Overview

The Statistics of Income (SOI) Division staff within the Research, Applied Analytics, and Statistics organization provides Calendar Year (CY) projections of information and withholding documents on an annual basis to ensure they reflect recent filing experiences. These documents also incorporate current legislative and administrative initiatives, wherever possible, as well as relevant economic and demographic trends. Selected economic/demographic data used to develop some of these projections are provided by IHS Markit.
The information and withholding document projections contained in this publication are used primarily by the IRS operational and resource planning functions to assist in formulating their budget submissions and staffing requirements and to complete other analyses. Enacted tax law changes and confirmed administrative plans are reflected in these projections. However, legislative or administrative initiatives under consideration are not included due to the uncertain nature of their eventual outcomes.

Data Sources and Projection Methodology

Three major sets of projections are included in this publication. Table 2 contains all media grand total projections for withholding and other Information Returns Processing (IRP) documents received by the IRS. Table 3 includes the paper portion of the projections, and Table 4 includes the nonpaper portion. All these projections are at the U.S. level. In compliance with customer requests, Tables 5 A-C present projections of all paper documents, except Currency Transaction Reports (CTRs), for IRS processing campuses.

Data Sources and 2021 Actual Volumes

Actual data on the volume of IRP documents filed are provided by program staff from the operating divisions and the Information Technology Services division. Data sources include: Martinsburg Computing Center (MCC) IRP Reformat Report (405-02-13); IRMF (Information Returns Master File) Report (417-91-40); CAWR (Combined Annual Wage Reporting) W-2 Control Report; IRP Counts for Social Security and Railroad Retirement Benefit Statements (1099-SSA/RRB); Paper IRP Production Report from SCRIPS (Service Center Recognition Image Processing System); other campus sources; and the national calendar year Currency Transaction Report receipts. Counts for nonpaper Foreign Person's U.S. Source Income Subject to Withholding (Forms 1042S) were provided by relevant program staff. Nonpaper counts of Foreign Information Returns were provided by operating division program staff.

U.S.-Level Forecasts

The U.S.-level grand total (all media) projections were forecasted through a combination of time series extrapolations and regression analysis, as well as adjustments for law changes and administrative plans. Each form type was forecasted separately. In some instances, regression models were developed using appropriate economic/demographic variables. In other instances, forecasts for grand total volumes were built from historical time trends. Time trend models were used to forecast the paper IRP document volumes by form type. Projections of most IRP nonpaper documents were then derived by subtracting the IRP paper documents from the grand total projections.

Filing Requirements for Form 1098-F

Fines, Penalties, and Other Amounts (Form 1098-F) is submitted by a government entity and certain nongovernmental entities to report each fine, penalty, or other amount that is paid in relation to violation of law or investigation into potential violation of law, pursuant to a court order or agreement. It is expected that government and nongovernmental entities will be required to file Form 1098-F beginning with Tax Tear (TY) 2022.

The Taxpayer First Act

Section 2102 of the Taxpayer First Act (TFA), enacted on July 1, 2019, required the IRS to establish an online portal by January 1, 2023, for taxpayers to prepare and electronically file the numerous variants of the information return Form 1099. This provision reduces the number of paper Forms 1099 filed starting with CY 2023. To estimate the impact of this provision on the volume of paper returns, diffusion models or logistic decay curves were derived from appropriate economic covariates for some of the Forms 1099. In addition, adoption rates based on online usage trends of other tax forms were developed and applied.
Section 2301 of the Taxpayer First Act reduced the electronic filing requirement from persons filing more than 250 returns during a calendar year to 100 returns and then to 10 returns. At the time of this publication, the implementation of the proposed regulation was postponed to CY 2024. The electronic filing requirement remains at 250 returns through CY 2023. For the most current information, refer to the Federal Register or IRS.gov/form1099.

The Protecting Americans from Tax Hikes (PATH) Act of 2015
The PATH Act, P.L. 114-113, Div. Q, section 201, accelerated the due date for filing a Form 1099 that includes Nonemployee Compensation (NEC) from February 28 to January 31 and eliminated the automatic 30-day extension for forms that include NEC. Beginning with TY 2020, filers should use Form 1099-NEC to report nonemployee compensation, which was previously filed using the Form 1099-MISC. Projections presented in the 2022 update of Publication 6961 used year-to-date CY 2022 filing observations between the Forms 1099-MISC and 1099-NEC to implement a level shift in their projected volumes.

Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act

The PATH Act, P.L. 114-113, Div. Q, section 201, accelerated the due date for filing a Form 1099 that includes Nonemployee Compensation (NEC) from February 28 to January 31 and eliminated the automatic 30-day extension for forms that include NEC. Beginning with TY 2020, filers should use Form 1099-NEC to report nonemployee compensation, which was previously filed using the Form 1099-MISC. Projections presented in the 2022 update of Publication 6961 used year-to-date CY 2022 filing observations between the Forms 1099-MISC and 1099-NEC to implement a level shift in their projected volumes.

American Rescue Plan Act

Payment Card and Third Party Network Transactions (Form 1099-K) is filed by a payment settlement entity to report payments made in settlement of reportable payment transactions. The American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 changed the reporting threshold of more than 200 transactions per year and exceeding an aggregate amount of $$ 20,000$ to a new threshold of $$ 600$, regardless of the number of business transactions. Under the law, beginning January 1, 2023, third-party settlement organizations are required to generate 1099-K forms for taxpayers who were paid more than $$ 600$ in 2022. However, the IRS released guidance in December 2022 to delay the implementation of the lowered threshold to help smooth the transition and ensure clarity for taxpayers, tax professionals, and industry. The requirement of a lower threshold will be enacted for tax returns for CY 2023, resulting in a significant increase in the projected numbers of 1099-K forms starting from CY 2024.

Campus-Level Forecasts and Impact of Modernization Alignment

The SCRIPS enables IRS campuses to optically scan most paper Information Returns Processing (IRP) documents. As a result, the IRS has been consolidating the filing/processing of most of these forms since CY 2007. Starting in CY 2019, the paper Partner's or Shareholder's Share of Income, Deductions, Credits, etc. (Schedule K-1 series) documents have been handled exclusively by the Kansas City and Ogden campuses. The Ogden campus processes paper returns submitted from the international area. Processing of all other information return paper documents was performed in the Austin, Kansas City, and Ogden campuses. The CY 2024 and beyond state-to-campus mapping for processing paper information and withholding returns was not finalized as of August 2022. As a result, the campus-level paper returns projections presented in this update of Publication 6961 for CY 2024 and beyond are based on the campus alignments approved in CY 2021 and, therefore, should be used with caution.

Table 6 reflects the campus alignment of states/international for processing paper Schedules K-1 and international documents approved in CY 2021. Tables 7A, 7B, and 7C show the alignment of states by campus for processing all other paper documents.

Significant Trends and Revisions

The major trends and other significant factors embedded in the return forecasts for this edition of Publication 6961 are summarized below.

For calendar year (i.e., filing year) 2023, the grand total number of information and withholding documents projected in this update is about 35.9 percent ( 1.5 billion forms) more than the total volume projected last year (see Table 1, left side). A major portion of the net increase is driven by the increase in the projections of Proceeds from Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions (Form 1099-B) (i.e., 1.5 billion more returns) as well as the increase in the projections of Nonemployee Compensation (Form 1099-NEC) (i.e., 89.2 million more returns). The higher projections of Form 1099-B returns are the result of the anticipated impact of the new Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act. Form 1099-NEC was added to Publication 6961 starting with the 2022 update.

For paper submissions of information and withholding documents, the CY 2023 estimate is about 20.1 percent (i.e., 6.7 million forms) less than the paper volumes projected in last year's update of this publication (see Table 1, right side). Embedded in this net change for paper volumes is a decrease of 21.5 million returns in the forecasted Miscellaneous Income (Form 1099-MISC) filed and a decrease of a few other paper forms. These results are also based on actual CY 2021 and year-to-date CY 2022 filing experiences. Adjustments were made to the baseline paper forecasts of Forms 1099 documents to account for the anticipated drop in the forecasts starting with CY 2023 (see Table 3) based on the regulation stated in section 2102 of the Taxpayer First Act.
