worksheet 2-10). If zero or less, enter -0- ........................................

* To figure the annualized amount for line 2, multiply the expected exclusion for the period by the annualization amount on line 2 of Worksheet 2-10 for the same period.

If using Worksheet 2-13 (Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet), enter the amount from line 3 above on line 1 of Worksheet 2-13. Complete Worksheet 2-13 through line 9. Next, determine if you have a capital gain excess.

Figuring capital gain excess. To find out if you have a capital gain excess for the appropriate period, subtract line 11 of Worksheet 2-10 from line 9 of Worksheet 2-13. If the result is more than zero, that amount is your capital gain excess.

No capital gain excess. If you do not have a capital gain excess, complete the rest of Worksheet 2-13 according to its instructions. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Capital gain excess. If you have a capital gain excess, complete a second Worksheet 2-13 as instructed above but in its entirety and with the following additional modifications. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Make these modifications only for purposes of filling out Worksheet 2-14 above.

a. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 3 of Worksheet 2-13 by your capital gain excess.

b. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 2 of Worksheet 2-13 by any of your capital gain excess not used in (a) above.

c. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 5 of Worksheet 2-13 by your capital gain excess.

d. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 6 of Worksheet 2-13 by your capital gain excess.

2. Multiply line 1 by: 50% (.50) if next payment is due June 15, 2009 75% (.75) if next payment is due September 15, 2009 100% (1.00) if next payment is due January 15, 2010 ........
3. Estimated tax payments made for all previous periods ...................
4. Next required payment: Subtract line 3 from line 2 and enter the result (but not less than zero) here and on your payment voucher for your next required payment ............................
   Note. If the payment on line 4 is due January 15, 2010, stop here. Otherwise, go to line 5.
5. Add lines 3 and 4 ..............................................
6. Subtract line 5 from line 1 and enter the result (but not less than zero) ..........................
7. Each following required payment: If the payment on line 4 is due June 15, 2009, enter one-half of the amount on line 6 here and on the payment vouchers for your payments due September 15, 2009, and January 15, 2010. If the amount on line 4 is due September 15, 2009, enter the full amount on line 6 here and on the payment voucher for your payment due January 15, 2010 ........

Credit for Withholding and Estimated Tax for 2008

What’s New for 2008

Excess social security or railroad retirement tax withholding. You can claim a credit for excess social security or railroad retirement tax withheld only if your total wages from two or more employers were more than $102,000.

Conservation reserve program (CRP) payments. CRP payments are excluded from self-employment tax for individuals receiving social security benefits for retirement or disability.

Introduction

When you file your 2008 income tax return, take credit for all the income tax and excess social security or railroad retirement tax withheld from your salary, wages, pensions, etc. Also take credit for the estimated tax you paid for 2008. These credits are subtracted from your tax. Because these credits are refundable, you should file a return and claim these credits, even if you do not owe tax.

If the total of your withholding and your estimated tax payments for any payment period is less than the amount you needed to pay by the due date for that period, you may be charged a penalty, even if the total of these credits is more than your tax for the year.

Topics

This chapter discusses:

- How to take credit for withholding,
- How to take credit for estimated taxes you paid, and
- How to take credit for excess social security or railroad retirement tax withholding.

Withholding

If you had income tax withheld during 2008, you generally should be sent a statement by February 2, 2009, showing your income and the tax withheld. Depending on the source of your income, you will receive:

- Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement,
- Form W-2G, Certain Gambling Winnings, or
- A form in the 1099 series.

Form W-2

Your employer is required to provide or send Form W-2 to you no later than February 2, 2009. You should receive a separate Form W-2 from each employer you worked for.

If you stopped working before the end of 2008, your employer could have given you your Form W-2 at any time after you stopped working. However, your employer must provide or send it to you by February 2, 2009.

If you ask for the form, your employer must send it to you within 30 days after receiving your written request or within 30 days after your final wage payment, whichever is later.

Form W-2 is mailed, you should allow adequate time to receive it before contacting your employer. If you still do not get the form by February 17, the IRS can help you by requesting the form from your employer. The phone number for the IRS is listed in chapter 5. You will be asked for the following information:

- Your employer’s name, address, city, and state, including zip code.
- An estimate of the wages you earned, the federal income tax withheld, and the period you worked for that employer. The estimate should be based on year-to-date information from your final pay stub or leave-and-earnings statement, if possible.

Form W-2 shows your total pay and other compensation and the income tax, social security tax, and Medicare tax that was withheld during the year. Include the federal income tax withheld (as shown on Form W-2) on:

- Line 62, if you file Form 1040;
- Line 38, if you file Form 1040A; or
- Line 7, if you file Form 1040EZ.

In addition, Form W-2 is used to report any taxable sick pay you received and any income tax withheld from your sick pay.

Always file Form W-2 with your income tax return.

Form W-2G

If you had gambling winnings in 2008, the payer may have withheld income tax. If tax was withheld, the payer will give you a Form W-2G showing the amount you won and the amount of tax withheld.

Report the amounts you won on line 21 of Form 1040. Take credit for the tax withheld on line 62 of Form 1040. If you had gambling winnings, you must use Form 1040; you cannot use Form 1040A or Form 1040EZ.

Gambling losses can be deducted on Schedule A (Form 1040) as a miscellaneous itemized deduction on line 28. However, you cannot deduct more than the gambling winnings you report on Form 1040, line 21.

File Form W-2G with your income tax return only if it shows any federal income tax withheld from your winnings.

The 1099 Series

Most forms in the 1099 series are not filed with your return. In general, these forms should be furnished to you by February 2, 2009. Unless instructed to file any of these forms with your return, keep them for your records.

There are several different forms in this series, including:

- Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions;
- Form 1099-C, Cancellation of Debt;
- Form 1099-DIV, Dividends and Distributions;
- Form 1099-G, Certain Government Payments;
- Form 1099-INT, Interest Income;
- Form 1099-MISC, Miscellaneous Income;
- Form 1099-OID, Original Issue Discount;
- Form 1099-Q, Payments From Qualified Education Programs;
- Form 1099-R, Distributions From Pensions, Annuities, Retirement or Profit-Sharing Plans, IRAs, Insurance Contracts, etc.;
- Form SSA-1099, Social Security Benefit Statement; and
- Form RRB-1099, Payments by the Railroad Retirement Board.

If you received the types of income reported on some forms in the 1099 series, you may not be able to use Form 1040A or Form 1040EZ. See the instructions to these forms for details.

Form 1099-R. Attach Form 1099-R to your return if federal income tax withholding is shown in box 4. Include the amount withheld in the total on line 62 of Form 1040, or on line 38 of Form 1040A. You cannot use Form 1040EZ if you received payments reported on Form 1099-R.

Backup withholding. If you were subject to backup withholding on income you received during 2008, include the amount withheld, as shown in box 4 of your Form 1099, in the total on line 62 of Form 1040, line 38 of Form 1040A, or line 7 of Form 1040EZ.

Form Not Correct

If you receive a form with incorrect information, you should ask the payer for a corrected form. Call the telephone number or write to the address given for the payer on the form. The corrected Form W-2G or Form 1099 you receive will have an “X” in the “CORRECTED” box at the top of the form. A special form, Form W-2c, Corrected Wage and Tax Statement, is used to correct a Form W-2.
Form Received After Filing

If you file your return and you later receive a form for income that you did not include on your return, you should report the income and take credit for any income tax withheld by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.

Separate Returns

If you are married but file a separate return, you can take credit only for the tax withheld from your own income. Do not include any amount withheld from your spouse’s income. However, different rules may apply if you live in a community property state.

Community property states. The following are community property states.
- Arizona.
- California.
- Idaho.
- Louisiana.
- Nevada.
- New Mexico.
- Texas.
- Washington.
- Wisconsin.

Generally, if you live in a community property state and file a separate return, you and your spouse each must report half of all community income in addition to your own separate income. If you are required to report half of all community income, you are entitled to take credit for half of all taxes withheld on the community income. If you were divorced during the year, each of you generally must report half the community income and can take credit for half the withholding on that community income for the period before the divorce.

For more information on these rules, and some exceptions, see Publication 555, Community Property.

Fiscal Years (FY)

If you file your tax return on the basis of a fiscal year (a 12-month period ending on the last day of any month except December), you must follow special rules, described below, to determine your credit for federal income tax withholding.

Normal withholding. You can claim credit on your tax return only for the tax withheld during the calendar year ending within your fiscal year. You cannot claim credit for any of the tax withheld during the calendar year beginning in your fiscal year. You will be able to claim credit for that withholding on your return for your next fiscal year.

The Form W-2 or 1099-F you receive for the calendar year that ends during your fiscal year will show the tax withheld and the income you received during that calendar year.

Although you take credit for all the withheld tax shown on the form, report only the part of the income shown on the form that you received during your fiscal year. Add to that the income you received during the rest of your fiscal year.

Example. Miles Hanson files his return for a fiscal year ending June 30, 2008. In January 2008, he received a Form W-2 that showed that his wages for 2007 were $31,200 and that his income tax withheld was $3,432. His records show that he had received $15,000 of the wages by June 30, 2007, and $16,200 from July 1 through December 31, 2007. See Table 3-1 below.

On his return for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, he reported the $15,000 he was paid in July through December 2007, plus the $18,125 he was paid during the rest of the fiscal year, January 1, 2008, to June 30, 2008. However, he takes credit for all $3,432 that was withheld during 2007.

On his return for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2007, he reported the $15,000 he was paid in January through June 2007, but took no credit for the tax withheld during that time. On his return for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2009, he can take credit for any tax withheld during 2008 but not for any tax withheld during 2009.

Backup withholding. If income tax has been withheld under the backup withholding rule, take the credit for it on your tax return for the fiscal year in which you received the income.

Example. Emily Smith’s records show that she received income in November 2008 and February 2009 from which there was backup withholding ($100 and $50, respectively). Emily takes credit for the entire $150 of backup withholding on her tax return for the fiscal year ending September 30, 2009.

Estimated Tax

Take credit for all your estimated tax payments for 2008 on line 63 of Form 1040 or line 39 of Form 1040A. Include any overpayment from 2007 that you had credited to your 2008 estimated tax. You must use Form 1040 or Form 1040A if you paid estimated tax. You cannot use Form 1040EZ.

If you were a beneficiary of an estate or trust, you should receive a Schedule K-1 (Form 1041), Beneficiary’s Share of Income, Deductions, Credits, etc., from the fiduciary. If you have estimated taxes credited to you from the estate or trust (from Schedule K-1 (Form 1041), box 13, code A), you must use Schedule E (Form 1040).

On the dotted line next to the entry space for line 37 of Schedule E (Form 1040), enter “ES payment claimed” and the amount. However, do not include this amount in the total on line 37. Instead, enter the amount on Form 1040, line 63. The payment is treated as being made by you on January 15, 2009.

Name changed. If you changed your name, and you made estimated tax payments using your former name, attach a statement to the front of your tax return indicating:
- When you made the payments,
- The amount of each payment,
- The IRS address to which you sent the payments,
- Your name when you made the payments, and
- The social security number under which you made the payments.

The statement should cover payments you made jointly with your spouse as well as any you made separately.

Be sure to report the change to your local Social Security Administration office before filing your 2009 tax return. This prevents delays in processing your return and issuing refunds. It also safeguards your future social security benefits. For more details, call the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213.

Separate Returns

If you and your spouse made separate estimated tax payments for 2008 and you file separate returns, you can take credit only for your own payments.

If you made joint estimated tax payments, you must decide how to divide the payments between your returns. One of you can claim all of the estimated tax paid and the other none, or you can divide it in any other way you agree on. If you cannot agree, you must divide the payments in proportion to each spouse’s individual tax as shown on your separate returns for 2008.

Example. James and Evelyn Brown made joint estimated tax payments for 2008 totaling $3,000. They file separate 2008 Forms 1040. James’ tax is $4,000 and Evelyn’s is $1,000. If they do not agree on how to divide the $3,000, they must divide it proportionately between their return or more employers in 2008, too much social security or tier 1 RRTA tax may have been withheld. ### Joint returns. If you are filing a joint return,

1. Check the excess withholding on your return or more employers in 2008, too much social security or tier 1 RRTA tax may have been withheld. Each employer must withhold social security and tier 1 RRTA tax from your wages. In some cases, however, two or more employers in 2008, too much social security or tier 1 RRTA tax may have been withheld. Each employer must withhold social security and tier 1 RRTA tax from your wages. In some cases, however, two or more employers in 2008, too much social security or tier 1 RRTA tax may have been withheld. Each employer must withhold social security and tier 1 RRTA tax from your wages. In some cases, however, two or more employers in 2008, too much social security or tier 1 RRTA tax may have been withheld. Each employer must withholding on Form 1040EZ. Example. In 2008, Tom Martin earned $58,000 working for Company A and $47,200 working for Company B. Company A withheld $3,596 for social security tax. Company B withheld $2,926.40 for social security tax. Because he worked for two employers and earned more than $102,000, he had too much social security tax withheld. Tom figures his credit of $198.40, as shown on the illustrated Worksheet 3-1 below.

Worksheets for Railroad Employees

If you worked for a railroad during 2008, figure your excess withholding on Worksheets 3-2 and 3-3 on the next page.

Where to claim credit for excess tier 1 RRTA withholding. If you file Form 1040, enter the excess on line 65. If you file Form 1040A, include the excess in the total on line 43. Write “Excess SST” and show the amount of the credit in the space to the left of the line.

You cannot claim excess tier 1 RRTA withholding on Form 1040EZ.

How to claim refund of excess tier 2 RRTA. To claim a refund of tier 2 tax, use Form 843. Be sure to attach a copy of all of your W-2 forms.
Worksheet 3-1. Excess Social Security—Nonrailroad Employees

1. Add all social security tax withheld (but not more than $6,324 for each employer). This tax should be shown in box 4 of your Forms W-2. Enter the total here.
   1.
2. Enter any uncollected social security tax on tips or group-term life insurance included in the total on Form 1040, line 61.
   2.
3. Add lines 1 and 2. If $6,324 or less, stop here. You cannot claim the credit.
   3.
4. Social security limit
   4. $6,324
5. Excess. Subtract line 4 from line 3.
   5.

Worksheet 3-2. Excess Social Security and Tier 1 RRTA—Railroad Employees

1. Add all social security and tier 1 RRTA tax withheld (but not more than $6,324 for each employer). Social security tax should be shown in box 4 and tier 1 RRTA should be shown in box 14 of your Forms W-2. Enter the total here.
   1.
2. Enter any uncollected social security and tier 1 RRTA tax on tips or group-term life insurance included in the total on Form 1040, line 61.
   2.
3. Add lines 1 and 2. If $6,324 or less, stop here. You cannot claim the credit.

4. Underpayment Penalty for 2008

What’s New for 2008

You should consider the items in this section when figuring any underpayment penalty for 2008.

Penalty rate. The penalty for underpayment of 2008 estimated tax is figured at an annual rate of 6% for the number of days the underpayment remained unpaid from April 16, 2008, through June 30, 2008; 5% for the number of days the underpayment remained unpaid from July 1, 2008, through September 30, 2008; 6% for the number of days the underpayment remained unpaid from October 1, 2008, through December 31, 2008; and 5% from January 1, 2009, through April 15, 2009.

Waiver of penalty for certain federally declared disasters. Generally, required estimated tax payment deadlines were extended for taxpayers affected by federally declared disasters. You will be granted a waiver of all or part of your underpayment of tax penalty for late payments due to such disaster. See the Instructions for Form 2210, Underpayment of Estimated Tax by Individuals, Estates, and Trusts, for more details.

Introduction

If you did not pay enough tax, either through withholding or by making estimated tax payments, you will have underpaid your estimated tax and may have to pay a penalty.

You may understand this chapter better if you can refer to copies of your latest federal income tax returns.

No penalty. Generally, you will not have to pay a penalty for 2008 if any of the following situations apply.

• The total of your withholding and estimated tax payments was at least as much as your 2008 tax (or 110% of your 2007 tax if your adjusted gross income (AGI) was more than $150,000, $75,000 if your 2008 filing status is married filing separately), and you paid all required estimated tax payments on time.
• The tax balance due on your return is no more than 10% of your total 2008 tax, and you paid all required estimated tax payments on time.
• Your total 2008 tax (defined on page 55) minus your withholding is less than $1,000.

Special rules apply if you are a farmer or fisherman. IRS can figure the penalty for you. If you think you owe the penalty, but you do not want to figure it yourself when you file your tax return, you may not have to. Generally, the IRS will figure the penalty for you and send you a bill. You only need to figure your penalty in the following three situations.

• You are requesting a waiver of part, but not all, of the penalty.
• You are using the annualized income installment method to figure the penalty.
• You are treating the federal income tax withheld from your income as paid on the dates actually withheld.

However, if these situations do not apply to you, and you think you can lower or eliminate your penalty, complete Form 2210 or Form 2210-F and attach it to your return. See Form 2210 on page 55.

Penalty for late payments. Special rules apply if you are a farmer or fisherman. IRS can figure the penalty for you. You only need to figure your penalty in the following three situations.

• You are requesting a waiver of part, but not all, of the penalty.
• You are using the annualized income installment method to figure the penalty.
• You are treating the federal income tax withheld from your income as paid on the dates actually withheld.

However, if these situations do not apply to you, and you think you can lower or eliminate your penalty, complete Form 2210 or Form 2210-F and attach it to your return. See Form 2210 on page 55.

General Rule

In general, you may owe a penalty for 2008 if the total of your withholding and estimated tax payments did not equal at least the smaller of:

1. 90% of your 2008 tax, or
2. 100% of your 2007 tax. (Your 2007 tax return must cover a 12-month period.)

Your 2008 tax, for this purpose, is defined under Total tax for 2008 on page 55.

Special rules for certain individuals. There are special rules for farmers and fishermen, and for certain higher income taxpayers.

Farmers and fishermen. If at least two-thirds of your gross income for 2007 or 2008 is from farming or fishing, substitute 66 2/3% for 90% in (1) above.

See Farmers and Fishermen on page 60.

Higher income taxpayers. If your AGI for 2007 was more than $150,000 ($75,000 if your 2008 filing status is married filing a separate return), substitute 110% for 100% in (2) above. This rule does not apply to farmers or fishermen.

For 2007, AGI is the amount shown on Form 1040, line 37; Form 1040A, line 21; and Form 1040EZ, line 4.

Penalty figured for each period. Because the penalty is figured separately for each payment period, you may owe a penalty for a payment period even if you later paid enough to make up the underpayment. If you did not pay enough tax by the due date of any of the payment periods, you may owe a penalty even if you are due a refund when you file your income tax return.

Example. You did not make estimated tax payments for 2008 because you thought you had enough tax withheld from your wages. Early in January 2009, you made an estimate of your total 2008 tax. Then you realized that your withholding was $2,000 less than the amount needed to avoid a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax.

On January 10, you made an estimated tax payment of $3,000, which is the difference between your withholding and your estimate of your total tax. Your final return shows your total tax to be $50 less than your estimate, so you are due a refund.

You do not owe a penalty for your payment due January 15, 2009. However, you may owe a penalty through January 10, 2009, the day you made the $3,000 payment, for your underpayment of the earlier payment periods.

Minimum required each period. You owe a penalty for any 2008 payment period for which your estimated tax payment plus your withholding for the period and overpayments for previous periods was less than the smaller of:

1. 22.5% of your 2008 tax, or
2. 25% of your 2007 tax. (Your 2007 tax return must cover a 12-month period.)

Note. If you are subject to the rule for higher income taxpayers, discussed earlier, substitute 27.5% for 25% in (2) above.

When penalty is charged. If you miss a payment or you paid less than the minimum required in a period, you may be charged an underpayment penalty from the date the amount was due to the date you actually paid. See Estate or trust payments of estimated tax. If you have estimated taxes credited to you from an estate or trust (Schedule K-1 (Form 1041), box 13, code A), treat the payment as made by you on January 15, 2009.

Amended returns. If you file an amended return by the due date of your original return, use the tax shown on your amended return to figure the penalty to your tax due and show your total payment on line 47. If you are due a refund, subtract the penalty from the overpayment and enter the result on line 44.

Lowering or eliminating the penalty. You may be able to lower or eliminate your penalty if you file Form 2210. You must file Form 2210 with your return if any of the following applies:

- You request a waiver. See Waiver of Penalty on page 60.
- You use the annualized income installment method. See the explanation of this method under Annualized Income Installment Method (Schedule AI) beginning on page 57.
- You use your actual withholding for each payment period for estimated tax purposes. See Actual Withholding Method under Figuring Your Underpayment (Part IV, Section A) on page 57.
- You base any of your required installments on the tax shown on your 2007 return and you filed or are filing a joint return for either 2007 or 2008, but not for both years.

Exceptions

Generally, you do not have to pay an underpayment penalty if either:

- Your total tax is less than $1,000, or
- You had no tax liability last year.

Less Than $1,000 Due

You do not owe a penalty if the total tax shown on your return minus the amount you paid through withholding (including excess social security and tier 1 railroad retirement (RRTA) tax withholding) is less than $1,000.

Total tax for 2008. For 2008, your total tax on Form 1040 is the amount on line 56 increased by certain other taxes and reduced by certain refundable credits.

Add the total of the following taxes to the amount on Form 1040, line 56.

- Self-employment tax (line 57).
- Tax from recapture of investment credit, low-income housing credit, qualified electric vehicle credit, Indian employment credit, new markets credit, alternative motor vehicle credit, alternative fuel vehicle refueling property credit, or credit for employer-provided childcare facilities (including dependent care FSAs) (included on line 61).

Form 2210.

In most cases, you do not need to file Form 2210. The IRS will figure the penalty for you and send you a bill. If you want us to figure the penalty for you, leave the penalty line on your return blank. Do not file Form 2210.

To determine whether you should file Form 2210, see Part II of Form 2210. If you decide to figure the penalty for you, complete Part I, Part II, and either Part III or Part IV of Form 2210. If you use Form 2210, you cannot file Form 1040EZ.

On Form 1040, enter the amount of your penalty on line 76. If you owe tax on line 75, add the penalty to your tax due and show your total payment on line 75. If you are due a refund, subtract the penalty from the overpayment and enter the result on line 72.

On Form 1040A, enter the amount of your penalty on line 48. If you owe tax on line 47, add the penalty to your tax due and show your total payment on line 47. If you are due a refund, subtract the penalty from the overpayment and enter the result on line 44.

As a U.S. trade or business from Form 1040, you cannot file Form 1040EZ. ... 1988 (includ included on line 61).

Form 1040A.

The amount on line 66 includes the amount on line 65. Enter the total of the following taxes to the amount on Form 1040A, line 56.

- Earned income credit (line 64a).
- Additional child tax credit (line 66).
- Credit for federal tax paid on fuels (included on line 68, box c).
- Refundable credit for prior year minimum tax (line 68, box d).
- First-time homebuyer credit (line 69).
- Recovery rebate credit (line 70).

Your total tax on Form 1040A is the amount on line 37 minus the amount on lines 40a, 41, and 42. Your total tax on Form 1040EZ is the amount on line 11 minus the amount on lines 8a and 9.

Paid through withholding. For 2008, the amount you paid through withholding on Form 1040 is the amount on line 62 plus any excess social security or tier 1 RRTA tax withholding on line 65. On Form 1040A, the amount you paid.
through withholding is the amount on line 38 plus any excess social security or tier 1 RRTA tax withholding included on line 43. On Form 1040EZ, it is the amount on line 7.

No Tax Liability Last Year

You do not owe a penalty if you had no tax liability last year and you were a U.S. citizen or resident of the U.S. For this rule to apply, your tax year must have included all 12 months of the year.

You had no tax liability for 2007 if your total tax was zero or you were not required to file an income tax return.

Example. Ray, who is single and 22 years old, was unemployed for most of 2007. He earned $2,700 in wages before he was laid off, and he received $2,500 in unemployment compensation afterwards. He had no other income. Even though he had gross income of $5,200, he did not have to pay income tax because his gross income was less than the filing requirement for a single person under age 65 ($8,750 for 2007). He filed a return only to have his withheld income tax refunded to him.

In 2008, Ray began regular work as an independent contractor. Ray made no estimated tax payments in 2008. Even though he did owe tax at the end of the year, Ray does not owe the underpayment penalty for 2008 because he had no tax liability in 2007.

Total tax for 2007. For 2007, your total tax on Form 1040 is the amount on line 57 increased by certain other taxes and reduced by certain refundable credits.

Add the total of the following taxes to the amount on Form 1040, line 57.

• Self-employment tax (line 58).
• Tax from recapture of investment credit, low-income housing credit, qualified electric vehicle credit, Indian employment credit, new markets credit, alternative motor vehicle credit, alternative fuel vehicle refueling property credit, or credit for employer-provided childcare facilities (included on line 63).
• Tax on early distributions from (a) an IRA or other qualified retirement plan, (b) an annuity contract, or (c) a modified endowment contract entered into after June 20, 1988 (included on line 60).
• Tax on distributions from a Coverdell education savings account or a qualified tuition program not used for qualified education expenses (included on line 60).
• Tax on Archer MSA, Medicare Advantage MSA, or health savings account distributions not used for qualified medical expenses (included on line 63).
• Additional tax on a health savings account because you did not remain an eligible individual during the test period (included on line 63).
• Section 72(m)(5) excess benefits tax (included on line 63).
• Advance earned income credit payments (line 61).

Tax on accumulation distribution of trusts (included on line 63).

Interest due under sections 453(i)(3) and 453(c)(1) on certain installment sales of property (included on line 63).

An increase or decrease in tax as a shareholder in a qualified electing fund (included on line 63).

Tax on electing small business trusts included on Form 1041, Schedule G, line 7 (included on line 63).

Tax on income not effectively connected with a U.S. trade or business from Form 1040NR, lines 53 and 56 (included on line 63).

Household employment taxes, including any advance EIC payments made to your employees (line 62). See the instructions for Form 2210, Line 2, for an exception to including this amount.

Additional tax on income you received from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan that fails to meet certain requirements (included on line 63).

Additional tax on recapture of a charitable contribution deduction relating to the contribution of a fractional interest in tangible personal property (included on line 63).

Figuring Your Required Annual Payment (Part I)

Figure your required annual payment in Part I of Form 2210, following the line-by-line instructions. If you rounded the entries on your tax return to whole dollars, you can round on Form 2210.

Example. The tax on Ivy Fields’ 2007 return was $10,000. Her AGI was not more than $150,000. The tax on her 2008 return (Form 1040, line 44) is $11,000. She does not claim any credits or pay any other taxes.

For 2008, Ivy had $1,600 income tax withheld and paid $6,800 estimated tax. Her total payments were $8,400. 90% of her 2008 tax is $9,900. Because she paid less than her 2007 tax ($10,000) and less than 90% of her 2008 tax, and does not meet an exception, Ivy knows that she owes a penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. The IRS will figure the penalty for Ivy, but she decides to figure it herself on Form 2210 and pay it with her $2,600 tax balance when she files her tax return.

Ivy’s required annual payment is $9,900 ($11,000 × 90%) because that is smaller than her 2007 tax.

Different 2007 filing status. If you file a separate return for 2008, but you filed a joint return with your spouse for 2007, see 2007 joint return and 2008 separate returns on page 55 to figure the amount to enter as your 2007 tax on line 8 of Form 2210.

Short Method for Figuring the Penalty (Part III)

You may be able to use the short method in Part III of Form 2210 to figure your penalty for underpayment of estimated tax. If you qualify to use this method, it will result in the same penalty amount as the regular method. However, either the annualized income installment method or the actual withholding method, explained later, may result in a smaller penalty.

You can use the short method only if you meet one of the following requirements.

• You made no estimated tax payments for 2008 (it does not matter whether you had income tax withholding).
• You paid the same amount of estimated tax on each of the four payment due dates.

If you do not meet either requirement, figure your penalty using the regular method in Form 2210, Part IV.

Note. If any payment was made before the due date, you can use the short method, but the penalty may be less if you use the regular method. However, if the payment was only a few days early, the difference is likely to be small.

You cannot use the short method if any of the following applies.

• You made any estimated tax payments late.
• You checked box C or D in Part II of Form 2210.
• You are filing Form 1040NR or 1040NR-EZ and you did not receive wages as an employee subject to U.S. income tax withholding.

If you use the short method, you cannot use the annualized income installment method to figure your underpayment for each payment period. Also, you cannot use your actual withholding during each period to figure your payments for each

Regular Method for Figuring the Penalty (Part IV)

You may use the regular method in Part IV of Form 2210 to figure your penalty for underpay- ment of estimated tax if you paid one or more estimated tax payments earlier than the due date.

You must use the regular method in Part IV of Form 2210 to figure your penalty for un- derpayment of estimated tax if any of the follow- ing apply to you:

- You paid one or more estimated tax pay- ments on a date before the due date.
- You paid at least one, but less than four, installments of estimated tax.
- You paid estimated tax payments in un- equal amounts.
- You use the annualized income install- ment method to figure your penalty for each payment period.
- You use your actual withholding during each payment period to figure your pay- ments.

If you use the regular method, figure your underpayment for each payment period in Sec- tion A, then figure your penalty for each payment period in Section B.

Figuring Your Underpayment (Part IV, Section A)

Figure your underpayment of estimated tax for each payment period in Section A following the line-by-line instructions. Complete lines 20 through 26 of the first column before going to line 20 of the next column.

Required installments—line 18. Your re- quired payment for each payment period (line 18) is usually one-fourth of your required annual payment (Part I, line 9). However, if you use the annualized income installment method (described beginning on this page), first com- plete Schedule A (Form 2210), and then enter the amounts from line 25 of that schedule on line 18 of Form 2210, Part IV.

Payments. On line 19, enter in each column the total of:
- Your estimated tax paid after the due date for the previous column and by the due date shown at the top of the column, and
- One-fourth of your withholding.

For special rules for figuring your payments, see the Instructions for Form 2210.

If you file Form 1040, your withholding is the amount on line 62, plus any excess social security or tier 1 RRTA tax withheld on line 65. If you file Form 1040A, your withholding is the amount on line 38 plus any excess social security or tier 1 RRTA tax withheld included in line 43.

Actual Withholding Method. Instead of us- ing one-fourth of your withholding for each quar- ter, you can choose to use the total amount actually withheld by each due date. You can make this choice separately for the tax withheld from your wages and for all other withholding. This in- cludes any excess social security and tier 1 RRTA tax withheld.

Using your actual withholding may result in a smaller penalty if most of your withholding oc- curred early in the year. If you use your actual withholding, you must check box D in Form 2210, Part II. Then com- plete Form 2210 and file it with your return.

Regular Installment Method

If you received your income evenly throughout the year, use the regular installment method to figure your estimated tax underpayment for the year.

Example. Ben Brown’s 2008 total tax (Form 1040, line 61) is $7,031, the total of his $4,685 income tax and $2,346 self-employment tax. His 2007 AGI was less than $150,000. He does not owe any other taxes or claim any credits other than for withholding. His 2007 tax was $6,116. See Figure 4-B on page 64 to see Ben’s completed Form 2210, Part I.

Ben’s employer withheld $3,228 income tax during 2008. Ben paid no estimated tax for either the first or second period, but he paid $1,000 each on August 29, 2008, and January 12, 2009, for the third and fourth periods. Because the total of his withholding and estimated tax pay- ments, $5,228 ($3,228 + $1,000 + $1,000), was less than both 90% of his 2008 tax (90% × $7,031 = $6,328), and 100% of his 2007 tax ($6,116), Ben knows he owes a penalty for un- derpayment of estimated tax. He decides to fig- ure the penalty on Form 2210 and pay it with his $1,803 tax balance ($7,031 − $5,228) when he files his tax return on April 15, 2009.

Ben’s required annual payment (Part I, line 9) is $6,116. Because his income and withhold- ing were distributed evenly throughout the year, Ben enters one-fourth of his required annual payment, $1,529, in each column of line 18 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65). On line 19, he enters one-fourth of his withholding, $807, in the first two columns and $1,807 ($807 plus $1,000 estimated tax payment) in the last two columns.

Ben has an underpayment (line 25) for each payment period even though his withholding and estimated tax payments for the third and fourth periods were more than his required install- ments (line 18). This is because the estimated tax payments made in the third and fourth peri- ods are first applied to underpayments for the earlier periods.

Annualized Income Installment Method (Schedule A1)

If you did not receive your income evenly throughout the year (for example, your income from a repair shop you operated was much larger in the summer than it was during the rest of the year), you may be able to lower or elimi- nate your penalty by figuring your underpayment using the annualized income installment method. Under this method, your required installment (line 18) for one or more payment periods may be less than one-fourth of your required annual payment.

To figure your underpayment using this method, complete Schedule AI of Form 2210 (see Figure 4-C on page 66 for an example).
The schedule annualizes your tax at the end of each payment period based on your income, deductions, and other items relating to events that occurred from the beginning of the tax year through the end of the period.

If you use the annualized income installment method, you must check box C in Part II of Form 2210. You also must attach Form 2210 and Schedule AI to your return.

If you use Schedule AI for any payment due dates, you must use it for all pay-due dates.

Completing Schedule AI. Follow the Form 2210 instructions to complete Schedule AI. For each period shown on Schedule AI, figure your income and deductions based on your method of accounting. If you use the cash method of accounting (used by most people), include all income actually or constructively received during the period and all deductions actually paid during the period.

Note. Each period includes amounts from the previous period(s).

- Period (a) includes items for January 1 through March 31.
- Period (b) includes items for January 1 through May 31.
- Period (c) includes items for January 1 through August 31.
- Period (d) includes items for the entire year.

Example. Laura Maple files as head of household with two exemptions. Her 2008 total tax income was $3,600 for the second period, $8,600 ($3,600 + $5,000) for the third period, and $16,600 ($8,600 + $8,000) for the fourth period. She multiplies each amount by 92.35% (.9235) to find the amounts to enter on line 26. She then tells out the rest of Part II. See Figure 4-C on page 66.

Laura figures the deduction for one-half of the self-employment tax by dividing the amounts on line 34 by the annualization amounts for each period. The annualization amounts are:

- 8 for the first period,
- 4.8 for the second period,
- 3 for the third period, and
- 2 for the fourth period.

Line 1—AGI. Laura figures the amounts to enter on Schedule AI, line 1, as follows.

- Column (a) ÷ 1/1/08 to 3/31/08: $1,250 per month = 3 months =
  $3,750
- Column (b) ÷ 1/1/08 to 5/31/08: $1,250 per month = 5 months = $6,250
- Column (c) ÷ 6/31/08: $1,250 per month = 8 months = $10,000
- Column (d) ÷ 7/31/08: $1,250 per month = 12 months =
  $15,000

Laura's employer withheld $1,488 income tax during 2008. Laura paid no estimated tax for either the first or second period, but she paid $100 on August 15, 2008, and $500 on December 3, 2008, for the third and fourth periods.

Laura did not receive her income evenly throughout the year. Therefore, she decides to
(Part IV, line 18) using the annualized income installment method. To use this method, Laura completes Schedule AI before starting Part IV.

Laura’s wages during 2008 were $15,000
($1,250 a month). Her net earnings from a business she started during the year were $16,600, received as follows.

April through May ................................. $3,600
June through August ......................... 5,000
September through December ........... 8,000

Self-employment tax and deduction. Before Laura can figure her AGI for each period (Schedule AI, line 1), she must figure her deduc-tion for self-employment tax for each period. To do this, she first completes Schedule AI, Part II (see Figure 4-C on page 66).

Laura had no self-employment income for the first period, so she leaves the lines in that column blank. Her self-employment income was
$3,600 for the second period, $8,600 ($3,600 +
$5,000) for the third period, and $16,600 ($8,600 +
$8,000) for the fourth period. She multiplies each amount by 92.35% (.9235) to find the amounts to enter on line 26. She then
page 66.

Laura figures the deduction for one-half of the self-employment tax by dividing the amounts on line 34 by the annualization amounts for each period. The annualization amounts are:

- 8 for the first period,
- 4.8 for the second period,
- 3 for the third period, and
- 2 for the fourth period.

For 2008, there are four rate periods to figure your underpayment. Use Rate Period 1 (lines 27 and 28) to apply the 6% rate in effect from April 16, 2008, through June 30, 2008. Use Rate Period 2 (lines 29 and 30) to apply the 5% rate in effect from July 1, 2008, through September 30, 2008. Use Rate Period 3 (lines 31 and 32) to apply the 6% rate in effect from October 1, 2008, through December 31, 2008. Use Rate Period 4 (lines 33 and 34) to apply the 5% rate in effect from Aid for counting days. Table 4-1 (see page 61) provides a simple method for counting the number of days between payment dates or between a due date and a payment date.

1. Find the number for the date the payment due was being across the column of the month the payment was due and moving from right to left.
2. In the same manner, find the number for the date the payment was made.
3. Subtract the date “number” from the payment date “number.”

For example, if a payment was due on June 15 (61), but was not paid until November 4
(203), the payment was late (203 – 61 days late).

Payments. Before completing Section B, make a list of the payments you made after the due date (or the last day payments could be made on time) for the earliest payment period an underpayment occurred. If you had an underpayment for the first payment petiod, list your payments after April 15, 2008. You can use the table in the Form 2210 instructions to make your list. Follow those instructions for listing income tax withheld and payments made with your return. Use the list to determine when each underpayment was paid.

Underpayment paid in two or more parts. If an underpayment was paid in two or more parts on different dates, you must figure the penalty separately for each part. You may find it helpful to show the underpayment on Section A, line 25, broken down into the amounts paid on different dates. See lines 29 and 30 of Figure 4-B (Con-
)
Figuring the penalty. For each underpayment on line 25, column (a) _−_(d), figure the penalty by:

1. Determining the date(s) an underpayment was paid.
2. Determining the number of days between the due date and the payment date(s), and
3. Multiplying the amount of underpayment by the number of days unpaid and the appropriate penalty rate.

If an underpayment remained unpaid for more than one rate period, the penalty on that underpayment will be figured using more than one rate.

Use lines 27, 29, 31, and 33 to figure the number of days the underpayment remained unpaid. Use lines 28, 30, 32, and 34 to figure the actual penalty amount by applying the rate against the underpayment for the number of days it remained unpaid.

If an underpayment remained unpaid for the entire period, use Table 4-2 to determine the number of days to enter for each period.

Example 1. In the previous example for Ben Brown (see Regular Installment Method on page 57), he determined that he had an underpayment for all four payment periods. See Ben's completed Section A in Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65.

Ben's 2008 tax is $7,031. His minimum required payment for each period is $1,529 ($6,116 ÷ 4). His $3,228 withholding is considered paid in four equal installments of $807, one on each payment due date. Therefore, he must make estimated tax payments of $722 ($1,529 − $807) each period. However, Ben made only two estimated tax payments—$1,000 on August 29, 2008, and $1,000 on January 12, 2009. He plans to file his return and pay his balance due on April 15, 2009. He is considered to have made the following payments for tax year 2008:

- April 15, 2008  $ 807
- June 15, 2008  $ 807
- August 29, 2008  $ 1,000
- September 15, 2008  $ 807
- January 12, 2009  $ 1,000
- January 15, 2009  $ 807

1. One-fourth of withholding
2. Estimated tax payment

Penalty for first payment period (April 15, 2008) − column (a). Ben's $722 underpayment for the first period payment was paid by applying $722 of his $807 payment on June 15, 2008. The $722 remained unpaid 61 days (April 16 through June 15, 2008). Ben enters "61" on line 27 and figures this part of the penalty on line 28 ($722 × (61 ÷ 366) ÷ 0.06 = 72.22). See his completed Section B in Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65.

Penalty for second payment period (June 15, 2008) − column (b). Ben figures his second period underpayment as follows:

1. Of the $807 he paid for the second period, $722 is applied to the underpayment remaining from the first period.
2. That leaves $85 ($807 − $722) to apply to his second period required installment of $1,529.
3. The result, $1,444 ($1,529 − $85), is Ben's underpayment for the second period.

The $1,444 underpayment is paid in two parts by applying the $1,000 paid on August 29 and $444 of his $807 September 15 payment. To help him figure the penalty, Ben shows the date of each payment on line 25.

All of the underpayment remained unpaid for 15 days (June 16 through June 30), $1,000 of the underpayment remained unpaid for 60 additional days (July 1 through August 29) and $444 remained unpaid for 77 additional days (July 1 through September 15). Ben enters "15" on line 27, column (b), and "60" and "77" on line 29, column (b). He shows the result of all penalty computations on lines 28 and 30 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65).

Penalty for third payment period (September 15, 2008) − column (c). Ben figures his third period underpayment as follows:

1. Of the $1,807 he paid for the third period, $1,444 is applied to the underpayment remaining from the second period.
2. That leaves $363 ($1,807 − $1,444) to apply to his third period required installment of $1,529.
3. The result, $1,166 ($1,529 − $363), is Ben's underpayment for the third period.

The $1,166 underpayment is paid in two parts by applying his $1,000 payment on January 15 and $166 of his $807 payment on January 15. On line 22, Ben shows the date of each payment.

For Rate Period 2, the entire underpayment ($1,166) remained unpaid 15 days (September 16 through September 30). Ben enters "15" on line 29. He shows the result of the penalty computation on line 30 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65).

For Rate Period 3, the entire underpayment ($1,166) remained unpaid 92 days (October 1 through December 31). Ben enters "92" on line 31. He shows the result of the penalty computation on line 32 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65).

For Rate Period 4, $1,000 of the underpayment remained unpaid for 12 days (January 1 through January 12) and $166 remained unpaid for 15 days (January 1 through January 15). Ben enters "12" and "15" on line 33. He shows the result of both penalty computations on line 34 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65).

Penalty for fourth payment period (January 15, 2009) − column (d). Ben figures his fourth period underpayment as follows.

1. Of the $1,807 he paid for the fourth period, $1,166 is applied to the underpayment remaining from the third period.
2. That leaves $641 ($1,807 − $1,166) to apply to his fourth period required installment of $1,529.
3. The result, $888 ($1,529 − $641) is Ben's underpayment for the fourth period.

The $888 underpayment was paid April 15, 2009, with his tax return. The $888 remained unpaid 90 days (January 16 through April 15, 2009). Ben enters that number on line 33 and shows the result of the penalty computation on line 34 (see Figure 4-B (Continued) on page 65).

Total penalty. Ben's total penalty for 2008 is $56.55, the total of all amounts on lines 28, 30, 32, and 34 in all columns. Ben enters that amount on line 76 of his Form 1040. He also adds $57 to his $1,603 tax balance and enters the $1,660 total on line 75. He files his return on April 15 and includes a check for $1,860. He keeps his completed Form 2210 for his records.

Example 2. In the previous example for Laura Maple (under Completing Schedule AI on page 58), her first underpayment was for the last payment period. See Laura's completed Section A in Figure 4-C (Continued) on page 67.

This example illustrates completion of Part IV, Section B, of Laura's Form 2210 under the annualized income installment method.

Laura made the following payments for tax year 2008:

- April 15, 2008  $ 372
- June 15, 2008  $ 372
- August 15, 2008  $ 100
- September 15, 2008  $ 372
- December 3, 2008  $ 500
- January 15, 2009  $ 372

1. One-fourth of withholding
2. Estimated tax payment

Penalty for fourth payment period − column (d). Laura's $940 underpayment for the fourth payment period was paid on April 15, 2009, with her tax return. The entire amount remained unpaid 90 days (January 16 through April 15, 2009). Laura enters that number on line 33. She shows the result of the penalty computation on line 34 (see Figure 4-C (Continued) on page 67).

Total penalty. Laura's total penalty for 2008 is $31.59, the amount on line 34. Laura enters this amount on line 76 of her Form 1040. She also adds $12 to her $1,278 tax balance and enters the $1,290 total on line 75. She files her return on April 15 and includes a check for $1,290. Because she used the annualized income installment method, she must attach Form 2210, including Schedule AI, to her return and check box C in Part II.
Farmers and Fishermen

If you are a farmer or fisherman, the following special rules for underpayment of estimated tax apply to you.

1. The penalty for underpaying your 2008 estimated tax will not apply if you file your return and pay all the tax due by March 2, 2009. If you are a fiscal year taxpayer, the penalty will not apply if you file your return and pay the tax due by the first day of the third month after the end of your tax year.

2. Any penalty you owe for underpaying your 2008 estimated tax will be figured from one payment due date, January 15, 2009.

3. The underpayment penalty for 2008 is figured on the difference between the amount of 2008 withholding plus estimated tax paid by the due date and the smaller of:
   a. 66²/₃% (rather than 90%) of your 2008 tax, or
   b. 100% of the tax shown on your 2007 return.

Even if these special rules apply to you, you will not owe the penalty if you meet either of the two conditions discussed on page 55 under Exceptions.

See Who Must Pay Estimated Tax in chapter 2 for the definition of a farmer or fisherman who is eligible for these special rules.

Form 2210-F. Use Form 2210-F to figure any underpayment penalty. Do not attach it to your return unless you check box 1a or box 1b. However, if neither box applies to you and you owe a penalty, you do not need to complete Form 2210-F. The IRS can figure your penalty and send you a bill.

Waiver of Penalty

The IRS can waive the penalty for underpayment if either of the following applies.

1. You did not make a payment because of a casualty, disaster, or other unusual circumstance and it would be inequitable to impose the penalty.

2. You retired (after reaching age 62) or became disabled in 2007 or 2008 and both the following requirements are met.
   a. You had a reasonable cause for not making the payment.
   b. Your underpayment was not due to willful neglect.

How to request a waiver. To request a waiver, complete Form 2210 as follows.

1. Check box A or B in Part II.

2. If you checked box A, complete only page 1 of Form 2210.

3. If you checked box B:
   a. Complete line 1 through line 16 (or lines 1 through 9 and 18 through 34 if you became disabled in 2007 or 2008) without regard to the waiver.
   b. Enter the amount you want waived in parentheses on the dotted line next to line 17 (line 35 for the regular method).
   c. Subtract this amount from the total penalty you figured without regard to the waiver. Enter the result on line 17 (line 35 for the regular method).

4. Attach Form 2210 and a statement to your return explaining the reasons you were unable to meet the estimated tax requirements.

5. If you are requesting a penalty waiver due to retirement or disability, attach documentation that shows your retirement date (and your age on that date) or the date you became disabled.

6. If you are requesting a penalty waiver due to a disaster, attach documentation such as police and insurance company reports. The IRS will review the information you provide and decide whether or not to grant your request for a waiver.

Federally declared disaster. Certain estimated tax payment deadlines for taxpayers who reside or have a business in a federally declared disaster area are postponed for a period during and after the disaster. During the processing of your tax return, the IRS automatically identifies taxpayers located in a covered disaster area (by county or parish) and applies the appropriate penalty relief. Do not file Form 2210 if your underpayment was due to a federally declared disaster. If you still owe a penalty after the automatic waiver is applied, we will send you a bill.

Individuals, estates, and trusts not in a covered disaster area but whose books, records, or tax professionals’ offices are in a covered area are also entitled to relief. Also eligible are relief workers affiliated with a recognized government or charitable organization assisting in the relief activities in a covered disaster area. If you meet either of these eligibility requirements, you must call the IRS disaster hotline at 1-866-562-5227 and identify yourself as eligible for this relief.

Details on the applicable disaster postponement period can be found at http://www.irs.gov/Individuals/index.html. Select: Tax Relief in Disaster Situations and then the federally declared disaster that affected you.

Table 4-1. Calendar To Determine the Number of Days a Payment Is Late

Instructions. Use this table with Form 2210 if you are completing Part IV, Section B. First, find the number for the payment due date by going across to the column of the month the payment was due and moving down the column to the due date. Then, in the same manner, find the number for the date the payment was made. Finally, subtract the due date number from the payment date number. The result is the number of days the payment is late.

Example. The payment due date is June 15 (61). The payment was made on November 4 (203). The payment is 142 days late (203 − 61).

Do You Have To File Form 2210?

Complete lines 1 through 7 below. Is line 7 less than $1,000?

Yes  Do not file Form 2210. You do not owe a penalty.

No  Complete lines 8 and 9 below. Is line 6 equal to or more than line 7?

Yes  You do not owe a penalty. Do not file Form 2210 (but if box E in Part II applies, you must file page 1 of Form 2210).

No  You may owe a penalty. Does any box in Part II below apply?

Yes  Do not file Form 2210. You are not required to figure your penalty because the IRS will figure it and send you a bill for any unpaid amount. If you want to figure it, you may use Part III or Part IV as a worksheet and enter your penalty amount on your tax return, but do not file Form 2210.

No  You are not required to figure your penalty because the IRS will figure it and send you a bill for any unpaid amount. If you want to figure it, you may use Part III or Part IV as a worksheet and enter your penalty amount on your tax return, but file only page 1 of Form 2210.

Next: Is line 9 more than line 6?

☐ Yes. You may owe a penalty, but do not file Form 2210 unless one or more boxes in Part II below applies.

- If box B, C, or D applies, you must figure your penalty and file Form 2210.
- If only box A or E (or both) applies, file only page 1 of Form 2210. You are not required to figure your penalty; the IRS will figure it and send you a bill for any unpaid amount. If you want to figure your penalty, you may use Part III or IV as a worksheet and enter your penalty amount on your tax return, but file only page 1 of Form 2210.

Part II  Reasons for Filing. Check applicable boxes. If none apply, do not file Form 2210.

A  You request a waiver (see page 2 of the instructions) of your entire penalty. You must check this box and file page 1 of Form 2210, but you are not required to figure your penalty.

B  You request a waiver (see page 2 of the instructions) of part of your penalty. You must figure your penalty and waiver amount and file Form 2210.

C  Your income varied during the year and your penalty is reduced or eliminated when figured using the annualized income installment method. You must figure the penalty using Schedule AI and file Form 2210.

D  Your penalty is lower when figured by treating the federal income tax withheld from your income as paid on the dates it was actually withheld, instead of in equal amounts on the payment due dates. You must figure your penalty and file Form 2210.

Underpayment Penalty for 2008

Can You Use the Short Method?
You may use the short method if:
- You made no estimated tax payments (or your only payments were withheld federal income tax), or
- You paid the same amount of estimated tax on each of the four payment due dates.

Must You Use the Regular Method?
You must use the regular method (Part IV) instead of the short method if:
- You made any estimated tax payments late,
- You checked box C or D in Part II, or
- You are filing Form 1040NR or 1040NR-EZ and you did not receive wages as an employee subject to U.S. income tax withholding.

Note: If any payment was made earlier than the due date, you may use the short method, but using it may cause you to pay a larger penalty than the regular method. If the payment was only a few days early, the difference is likely to be small.

Do You Have To File Form 2210?

Yes

Do not file Form 2210. You do not owe a penalty.

No

Complete lines 1 through 7 below. Is line 7 less than $1,000?

Yes

Complete lines 8 and 9 below. Is line 6 equal to or more than line 9?

Yes

You may owe a penalty. Does any box in Part II below apply?

Yes

You are not required to figure your penalty because the IRS will figure it and send you a bill for any unpaid amount. If you want to figure it, you may use Part III or Part IV as a worksheet and enter your penalty amount on your tax return, but do not file Form 2210.

No

You may owe a penalty. Do not file Form 2210.

Part I | Required Annual Payment

| 1 | Enter your 2008 tax after credits from Form 1040, line 56 (see instructions if not filing Form 1040) |
| 2 | Other taxes, including self-employment tax (see page 2 of the instructions) |
| 3 | Refundable credits. Enter the total of your earned income credit, additional child tax credit, credit for federal tax paid on fuels, health coverage tax credit, refundable credit for prior year minimum tax, first-time homebuyer credit, and recovery rebate credit |
| 4 | Current year tax. Combine lines 1, 2, and 3. If less than $1,000, you do not owe a penalty; do not file Form 2210 |
| 5 | Multiply line 4 by 90% (.90) |
| 6 | Withholding taxes. Do not include estimated tax payments. (see page 2 of the instructions) |
| 7 | Subtract line 6 from line 4. If less than $1,000, you do not owe a penalty; do not file Form 2210 |
| 8 | Maximum required annual payment based on prior year’s tax (see page 2 of the instructions) |
| 9 | Required annual payment. Enter the smaller of line 5 or line 8 |

Next: Is line 9 more than line 6?

No. You do not owe a penalty. Do not file Form 2210 unless box E below applies.

Yes. You may owe a penalty, but do not file Form 2210 unless one or more boxes in Part II below applies.

A You request a waiver (see page 2 of the instructions) of your entire penalty. You must check this box and file page 1 of Form 2210, but you are not required to figure your penalty.

B You request a waiver (see page 2 of the instructions) of part of your penalty. You must figure your penalty and waiver amount and file Form 2210.

C Your income varied during the year and your penalty is reduced or eliminated when figured using the annualized income installment method. You must figure the penalty using Schedule Al and file Form 2210.

D Your penalty is lower when figured by treating the federal income tax withheld from your income as paid on the dates it was actually withheld, instead of in equal amounts on the payment due dates. You must figure your penalty and file Form 2210.

E You filed or are filing a joint return for either 2007 or 2008, but not for both years, and line 8 above is smaller than line 5 above. You must file page 1 of Form 2210, but you are not required to figure your penalty (unless box B, C, or D applies).

Section B—Figure the Penalty

Part IIV Regular Method

Penalty. Add all amounts on lines 28, 30, 32, and 34 in all columns. Enter the total here and on Form 1040, line 76; Form 1040A, line 48; Form 1040NR, line 74; Form 1040NR-EZ, line 26; or Form 1041, line 26. Do not file Form 2210 unless you checked a box in Part II.

Chapter 4 Underpayment Penalty for 2008

Worksheet 4-1. 2008 Form 2210, Schedule AI—Line 12
Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet

Note. To figure the annualized entries for lines 2, 3, and 5 below, multiply the expected amount for the period by the annualization amount for the same period.

1. Enter line 11 of your Schedule AI, or line 3 from Worksheet 4-2 . 1. ____________

2. Enter your annualized qualified dividends for the period . 2. ____________

3. Are you filing Schedule D?
   ☐ Yes. Enter the smaller of your annualized amount from line 15 or line 16 of Schedule D.
   ☐ No. Enter your annualized capital gain or (loss) from Form 1040, line 13

4. Add lines 2 and 3 . 4. ____________

5. If you are claiming investment interest expense on Form 4952, enter your annualized amount from line 4g of that form. Otherwise, enter -0- . 5. ____________

6. Subtract line 5 from line 4. If zero or less, enter -0- . 6. ____________

7. Subtract line 6 from line 1. If zero or less, enter -0- . 7. ____________

8. Enter the smaller of:
   • The amount on line 1, or
   • $32,550 if single or married filing separately, $65,100 if married filing jointly or qualifying widow(er), $43,650 if head of household . 8. ____________

9. Is the amount on line 7 equal to or more than the amount on line 8?
   ☐ Yes. Skip lines 9 and 10; go to line 11 and check the "No" box.
   ☐ No. Enter the amount from line 7 . 9. ____________

10. Subtract line 9 from line 8 . 10. ____________

11. Are the amounts on lines 6 and 10 the same?
    ☐ Yes. Skip lines 11 through 14; go to line 15.
    ☐ No. Enter the smaller of line 1 or line 6 . 11. ____________

12. Enter the amount from line 10 (if line 10 is blank, enter -0-) . 12. ____________

13. Subtract line 12 from line 11 . 13. ____________

14. Multiply line 13 by 15% (.15) . 14. ____________

15. Figure the tax on the amount on line 7. Use the Tax Table or Tax Computation Worksheet in the 2008 Form 1040 instructions, whichever applies . 15. ____________

16. Add lines 14 and 15 . 16. ____________

17. Figure the tax on the amount on line 1. Use the Tax Table or Tax Computation Worksheet in the 2008 Form 1040 instructions, whichever applies . 17. ____________

18. Tax on all taxable income. Enter the smaller of line 16 or line 17. Enter this amount on line 12 of Schedule AI . 18. ____________
Worksheet 4-2.  2008 Form 2210, Schedule AI—Line 12
Foreign Earned Income Tax Worksheet

Before you begin: If Schedule AI, line 11, is zero for the period, do not complete this worksheet.

1. Enter the amount from line 11 of Schedule AI for the period .................................. .
2. Enter the annualized amount* of foreign earned income and housing amount excluded or deducted (from Form 2555, lines 45 and 50, or Form 2555-EZ, line 18) in figuring the amount entered for the period on line 1 of Schedule AI .
3. Add lines 1 and 2 .
4. Tax on the amount on line 3. Use the Tax Table, Tax Computation Worksheet, Form 8615, Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Worksheet, or Schedule D Tax Worksheet, whichever applies. See the 2008 Instructions for Form 1040, line 44, to find out which tax computation method to use. (Note. You do not have to use the same method for each period on Schedule AI.) .
5. Tax on the amount on line 2. Use the Tax Table or Tax Computation Worksheet, whichever applies, from the 2008 Form 1040 instructions .
6. Subtract line 5 from line 4. Enter the result here and on line 12 of Schedule AI. If zero or less, enter ‘-0-’.

* To figure the annualized amount for line 2, multiply the exclusion for the period by the annualization amount on line 2 of Schedule AI for the same period.

 If you use Form 8615 to figure the tax on line 4 above, enter the amount from line 3 above on line 4 of Form 8615. If the child’s parent files Form 2555 or 2555-EZ, enter the amounts from lines 3 and 4 of the parent’s Foreign Earned Income Tax Worksheet on lines 6 and 10, respectively, of Form 8615. Complete the rest of Form 8615 according to its instructions. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

 Enter the amount from line 3 above on line 1 of the Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet (or Worksheet 4-1 in this chapter) or the Schedule D Tax Worksheet, whichever worksheet you use to figure the tax on line 4 above. Complete that worksheet through line 6 (line 10 if you use the Schedule D Tax Worksheet). Next, determine if you have a capital gain excess.

Figuring capital gain excess. To find out if you have a capital gain excess for the appropriate period, subtract line 11 of Schedule AI from line 6 of Worksheet 4-1 or your Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet (line 10 of your Schedule D Tax Worksheet). If the result is more than zero, that amount is your capital gain excess.

No capital gain excess. If you do not have a capital gain excess, complete the rest of Worksheet 4-1, Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, or the Schedule D Tax Worksheet according to the worksheet’s instructions. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Capital gain excess. If you have a capital gain excess, complete a second Worksheet 4-1, Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, or Schedule D Tax Worksheet (whichever applies) as instructed above but in its entirety and with the following additional modifications. Then complete lines 5 and 6 above.

Make these modifications only for purposes of filling out Worksheet 4-2 above.

a. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 3 of your Worksheet 4-1, line 3 of your Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, or line 7 of your Schedule D Tax Worksheet by your capital gain excess.

b. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount you otherwise would enter on line 2 of your Worksheet 4-1, Qualified Dividends and Capital Gain Tax Worksheet, or Schedule D Tax Worksheet by any of your capital gain excess not used in (a) above.

c. Reduce (but not below zero) the amount on your Schedule D (Form 1040), line 18, by your capital gain excess.

d. Include your capital gain excess as a loss on line 16 of your Unrecaptured Section 1250 Gain Worksheet on page D-9 of the 2008 Instructions for Schedule D (Form 1040).

Note: Additional information and explanations may be found in the 2008 Instructions for Form 1040, line 44.
5. How To Get Tax Help

You can get help with unresolved tax issues, order free publications and forms, ask tax questions, and get information from the IRS in several ways. By selecting the help that is best for you, you will have quick and easy access to tax help.

Contacting your Taxpayer Advocate. The Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) is an independent organization within the IRS whose employees assist taxpayers who are experiencing economic harm, who are seeking help in resolving tax problems that have not been resolved through normal channels, or who believe that an IRS system or procedure is not working as it should.

You can contact the TAS by calling the TAS toll-free case intake line at 1-877-777-4778 or TTY/TDD 1-800-829-4059 to see if you are eligible for assistance. You can also call or write to your local taxpayer advocate, whose phone number and address are listed in your local telephone directory and in Publication 1546, Taxpayer Advocate Service—Your Voice at the IRS. You can file Form 911, Request for Taxpayer Advocate Service Assistance (And Application for Taxpayer Assistance Order), or ask an IRS employee to complete it on your behalf. For more information, go to www.irs.gov/advocate.

Low Income Taxpayer Clinics (LITCs). LITCs are independent organizations that provide low-income taxpayers with representation in federal tax controversies with the IRS for free or for a nominal charge. The clinics also provide tax education and outreach for taxpayers who speak English as a second language. Publication 4134, Low Income Taxpayer Clinic List, provides information on clinics in your area. It is available at www.irs.gov or at your local IRS office.

Free tax services. To find out what services are available, get Publication 910, IRS Guide to Free Tax Services. It contains lists of free tax information sources, including publications, services, and free tax education and assistance programs. It also has an index of over 100 TeleTax topics (recorded tax information) you can listen to on your telephone.

Accessible versions of IRS published products are available on request in a variety of alternative formats for people with disabilities.

Free help with your return. Free help in preparing your return is available nationwide from IRS-trained volunteers. The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program is designed to help low-income taxpayers and the Tax Counseling for the Elderly (TCE) program is designed to assist taxpayers age 60 and older with their tax returns. Many VITA sites offer free electronic filing and all volunteers will let you know about credits and deductions you may be entitled to claim. To find the nearest VITA or TCE site, call 1-800-829-1040.

As part of the TCE program, AARP offers the Tax-Aide counseling program. To find the nearest AARP Tax-Aide site, call 1-888-227-7669 or visit AARP’s website at www.aarp.org/money/taxaide.

For more information on these programs, go to www.irs.gov and enter keyword “VITA” in the upper-right-hand corner.

Internet. You can access the IRS website at www.irs.gov 24 hours a day, 7 days a week to:

- E-file your return. Find out about commercial tax preparation and e-file services available free to eligible taxpayers.
- Check the status of your 2008 refund. Go to www.irs.gov and click on Where’s My Refund? Wait at least 72 hours after the IRS acknowledges receipt of your e-filed return, or 3 to 4 weeks after mailing a paper return. If you filed Form 8379 with your return, wait 14 weeks (11 weeks if you filed electronically). Have your 2008 tax return available so you can provide your social security number, your filing status, and the exact whole dollar amount of your refund.
- Download forms, instructions, and publications.
- Order IRS products online.
- Research your tax questions online.
- Search publications online by topic or keyword.
- View Internal Revenue Bulletins (IRBs) published in the last few years.
- Figure your withholding allowances using the withholding calculator online at www.irs.gov/individuals.
- Determine if Form 2651 must be filed by using our Alternative Minimum Tax (AMT) Assistant.
- Sign up to receive local and national tax news by email.
- Get information on starting and operating a small business.

Phone. Many services are available by phone.

- Ordering forms, instructions, and publications. Call 1-800-829-3676 to order current-year forms, instructions, and publications, and prior-year forms and instructions. You should receive your order within 10 days.
- Asking tax questions. Call the IRS with your tax questions at 1-800-829-1040.
- Solving problems. You can get face-to-face help solving tax problems every business day in IRS Taxpayer Assistance Centers. An employee can explain IRS letters, request adjustments to your account, or help you set up a payment plan. Call your local Taxpayer Assistance Center for an appointment. To find the number, go to www.irs.gov/localcontacts or look in the phone book under United States Government, Internal Revenue Service.
- TTY/TDD equipment. If you have access to TTY/TDD equipment, call 1-800-829-4059 to ask tax questions or to order forms and publications.
- TeleTax topics. Call 1-800-829-4477 to listen to pre-recorded messages covering various tax topics.
- Refund information. To check the status of your 2008 refund, call 1-800-829-1954 during business hours or 1-800-829-4477 (automated refund information 24 hours a day, 7 days a week). Wait at least 72 hours after the IRS acknowledges receipt of your e-filed return, or 3 to 4 weeks after mailing a paper return. If you filed Form 8379 with your return, wait 14 weeks (11 weeks if you filed electronically). Have your 2008 tax return available so you can provide your social security number, your filing status, and the exact whole dollar amount of your refund. Refunds are sent out weekly on Fridays. If you check the status of your refund and are not given the date it will be issued, please wait until the next week before checking back.
- Other refund information. To check the status of a prior year refund or amended return refund, call 1-800-829-1954.

Evaluating the quality of our telephone services. To ensure IRS representatives give accurate, courteous, and professional answers, we use several methods to evaluate the quality of our telephone services. One method is for a second IRS representative to listen in on or record random telephone calls. Another is to ask some callers to complete a short survey at the end of the call.

Walk-in. Many products and services are available on a walk-in basis.

- Products. You can walk in to many post offices, libraries, and IRS offices to pick up certain forms, instructions, and publications. Some and publications, grocery stores, copy centers, city and county government offices, credit unions, and office supply stores have a collection of products available to print from a CD or photocopy from reproducible proofs. Also, some IRS offices and libraries have the Internal Revenue Code, regulations, Internal Revenue Bulletins, and Cumulative Bulletins available for research purposes.
- Services. You can walk in to your local Taxpayer Assistance Center every business day for personal, face-to-face tax help. An employee can explain IRS letters, request adjustments to your tax account, or help you set up a payment plan. If you need to resolve a tax problem, have questions about how the tax law applies to your individual tax return, or you are more comfortable talking with someone in person, visit your local Taxpayer Assistance Center where you can spread out your
