STATISTICS OF INCOME, FROM RETURNS OF NET INCOME FOR 1926

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE,
Washington, D. C., September, 24, 1928.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit herewith a report comprising a statistical analysis of the income tax returns for 1926 filed by individuals, corporations, and partnerships during 1927 and of the estate tax returns, irrespective of the date of death of the decedent, likewise filed during 1927. The report also contains an historical presentation of the income and tax liability reported by individuals and corporations since the inception of the present period of income taxation under the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution.

The income tax returns for 1926 were filed under the provisions of the revenue act of 1926. The year for which the income tax returns are filed is in general the calendar year. However, approximately 8 per cent of the corporation returns showing net income of \$2,000 and over, representing nearly $11\frac{1}{4}$ per cent of the total net income for corporations, and a negligible number of individual returns are for a fiscal year other than the calendar year. These returns are tabulated with the calendar year returns for the year in which the greater part of their accounting period falls. Thus there are included with the returns for the calendar year 1926, returns whose fiscal year ends after June 30, 1926, but not later than June 30, 1927.

The statistics contained in this report are based on the taxpayers' returns as received, unaudited except for a preliminary examination to insure proper execution of the return. All income tax returns filed by individuals having net income of $5,000 and over and all returns filed by corporations, regardless of the size of net income, pass through the statistical section, and the data are tabulated from each of these returns. A sample of approximately 250,000 of the returns filed by individuals reporting net income of less than $5,000 was analyzed, and the data obtained considered as fairly representative of such returns. The average results from this sample group were applied to the total number of individual returns, showing net income of less than $5,000, to determine the data as published for these returns.

Throughout this report "net income" means the excess of gross income, as defined in the revenue act effective for the year for which the returns are filed, over the deductions claimed by the taxpayer under the provisions of the respective acts; and for the purpose of distribution by income classes, the net income of individuals includes "capital net gain from sale of assets held more than two years." Similarly "deficit" means excess of deductions over gross income. Credits allowed individuals, such as personal exemption, credit for dependents, "net loss for prior year," and "loss from the sale of capital assets held more than two years" (beginning with 1924) are not included in deductions; neither is the special credit of $2,000 for domestic corporations having net income of $25,000 or less, nor "net loss for prior year," included in deductions in arriving at net income of corporations.

The classification on which the corporation returns are distributed into industrial groups is based on the predominant business of the corporations. The groups, however, do not represent corporations engaged purely in the industries in which they are classified, due to closely affiliated corporations filing consolidated returns, which include the income and deductions of the subsidiary or affiliated concerns. If such subsidiary or affiliated concerns could be classified independently of the consolidated returns, they would fall in industrial divisions other than the ones in which they are included.

The data for States and minor civil divisions, although compiled from returns filed in each locality, do not represent what may be called the geographical distribution of income, there being no way of ascertaining from the income tax returns the amount of income originating in the respective States or the amount of tax paid on that basis, as income reported by an individual or corporation in one State may have been derived from sources in other States.

An individual files his income tax return in the collection district in which his legal residence or principal place of business is located, and a corporation files its income tax return in the collection district in which its principal place of business or the principal office or agency is located.

The amount of income tax liability returned for 1926, shown in the tabulations in this volume, is not altogether comparable with the amount of taxes collected during the calendar year 1927. A variety of factors is responsible for this discrepancy, several of the important of which are—

1. The amount of tax originally reported on the returns does not always represent precisely the amount of tax paid for the reason that an adjustment may be made after the data have been taken from the original returns for the statistics of income. These adjustments may result in additional assessments, thereby increasing the tax liability; or, in certificates of overassessment, thereby decreasing the tax liability. An amended return has the same effect as an adjustment.

2. Income and profits taxes paid to foreign governments or possessions of the United States are deductible from income taxes payable to the United States but are not deducted in the amount of tax liability shown herein. The aggregate amount of income and profits taxes paid to foreign governments or possessions of the United States reported by individuals and corporations is, however, shown.

3. The amount of income taxes in fiscal year returns included in this tabulation may not represent taxes collected during 1927 on such returns. Fiscal year returns are required to be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the third month after the end of the fiscal year and payment, as in the case of calendar year returns, is required at the time when the return is filed, or in four quarterly installments. The first of the quarterly installments is due when the return is filed. Thus, during the calendar year 1927, collections were made of part or all of the taxes in returns for fiscal years ended from January 31,

1926 (the last quarterly installment payment on which was due on or before January 15, 1927), to September 30, 1927 (the filing of returns and the full payment or first installment payment on which for the fiscal year ended on the latter date was due on or before December 15, 1927); whereas, as described above, there are excluded from these statistics those returns for fiscal years ending prior to July 1, 1926, and subsequent to June 30, 1927.

4. Delays in payment due to financial embarrassment, death, liquidation of business, or any other cause result in collection of taxes after the close of the year in which such taxes are due, and the classification of such collections as "back taxes," because made in a subsequent year. Certain amounts are uncollectible due likewise to the above causes.

5. Current collections include such interest and penalty items as are received during the year in connection with delinquent payments on returns for 1926.

INDIVIDUAL INCOME TAX RETURNS

The returns for 1926 filed by individuals numbered 4,138,092, of which 2,470,990 were taxable and 1,667,102 nontaxable. The aggregate net income was $21,958,505,649 and the tax liability $732,470,790. As compared with the returns filed for the previous year the number for 1926 decreased by 32,959, or seventy-nine one-hundredths of 1 per cent. The total net income shows an increase of $63,929,246, or twenty-nine one-hundredths of 1 per cent, whereas the tax shows a decrease of $2,084,393, or twenty-eight one-hundredths of 1 per cent. The average net income is $5,306.43, the average amount of tax liability $177.01, and the average tax rate 3.34 per cent. For the preceding year the average net income was $5,249.16, the average amount of tax liability was $176.11, and the average tax rate 3.35 per cent. The proportion of the population filing returns was 3.52 per cent, which for the preceding year was 3.60 per cent.

DISTRIBUTION BY STATES AND BY INCOME CLASSES OF NUMBER OF RETURNS, NET INCOME AND TAX (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The distribution of the returns of individuals and the net income and tax reported therein, by States and Territories, are shown in basic Table 1, pages 71-73. Table 2, pages 74-76 distributes the same data by income classes.

SIMPLE AND CUMULATIVE DISTRIBUTION BY INCOME CLASSES, OF NUMBER OF RETURNS, NET INCOME AND TAX (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The distribution of the returns, by income classes, is exhibited in the following table, which shows the number of returns filed, the amount of net income and tax reported; also cumulative totals and relative percentages. In basic Table 3, pages 77-79 a similar distribution of the number of returns, net income, and tax is shown by more detailed income classes.

INCOME EXEMPT FROM NORMAL TAX (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The net income specifically exempt from normal tax through personal exemption, credits for dependents, dividends, interest on Government obligations not wholly exempt from tax, capital net gain from sale of assets held more than two years, net loss for prior year, and net income subject to normal tax are shown in the following table:

CAPITAL NET LOSS FROM SALE OF ASSETS HELD MORE THAN TWO YEARS (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

Under the revenue acts of 1924 and 1926, loss from the sale of capital assets held more than two years is not deductible in arriving at ordinary net income subject to normal tax and surtax, if by deducting such loss, the tax is less than by taking a tax credit of 12½ per cent of the amount of such loss. The revenue acts of 1918 and 1921 permitted such loss to be deducted in arriving at ordinary net income. In order, therefore, that the amounts shown as "net income" and "general deductions" in the Statistics of Income for 1924-1926 be made comparable with prior years, it is necessary that such losses be deducted from "net income" and that "general deductions" be increased by a like amount. These adjustments have not been made in the "net income" and "general deduction" figures shown in the Statistics of Income for these years.

Capital net loss from sale of assets held more than 2 years reported on individual income tax returns for 1926.....	$34, 574, 016
Tax credit of 12½ per cent.....	4, 321, 752

NET LOSS FOR PRIOR YEAR (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The net loss during a given taxable year in a trade or business regularly carried on by the taxpayer, as specifically defined in the revenue acts of 1921, 1924, and 1926, is allowed as a deduction in computing the net income of the taxpayer for the succeeding taxable year. If such net loss is in excess of the net income (computed without such deduction) for that year, the amount of the excess may be carried over and allowed as a deduction in computing the net income for the next succeeding taxable year.

The net losses for prior years have not been included in the "deduction" and are therefore not deducted from "net income" shown in this volume. The "net loss for prior year" reported on individual income tax returns for the years 1922 to 1926 inclusive, is given below:

Return for year:	Amount
1922.....	$45, 220, 859
1923.....	34, 266, 149
1924.....	29, 869, 182
1925.....	32, 321, 310
1926.....	27, 411, 767

CREDIT OF 25 PER CENT OF TAX ON EARNED NET INCOME (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The credit of 25 per cent of the tax on earned net income applies to the tax on the first $5,000 of taxable net income, and if specifically earned, to the tax on an amount not exceeding $10,000 under the revenue act of 1924 applicable to returns for 1924, and to an amount not exceeding $20,000 under the revenue act of 1926 applicable to returns for 1925 and 1926.

Earned net income tax credit reported on returns for the years 1924-1926 is as follows:

1925.....	24, 570, 183

INCOME FROM BUSINESS REPORTED BY INDIVIDUALS HAVING NET
INCOME FROM ALL SOURCES OF $5,000 AND OVER

The income derived from business other than from partnerships reported by individuals whose net income from all sources was $5,000 and over is shown according to the nature of the business in the following tables for 1926 and 1925. These data represent only such amounts reported by individuals as were derived from business operations conducted as sole proprietors and do not necessarily indicate the principal occupation of, or the total income reported by, the person making the return.

The income from business on the returns showing net income of less than $5,000 is not given by industrial divisions for 1926, as the sample of the returns in this class previously referred to was not sufficiently comprehensive to determine the number of businesses in each industrial division.

RETURNS, BY COUNTIES AND CITIES (INDIVIDUAL RETURNS)

The number of returns of individuals filed for the calendar year 1926, by counties, cities, townships, and post offices, is shown in basic Table 11 (pp. 178–312). This tabulation does not represent an exact count of returns for each civil division, but is a very close approximation of the number of returns filed. The following method is used: Index cards of the returns of net income filed in each collection district are prepared in the offices of the collectors of internal revenue. These cards are arranged by counties and cities, and the number is calculated by measurement on the basis of a certain number of cards to the inch.

PARTNERSHIP RETURNS OF INCOME

Partnership returns, except for the war excess-profits tax of 1917, are not subject to direct assessment, the income being reported in the individual returns filed by the copartners according to their distributive share, whether distributed or not.

The number of returns of net income filed by partnerships from 1917 to 1926, inclusive, is as follows:

Year:	Number	Year:	Number
1917.....	31, 701	1922.....	287, 959
1918.....	100, 728	1923.....	304, 996

CORPORATION INCOME TAX RETURNS

Corporation income tax returns for 1926 numbered 455,320, of which 258,134 show net income aggregating $9,673,402,889 and tax $1,229,797,243. For the calendar year 1925 corporations filed 430,072 returns, of which 252,334 show net income totaling $9,583,683,697 and tax of $1,170,331,206. The tax rate for 1926 is 13½ per cent as compared with 13 per cent for 1925. Had the returns for 1926 been made at 13 per cent, the tax would have been about $1,184,249,175, or $45,548,068 less than at the higher rate.

DISTRIBUTION, BY INDUSTRIAL GROUPS, OF NUMBER OF RETURNS, INCOME, AND TAX (CORPORATION RETURNS)

The table immediately following shows the returns of corporations distributed by industrial groups and segregated according to "Corporations reporting net income," and "Corporations reporting no net income." Basic Table 12 (p. 314), shows the returns distributed by States and Territories and by those showing net income and no net income.

In analyzing the data compiled for corporations classified under "Finance—banking, insurance, real estate and holding companies, stockbrokers, etc.," allowance should be made for the two special deductions from gross income permitted life insurance companies. These special deductions, totaling approximately $400,000,000, represent (1) the excess of 4 per cent of the mean of reserve funds over the tax-exempt interest received by the company, and (2) 2 per cent of the reserve held for deferred dividends. (See pars. (2) and (4) of subdivision (a) of sec. 245 of the revenue act of 1926.)

These special deductions for life insurance companies in basic Tables 13 and 14 are included in "Miscellaneous expense" under "Disbursements," although they are not expense items.

NET LOSS FOR PRIOR YEAR (CORPORATION RETURNS)

The net loss during a given taxable year in a trade or business regularly carried on by the taxpayer, as specifically defined in the revenue acts of 1921, 1924, and 1926, is allowed as a deduction in computing the net income of the taxpayer for the succeeding taxable year. If such net loss is in excess of the net income (computed without such deduction) for that year, the amount of the excess may be carried over and allowed as a deduction in computing the net income for the next succeeding taxable year.

The net losses for prior years have not been included in the "deduction" and are therefore not deducted from "net income" shown in this volume.

Net loss for prior year reported in the corporation returns filed for the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive, is given below:

Return for year:	Amount
1922.....	$501,780,287
1923.....	578,307,088
1924.....	219,727,166
1925.....	243,078,565
1926.....	235,851,912

AMOUNT OF CORPORATION NET INCOME EXEMPT FROM, AND AMOUNT
SUBJECT TO TAX

The corporation net income for the current year subject to tax is reduced by a credit of $2,000 allowed corporations with net incomes of $25,000 or less. For corporations with net incomes in excess of $25,000, but not in excess of $25,270, the method of computing the tax, as provided for in the revenue act, affords a variable amount of credit, but in every case less than $2,000. A deduction for "Net loss for prior year" from net income for the current year is likewise permitted. The net income reported, also the net income not subject to, and the amount subject to tax in corporation returns for 1926 are shown below:

Net income.....	$9, 673, 402, 889
Net income not subject to tax:
Net loss for prior year.....	$235, 851, 912
Specific credit of $2,000 for corporations with net income, not in excess of $25,000, and a variable amount of credit for cor- porations with net income in excess of $25,000 but not in excess of $25,270 (esti- mate).....	318, 659, 718
Total.....	554, 511, 630
Net income subject to tax.....	9, 118, 891, 259

DIVIDEND DISTRIBUTION (CORPORATION RETURNS)

The amount of cash and stock dividends paid to shareholders on the capital stock of domestic corporations, as reported in the corporation income-tax returns for 1926, is shown by States and Territories in basic Table 12 and by industrial divisions in basic Table 13. A presentation of the aggregate amounts of dividends distributed for the years 1922 to 1926, inclusive, for all corporations is given below.

RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS (CORPORATION RETURNS)

The income statement of corporation receipts and disbursements, also net profit (or deficit) deductions, net income, tax, net profit after deducting tax, and cash and stock dividends, distributed by major industrial groups, is shown in basic Table 13, pages 315-326. Part 1 shows the data for all corporations, part 2 for corporations reporting net income, and part 3 for corporations reporting no net income. Basic Table 14, pages 327-329 shows for all corporations the income and disbursement items expressed in percentages of total receipts and the profits from sales in percentages of gross sales.

PERCENTAGE OF GROSS PROFITS FROM SALES TO GROSS SALES (CORPORATION RETURNS)

The following table presents for the years 1922–1926, inclusive, comparable percentages for gross profits from sales to gross sales. In basic Table 10 of Statistics of Income for 1924 and 1925, the items for “gross profits from sales” are expressed as percentages of total receipts, while in the reports for 1922, 1923, and 1926 they are shown as percentages of gross sales.

For this purpose gross profits from sales for industrial divisions, in which service is the controlling factor, are eliminated as not being comparable with industries in which the sale of commodities predominates. These divisions are transportation and other public utilities; service—professional, amusements, hotels, etc.; finance—banking, insurance, and related business; combinations—predominant industry not ascertainable; and inactive concerns.

The table affords only an approximate comparability of the industrial divisions, due to consolidated returns being filed for closely affiliated corporations, and as elsewhere stated, although the returns are classified on the basis of the predominant business activity, such consolidated returns frequently include income from businesses which, if they could be classified independently of the consolidated returns, would fall in industrial divisions other than the ones in which they are included.

The following table shows for corporations, distributed by size of net income and size of deficit, the number of returns, amount of net income and deficit, amount of tax, and relative percentages. ASSETS AND LIABILITIES (CORPORATION RETURNS)

In the tables immediately following is shown for 359,449 corporations out of 455,320 filing income tax returns a summary statement of the principal assets and liabilities as of December 31, 1926, or at the close of the fiscal year nearest thereto, distributed by major industrial divisions, and a comparative statement showing by size of net income, the number of corporation returns filed and the number of balance sheets tabulated. The discrepancy between the number of returns filed and the balance sheets tabulated is caused by lack of data for assets and liabilities. In Table 18 (pp. 360-401) are shown the same data for corporations reporting net income and no net income, distributed by income classes for all industries in aggregate and for each major industrial group separately.

“MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS” IN ASSETS AND LIABILITIES

In the analysis of the balance sheets for the tabulation of assets and liabilities, items not otherwise segregated are included in “Miscellaneous items,” some of which are:

Miscellaneous assets.—Investments in affiliated companies; stocks and bonds other than tax-exempt obligations; loans, mortgages, etc., excepting such as are reported by banks which are included in “notes receivable”; patents, good will, formulas, trade-marks, etc.

Miscellaneous liabilities.—Reserves; accrued expenses; unadjusted credits; deposits (time, saving, demand, etc.) reported by banks; reserves, other funds, capital stock, and surplus for life insurance companies.

Assets and liabilities—Statement prepared from income tax returns of corporations submitting balance sheets, showing major items of assets and liabilities as of December 31, 1926, or at close of fiscal year nearest thereto, by major industrial divisions

CORPORATION FISCAL YEAR RETURNS

The tabulation shown below is compiled from returns filed by corporations whose fiscal year is other than the calendar year. The returns in this compilation are also included in the general tables of corporation income throughout this report and the "statistics of income" for 1925, and fall within one or more of the following conditions: Full 12 months' period, net income of $2,000 and over; net deficit of $500,000 and over; gross sales or other items of $5,000,000 and over, or net loss for prior year deduction. The compilation does not include returns showing net income of less than $2,000 or deficit, unless such returns fall under one or more of the other conditions stated above. The data are presented by industrial groups in part 1, and by months ending the fiscal year in part 2, and by size of net income or deficit in part 3.

In addition to returns for full 12 months, a tabulation is shown comprising the returns filed for a fractional part of the year. These returns likewise fall under the same conditions as to net income, deficit, etc., as govern the returns used in the tabulation for full fiscal years.

The returns filed for a fractional part of the year represent reorganizations, consolidations, disintegrations, newly organized businesses, liquidating corporations, and changes from calendar year to fiscal year or vice versa, and are also included in the general corporation income tables in this report, and in the statistics of income for 1925.

¹ Changes in the revenue acts affecting the comparability of statistical data from income tax returns of individuals are summarized on pp. 37-43.

² This total is exclusive of 7,635 returns of married women made separate from returns of husbands. In 1916 the net income on returns filed separately by husband and wife is combined and the total appears as one return. In all other years the returns of married women filed separately are included in their individual income classes independently of the husband's income.

NOTE.—The returns for 1913 are omitted, as they pertain only to the last 10 months of that year.

¹⁰ Compiled from returns reporting net incomes of $1,500 and over.

In the study of the foregoing table it should be observed that in all years, excepting 1916, the income figures are composed of net gain items. Net losses, when shown on schedules within the returns, are transferred to general deductions, which also contain such other deductions as could not be allocated to any of the sources of income.

The sources of income items for 1916 represent gross income, the deductions not having been allocated to the several sources, but are given in aggregate under "General deductions."

The growth in the number of income tax returns of individuals, by States, from 1916 to 1926, inclusive, showing net income and tax, as well as the average net income and average tax per return, is exhibited in Table 10, pages 168-178.

CHANGES IN TAX LAWS AFFECTING THE COMPARABILITY OF STATISTICAL DATA FROM INCOME TAX RETURNS OF INDIVIDUALS

The following tables, A, B, and C, show for citizens and residents of the United States the minimum income for which income tax returns are required, the personal exemption, credits for dependents, and tax rates under the revenue acts of 1913 to 1926, inclusive.

- A. Individuals required to file returns, personal exemption, credit for dependents, and normal tax rates under the revenue acts, 1913 to 1926, inclusive.
- B. Surtax rates under the revenue acts, 1913 to 1926, inclusive.
- C. Supplemental income taxes and tax credits under the revenue acts of 1917 to 1926, inclusive.

¹ Husband and wife each to file a return unless combined income is included in joint return.

² Net income after deducting personal exemption, credit for dependents, dividends on stock of domestic corporations, and interest not wholly tax-exempt on U. S. obligations issued after Sept. 1, 1927.

³ Net income means "statutory" net income, i. e., the excess of gross income over the deductions as defined in the various revenue acts. Net income has been adjusted from time to time as follows:

(a) Amortization of buildings, machinery, equipment or other facilities constructed or acquired on or after Apr. 6, 1917, for the production of articles contributing to the prosecution of the war, are included to a reasonable amount in business deductions for 1918, 1919, 1920, and 1921.

(b) Contributions to charitable and scientific organizations, etc., not exceeding 15 per cent of the net income before deducting the contributions, are deducted for 1917 and subsequent years. For unlimited deduction of contributions see sec. 214, revenue act of 1924.

(c) Losses sustained in transactions entered into for profit but not connected with business or trade art not deductible for 1913 to 1915, inclusive. For 1916 and 1917, such losses are deductible to the extent of the aggregate income from such transactions; for 1918 and subsequent years, such losses are wholly deductible, excepting that for 1924 and subsequent years the loss, if incurred through the sale of capital assets held for more than 2 years, is deductible from total tax, to the extent of 12½ per cent of the loss. (See Table "C.")

(d) Net loss for prior year. The revenue act of 1918 provides, in the case of a net loss for any taxable year beginning after Oct. 31, 1918, and ending prior to Jan. 1, 1920, for the deduction of such loss from net income of the preceding year, a redetermination of taxes for the preceding year being made, if the net loss exceeds the net income for the preceding year the amount of such excess is to be deducted from the net income of the succeeding taxable year. For 1921 and subsequent years the revenue acts provide for net loss in any year beginning after Dec. 31, 1920, to be deducted from the net income of the succeeding taxable year and if such net loss exceeds the net income for the succeeding year, the amount of such excess is to be allowed in the next succeeding year.

⁴ No provision for head of family in revenue act of 1913.

⁵ Under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

⁶ Tax for 1923 reduced 25 per cent by credit or refund under the revenue act of 1924.

⁷ For net incomes of $5,000 and over, personal exemption is $2,000.

If not established during at least one whole year of the pre-war period, 8 per cent. If, during pre-war period, corporation had either no net income or a very small net income, or if invested capital can not be determined, same per cent as that of representative corporations. (See sec. 210, act 1917.)	Net income equal to 15 per cent of invested capital less credit. Net income in excess of 15 per cent of invested capital but not in excess of 20 per cent of invested capital. ¹ All corporations are required to file returns regardless of amount of net income or loss, except those specifically exempt as mutual, cooperative, fraternal, civic, charitable, scientific, etc., not operating for profit. From Jan. 1, 1918, to Dec. 31, 1921, personal service corporations were treated as partnerships. Prior and subsequent to said dates, such corporations were taxed as other corporations.

² Net income means "statutory" net income, i. e., the excess of gross income over deductions as defined in the various revenue acts. Net income has been adjusted from time to time as follows:

(a) Amortization of buildings, machinery, equipment or other facilities constructed or acquired on or after Apr. 6, 1917, for the production of articles contributing to the prosecution of the war, are included to a reasonable amount in business deductions for 1918, 1919, 1920, and 1921.

(b) Dividends of domestic corporations were entirely tax exempt for 1918 and subsequent years.

(c) Net loss for prior year. The revenue act of 1918 provides, in the case of a net loss for any taxable year beginning after Oct. 31, 1918, and ending prior to Jan. 1, 1920, for the deduction of such loss from the net income of the preceding year, a redetermination of taxes for the preceding year being made. If the net loss exceeds the net income for the preceding year the amount of such excess is to be deducted from the net income of the succeeding taxable year. For 1921 and subsequent years the revenue acts provide for net loss in any year beginning after Dec. 31, 1920, to be deducted from the net income of the succeeding taxable year and if such net loss exceeds the net income for the succeeding year, the amount of such excess is to be allowed in the next succeeding year.

(d) For insurance companies see special provisions in the various revenue acts.

³ Invested capital within the meaning of the statute is the capital actually paid in to the corporation by the stockholders, including surplus and undivided profits (exclusive of that for the current year), stocks, bonds, and other obligations (other than obligations of the United States) the dividends or interest from which are not included in computing net income, and excluding inadmissible assets. (See art. 831 of Regulations 45.)

ESTATE-TAX RETURNS

The following tables are compiled from estate tax returns filed with the bureau in the 12 months ending December 31, 1927, as distinguished from the number of estates of persons who died within the period, the returns not being due until one year after the date of death.

The tax is not imposed upon the property but upon its transfer to others. The transfer is the subject of the tax, not any particular legacy, devise, or distributive share, and the relationship of the beneficiary to the decedent has no bearing upon the tax liability or the extent thereof. The estate tax is not an inheritance tax although popularly referred to as such, the distinction being that the estate tax is imposed on an estate in its entirety.

The gross estate as defined by statute includes transfers made in contemplation of death or intended to take effect at or after death.

The net estate is the gross estate less the sum of authorized deductions, and in the case of resident decedents a specific exemption of $100,000 for individuals who died on or after February 26, 1926, the date the revenue act of 1926 went into effect. Estate tax returns filed under the revenue act of 1926 are allowed a tax credit not to exceed 80 per centum of the total Federal estate tax for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession tax made to any of the several States, Territories, or the District of Columbia. Under the previous revenue acts the specific exemption was $50,000, and under the revenue act of 1924 (effective June 2, 1924) the tax credit for estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes made to any of the several States, Territories, or District of Columbia was limited to 25 per centum of the total Federal estate tax. Prior to the revenue act of 1924 this tax credit was not allowed. For statistical purposes the returns are distributed into classes on the size of the net estate corresponding to the successive brackets specified in the revenue act of 1926.

The tables are based on the data disclosed by the returns as filed but not as determined upon investigation and audit. The tax shown does not correspond with the actual receipts of taxes during the period for the reason that payments may be made at a later date than the filing of the return and for the further reason that field investigation and office audit may disclose deficiency taxes or excess payments which are not reflected in these tables.

Table 1 is based upon returns of estates of resident decedents distributed by size of net estate, showing number of returns, form of property owned by the decedent at the time of death, and nature of deductions entered in the returns under the provisions of the law, net taxable estate, total tax, tax credit and net tax after deducting tax credit.

Table 2 distributes the returns of estates of resident decedents by States and Territories. It shows the total number of returns and aggregate gross estate, net estate, deductions, total tax, tax credit, and net tax after deducting tax credit, as well as the distribution by estates subject to tax and those not subject to tax.

Table 2-A shows the same distribution as Table 2 for estates of resident decedents whose date of death was after February 26, 1926. (Taxed under revenue act of 1926.)
