2009 Gifts

by Melissa J. Belvedere

The Federal gift tax is one component of the Federal transfer tax system, which also includes the estate tax and the generation-skipping transfer tax. The gift tax is levied on gifts given during a donor's life, known as inter vivos gifts, while the estate tax is imposed on the right to transfer property at death. The generation-skipping transfer tax ensures that wealth is taxed at each successive generation.

Donors file Form 709, United States Gift (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, to report gifts made during a given calendar year. The data presented here are for gifts given in 2009 and reported on forms filed with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) during 2010; the Statistics of Income Division (SOI) of IRS collects data from samples of gift tax returns. There were 223,093 returns filed during 2010, approximately 89 percent of which reported gifts given during 2009. The remaining 11 percent of returns were filed to report gifts given prior to 2009; these returns are considered an appropriate proxy for gifts made in 2009 that will be reported in subsequent years.

Background Information

Congress added the gift tax to the United States transfer tax system in 1924. ${ }^{1}$ Gift tax rates were set equal to estate tax rates, and there were provisions for both an annual exclusion and a lifetime exemption. The annual exclusion is the amount that a donor can give to any single recipient during a given year without incurring tax (the number of donees is unlimited); the lifetime exemption is the total amount the donor can transfer tax-free over the course of his or her lifetime.

Congress made various changes to gift tax law in subsequent years. All gifts to charitable organizations, regardless of amount, were made tax exempt in 1932. The estate tax marital deduction, which allowed one spouse to give an amount of up to half of his or her adjusted gross estate (excluding community property) to the other spouse without incurring estate tax, was introduced in 1948. The Act also introduced the split-gift rule, which allowed the donor spouse to treat one-half of a gift as having been made by the non-donor spouse for tax purposes. The splitgift rule effectively doubled the amount that a donor could give to any single recipient without incurring tax liability.

Congress significantly restructured gift tax law with the Tax Reform Act of 1976. The Act unified the system of estate and gift taxation, imposing a single, graduated tax rate schedule on all gifts, and created the unified credit, which replaced both the estate tax exclusion and the lifetime gift exemption. The Act also introduced the generation-skipping tax. Only relatively minor changes to gift tax law have been made since 1976.

2009 Gifts—Overview

Of the 223,093 Forms 709 filed for Gift Year 2009 (Figure A), 213,448 were nontaxable (95.7 percent), and 9,645 were taxable ( 4.3 percent). Tax liability is calculated after making adjustments for annual exclusions, marital deductions, and charitable deductions. Female donors accounted for 54.9 percent of all returns filed and 63.3 percent of all taxable returns.

There were 867,507 donees, or gift recipients, for gifts given in 2009 (Figure B). The majority of gift recipients, 84.3 percent, were relatives of the donor. As in prior years, children and grandchildren received the highest percentages of gifts reported for 2009, some 50.3 percent and 24.2 percent, respectively. Gifts to all other relatives accounted for an additional 9.8 percent of the total. Charitable organizations received only 1.4 percent of all gifts reported on Form 709.

Most gifts (67.3 percent, or $$ 25.5$ billion) were given directly, meaning that recipients immediately had full use and enjoyment of the gifts (Figure C). Gifts through trust, where the donee's use of the gift is controlled by a trustee, accounted for the remaining 32.7 percent ( $$ 12.4$ billion) of the gifts. A trust is a legal entity that holds property and assets transferred to it by one person, known as the settler or grantor, for the benefit of one or more beneficiaries. Family trusts, which are designed to allow assets to be passed from one generation to the next, were the most common trust type used, comprising $$ 2.8$ billion, or 7.3 percent, of all gifts given. Compared to women, men gave more through split-interest trusts, which are trusts that have both charitable and noncharitable beneficiaries. Male donors gave $$ 604.1$ million through split-interest trusts, or 67 percent of all gifts through this trust type. Overall, male and female donors gave nearly the same amounts in 2009, with female donors accounting for 52.8 percent of the total amount of gifts given.

Most gifts were in the form of cash which represented 47.5 percent ( $$ 18$ billion) of total gifts (Figure D). Cash represented the largest share of gift amounts reported on both taxable and nontaxable returns. Gifts of real estate and stock made up the second and third largest shares of total gifts, 18.4 percent and 16.2 percent of the total, respectively. The asset composition of gifts reported on taxable returns differed somewhat from the composition reported of nontaxable returns. The most significant difference was in the share of gifts in the form of real estate, which made up 21.1 percent of taxable gifts, but only 8 percent on returns with no tax liability. The shares of cash and stock gifts were lower on taxable returns than on returns with no tax liability.

ing 2010 were to report gifts made during 2009. The remaining approximately 11 percent of returns filed during 2010 reported gifts made prior to Calendar Year 2009. These included fiscal year filers, taxpayers who were granted extensions to file their gift returns, and late-filed returns. They are considered an appropriate proxy for gifts made in 2009 that will be reported in subsequent filing periods.

The Form 709, United States Gift (and Gen-eration-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return, study is an annual study based on a stratified random sample. Returns are stratified based on tax status (taxable or nontaxable) and size of total gifts. Tax status is determined based on the amount of tax liability reported on the return in Part 2, Line 15. The amount of total taxable gifts is the sum of gifts given during a specific calendar year, prior to reductions for the annual exclusion amounts and the marital and charitable deductions.

There are four strata of nontaxable returns and five strata of taxable returns, based on the amount of total deductions. Nontaxable returns with total gifts of less than $$ 100,000$ were sampled at a rate of 1.01 percent; rates increased as the amount of total taxable gifts increased, up to a rate of 100 percent for returns with total gifts of $$ 1.05$ million or more. Taxable returns with total gifts of less than $$ 100,000$ were sampled at a rate of 4.47 percent; rates increased to 100 percent for taxable returns reporting gifts of $$ 1$ million or more. The final sample included 5,001 nontaxable returns and 2,882 taxable returns.

Weights were applied, by strata, to each return in the sample to create population estimates. All weights were calculated by dividing the final population count by the final sample count for each stratum. Weights were adjusted to account for missing returns and returns rejected from the final sample. Selected coefficients of variation, which measure sampling error, are shown in Figure E.

Selected Terms and Concepts

Annual exclusion-The amount that a donor can give to any single beneficiary, within a given tax year, without incurring Federal gift tax. For gifts given in 2009, the annual exclusion amount was $$ 13,000$.

Charitable deduction-Completed, outright transfers to a qualifying charitable organization entitle the donor to take a deduction for the full amount of the transfer. Gifts given through trust must meet various legal requirements in order for the donation to qualify for a charitable deduction.

Marital deduction-Gifts between spouses, either during life or at death, qualify the donor for an unlimited marital deduction for the full amount of the transfer.

Maximum unified credit-A credit applied as a dollar-for-dollar reduction in both gift and estate taxes. The unified credit represents the amount of tax on that part of gross estate that is below the filing requirement. The credit may be used to offset gift taxes on lifetime transfers made after 1976.

However, to the extent it is so used, the amount of credit available at death is reduced.

Net tax on current period gifts-Net tax is calculated as the tentative tax on current period gifts, less the applied unified credit and applied foreign gift tax credits, which are credits allowed for gift taxes paid to other countries with which the U.S. has gift tax treaty provisions.

Tax status-Returns can be considered taxable or nontaxable, based on the amount of tax liability reported on Part 2, line 15 of the return. Gift tax returns with a positive amount of reported liability are taxable returns; those with no reported liability are nontaxable.

Trust-An independent legal entity governed by a trust agreement, created when one party (known as the grantor or settler) transfers ownership of assets to the trust under the control of a trustee, for the benefit of a third-party beneficiary. Trusts can be either simple or complex. Simple trusts are those that are required to distribute all income in the tax year in which it is earned, that neither distribute nor reserve any money for charitable purposes, and that do not distribute amounts from the corpus of the trust. Complex trusts are those that are not, by definition, simple trusts.

*Indicates that estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based $\mathrm{d}=$ Data were deleted to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data. However, the data are included in the appropriate totals.
[1] This is the value of total gifts reported by the donor after gifts have been split between the donor and the consenting spouse.
[2] An unlimited marital deduction is available for all outright transfers to a donor's spouse. The deduction is available for gifts to trusts only under limited circumstances,
[3] An unlimited charitable deduction is available for all outright transfers to qualified charities. The deduction is available for gifts to trusts only if the trust meets certain requirements.
[4] This is the amount of taxable gifts (total gifts less exclusions and deductions) for the current year.
[5] This is the amount of taxable gifts (total gifts less exclusions and deductions) for all prior tax years in which the donor transferred property.
[6] This is the value of available unified credit that is applied to the gift tax liability in the current period, as reported on Part 2, Line 12 of Form 709. It is the lesser of available unified credit less the specific exemption amount (reported on Part 2, Line 10 of Form 709) or tax on current period gifts.
[7] This is the sum of reported value of gift tax on current period gifts and generation-skipping transfer taxes.
NOTES: Detail may not add to totals due to taxpayer reporting discrepancies and processing tolerances. "Number" shown in Columns 1, 3,5, etc. refers to the number of returns.
