Statistics of Income

Sole Proprietorship Returns

1957-1984

This is the first edition of the Sole Proprietorship Source Book. It contains statistics on Number of Sole Proprietorships, Business Receipts, Depreciation, Taxes Paid Deduction, Interest Paid Deduction, Payroll, and Net Income (Less Deficit), distributed by industry, for Tax Years 1957-1984. Subsequent years' data will be entered onto the Source Book tape file annually as they become available. The printed publication will be updated every five years.

This publication is a companion volume to the Statistics of Income Division's Source Book, Partnership Returns, 1957-1983, Publication 1289 (9/86) and Source Book, Statistics of Income, 1983 Corporation Income Tax Returns, Publication 1053 (Rev. 4/86)

This publication was prepared by Dorothea Riley under the direction of Peter Sailer, Chief, Individual Special Projects Section, Individual Statistics Branch. The data processing support was provided by Dennis Lakomy of the IRS Data Center and Gloria Williams of the Individual Operations Section, Individual Statistics Branch. Many thanks to Janet Barnhardt (formerly of the Individual Special Projects Section) who provided the initial efforts in gathering data to produce this publication and to Ray Wolfe of the Individual Returns Analysis Section who proofread this description and provided technical advice and assistance. Yvonne Frye provided the typing support.

Number of Businesses & Business Returns

Tax Years 1957 - 1984

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE DATA

The Sole Proprietorship Historical Source Book provides key statistics from nonfarm proprietorship returns (Form 1040, Schedule C) for Tax Years 1957 through 1984 and from farm proprietorship returns (Form 1040, Schedule F) for Tax Years 1957 through 1980. Each page contains statistics for a particular industry. There are 210 industries at the minor level as defined by the 1981 Statistics of Income (SOI) industrial classification. The accounting periods of most returns included for a given year ran from January 1 to December 31, but a few non-calendar year returns are also included. The statistics for each year from 1957 through 1984 are shown on a separate line on the page for each industry. They were obtained by transcribing the information from the annual SOI publications containing sole proprietorship statistics.

The industrial classifications used for the Source Book tables matched those used during Tax Year 1981 SOI processing of sole proprietorship returns. For years in which the industrial classification differed from those used for 1981, the transcribed data were entered in the industry classification in which the returns would have been classified if they had been filed for Tax Year 1981. If no appropriate 1981 industry existed for a given year, the line for that year is printed with dashes and the reader is referred to the General Notes (pages 17-20) to determine where the data for that industry are included.

Additional sole proprietorship statistics can be found in the various Statistics of Income publications [1]. These publications contain more detailed information than can be shown in the Sole Proprietorship Historical Source Book. The items for the Source Book were chosen on the basis of their importance and availability.

The statistics presented in this report are estimates based on stratified probability samples of unaudited Forms 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Returns [2]. Amended and tentative returns were excluded from sampling since the original and final returns, respectively, were subjected to sampling. More detailed information on the statistical samples appears below under "Management of the Sample".

AVAILABILITY OF SOURCE BOOK

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will furnish reproductions of the Sole Proprietorship Historical Source Book. Each page contains data for an industry group (minor, major, division, or all industries). The complete Source Book is made up of 244 pages, the description, a total (all industries) page, and a page for each of the 210 industries. Additional copies of this book are also available.

QUALITY OF SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP IDENTIFICATION

The quality of identification of a sole proprietorship from tax returns was not always precise. The taxpayer sometimes used Schedule C to report employee business expenses, partnership or other nonproprietorship activity, and conversely, sometimes used other parts of the return to report sole proprietorship activity. Generally, the taxpayer's Schedule C must have indicated business activity undertaken for profit whether or not profit was actually reported. For this reason, returns with schedules filed by ministers and public officers were rejected during statistical processing for purposes of this report. Also rejected were returns with schedules reporting only trustee's fees, director's fees, or royalties. On a joint return, if income expenses from one business were divided between husband and wife on two schedules, the schedules were combined and processed as one. These adjustments were made during statistical processing whenever possible; however, not all cases were identifiable. This may have resulted in the incorrect inclusion of a small amount of nonproprietorship activity and the exclusion of some legitimate sole proprietorship activity. One area that should be especially noted because of the extent of misreporting was door-to-door selling and the selling of merchandise at parties in private homes. Generally, such activity was particularly hard to find, if indeed it was shown at all [3]. Excluded from the statistics were sole proprietorship activities reported on the returns of the fiduciary agents of estates and trusts; however, very little business activity was involved on that category of return. For 1974, the most recent year for which these data were published, 33 thousand fiduciary income tax returns with sole proprietorship activity showed a gross profit (business receipts less cost of sales and operations) of $0.6 billion or 4.5 percent of the total for that year [4].

DEFINITION OF TERMS

Number of Businesses

Prior to 1981, the number of sole proprietorship businesses generally represented the number of active businesses operated as sole proprietorships by individuals. However, there were statistical processing criteria that could have affected the counts. Prior to 1981, as many as 20 Schedules C and 19 Schedules F, associated with the same Form 1040 were processed. If more than 20 Schedules C (19 Schedules F) were filed with one Form 1040, the data for those in excess of 19 (18) were combined into one business. The number of non-farm businesses (i.e., the number of Schedules C) is represented by the upper (cross-hatched) line in the chart on page iii.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

For Tax Year 1981 and more current years, data from schedules filed by the same individual were combined in order to simplify statistical processing. The "multiple businesses" reported on a return were all classified into the industrial activity that was dominant, in terms of gross receipts. Industry statistics are affected to the extent that "multiple businesses" may have reflected different business activities in years prior to 1981. In effect, frequencies for 1981 and later years represent the number of returns with a business schedule attached. Total number of returns with Schedule C attached is shown in the lower line in the chart on page iii.

Business Receipts

Business receipts were gross receipts from sales and operations reduced by the cost of returned goods and allowances. They may have included excise and sales taxes which were included in the sales price of the product; some taxpayers reported receipts this way and deducted the taxes as expenses, while others reported their receipts after adjustment for any taxes.

Business receipts represented all income from the operation of the business, including incidental income from such items as sales of scrap or cash rebates that corporations and partnerships generally included in "other receipts." Dividends, interest, rents, royalties, and other investment-type income were generally not included in sole proprietorship receipts, although rents or interest that were actually income from business operations were sometimes included (for example, rents received by real estate operators and interest received by small loan companies).

Business receipts were sometimes classified into two components, "income from sales and operations" and "other business income." "Income from sales and operations" comprised gross receipts or sales from the trade or business. "Other business income," shown for nonfarm businesses only, included sales of scrap, amounts recovered from bad debts, and interest, as well as other kinds of miscellaneous income incidental to operating a business.

Business receipts from farming generally excluded receipts from the sale of livestock held for draft, breeding, dairy, or sporting purposes. Income from the sale of such cattle and horses held for at least 2 years and other livestock (except poultry) held for at least 1 year was reported by the proprietor as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of property, rather than as business receipts.

Depreciation Deduction

The deduction for depreciation permitted a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence of business property in cases where the estimated useful life of the property exceeded one year. A deduction for depreciation was not allowable on inventories or land (apart from the physical improvements or developments to it).

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Several methods of computation were used in determining the depreciation deduction. The most common method was straight-line, whereby an equal amount is deducted in each year of the useful life of the asset. Accelerated methods of depreciation were restricted for certain kinds of real property beginning with 1969. See Statistics of Income--1969, Business Income Tax Returns for a discussion of these restrictions.

In lieu of computing depreciation using separate useful lives for each individual asset, standard lives, based on groupings of assets according to the industrial activities in which they were used, were issued in 1962 as guidelines for establishing the "reasonableness" of the depreciation deduction. These "guideline lives" were modified for 1971 under the "class life asset depreciation range" (CLADR) system. Under this system, the taxpayer grouped assets of the same type acquired in the same year into one or more "vintage" accounts and assigned each account a useful life chosen from a published permissible range of lives. The range of useful lives was generally within 20 percent of the industry-grouped "guidelines lives" established under the previous rules. Use of the 1971 rules did not have to be justified based on past retirement and replacement practices. The only allowable depreciation methods under the system were the straight-line, declining balance, and sum of the years-digits. Salvage value was not to be taken into account in computing depreciation, and no "vintage" account could be depreciated below a reasonable salvage value. Under the CLADR system, depreciation of assets acquired prior to 1971 were depreciated under the revised rules, but no range of useful lives was allowed.

Amounts shown as depreciation include any identifiable depreciation reported by the taxpayer as an operating or manufacturing cost. Also included in the statistics are amounts deducted on leasehold improvements, patents, and copyrights. Additional first-year (Internal Revenue Code Section 179) depreciation was included.

Taxes Paid Deduction

Taxes paid included the amounts reported as an ordinary and necessary business deduction as well as identifiable amounts reported by the taxpayer as part of the cost of sales and operations. Included among the deductible taxes were State and local taxes paid or accrued during a year; social security and payroll taxes; unemployment insurance taxes; import and tariff duties; and business, license, and privilege taxes. Income and profits taxes paid to foreign countries or U.S. possessions were also deductible unless claimed as a credit against income tax. Not deductible were such taxes as Federal income taxes and gift taxes. If the proprietor included in business receipts the sales taxes and excise and related taxes included in the sales price of the products, these taxes also were generally included in the statistics for the deduction for taxes paid.

Interest Paid Deduction

Interest paid in connection with business indebtedness was deductible as an ordinary and necessary business expense. Included in the statistics were amounts of interest paid on installment purchases if they were stated in the contract, as well as certain unstated amounts under Code Section 483.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Payroll Deduction

The payroll deduction was computed during statistical processing. It was the sum of cost of labor reported as a cost of sales and operations and salaries and wages (net of jobs and WIN tax credits) reported as a deduction item. Various kinds of contract labor not actually representing payroll, such as janitorial or secretarial services, were also included. Payments to owners were excluded.

Amounts of payroll were frequently included by taxpayers in other items, such as commissions, legal and professional fees, or repairs. Because of the difficulty in identifying such amounts, they were shown in these tables as reported by the taxpayer. Thus the amount shown for payroll may be understated. On the other hand, overstatement of proxy payroll (defined as the sum of salaries and wages plus cost of labor in order to be consistent with definitions used for other studies) may have occurred due to the inclusion of payments for contract labor such as certain janitorial, secretarial, or agricultural employees not reportable on Forms 941/943 but deducted on the business schedule, probably under cost of labor. For more detailed data on payroll, conceptual limitations posed on it by slightly different terminologies employed across return forms, filing requirements, etc., see Section VI, Data Limitations. [5]

Net Income (Less Deficit)

Net income (less deficit) was the sum of net income (for businesses reporting profit) minus the sum of net deficit (for businesses reporting loss) for all businesses within a particular industry or income classification. Net income or loss for each business was the result of business receipts minus the sum of cost of sales and operations and other business deductions.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATIONS

For Tax Year 1981 and more current years, proprietorship schedules in the sample were examined during statistical processing, and each return was assigned a single code classifying it by industry even though there may have been business activity from several different sources. The information considered was the description of the business activity and principal product or service provided by the taxpayer, the sources of the taxpayer's income, and the nature of the reported expenses. For tax years prior to 1981, the same procedures were followed generally with respect to each Schedule C filed. [6] The industry classifications used were based on the 1972 Standard Industrial Classification Manual (SIC), developed by the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs in the Office of Management and Budget.

The SIC industry classifications were sometimes consolidated or modified because the information available from tax returns for determining business activity was limited or because every industry was not well represented in the statistical sample. Moreover, some industries are typically better represented by one type of business than another; for example, sole proprietorships and partnerships are more heavily involved than corporations in the trade and service industries. In contrast, the manufacturing industries are more heavily represented by the corporate type of business. Most industry groups used in this report are equivalent to a two-, three-, or four-digit industry level in the SIC system. However, a few groups represent a more detailed classification than the four-digit level (for example, the SIC group, "Hotels, motels, and tourist courts" is divided into two groups in this report, "Hotels" and "Motels, motor hotels, and tourist courts"). A comparison of the SIC groupings and the Statistics of Income industries is included in this book.

The Standard Industrial Classification Manual describes an "establishment" as an economic unit, generally at a single physical location, where business is conducted or where services or industrial operations are performed. The definition of an establishment is not necessarily identical with the SOI definition of "a business," which may consist of one or more "establishments" [7]. To illustrate, consider the barber shop which was two different "businesses" for SOI purposes (i.e., two self-employed barbers) in a single "establishment" or the self-employed taxicab driver who has a "business" for SOI purposes, but no "establishment" or fixed place of business [8].

Among Government agencies using the "establishment" reporting unit concept are the Bureau of Labor Statistics and the Bureau of Census [9]. The number of nonagricultural sole proprietorships reported in SOI and by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) are compared below for 1981:

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Number of:
Returns (SOI).....9,584,790
Establishments (BLS).....7,097,000

The estimated number of sole proprietorships from Census and IRS are presented below.

Number of:
Businesses (SOI).....4,854,198
Establishments (Census).....3,749,131

In both of the above comparisons the large discrepancies between SOI figures and those of the other two agencies arise because of differences in the scope of the statistics. The Bureau of Labor Statistics study included only establishments owned by self-employed individuals which had employees, whereas SOI included all sole proprietorships with and without employees. The Census study was limited to establishments in the manufacturing, mining and quarrying, construction, distributive trade, and selected service industries which had employees. Also, the Census study only included those establishments in existence as of a fixed date during the income year. SOI statistics included businesses that were in existence at anytime during the income year, and counted more than once if a business changed ownership one or more times during the year.

PROCESSING CHANGES

The data for 1981 and later are not altogether comparable with data for prior years because of changes in the way the data were processed. First, data from Form 1040, Schedule F (Farm Income and Expenses) were not processed for the SOI sole proprietorship statistics, beginning with Tax Year 1981.

The second processing change initiated for Tax Year 1981 and more current years involved presentation of the statistics. Simply stated, this processing change, called dominant business processing, consolidated all proprietorship activity into one summary business per proprietor resulting in a one-to-one relationship between the number of income tax returns and the number of businesses. For returns with only one proprietorship schedule, (about 97 percent of all returns), this relationship already existed and, for these returns, no change in processing occurred. For returns with multiple businesses, all proprietorship data were combined into one proprietorship summary business bearing the industry designation of the proprietor's dominant business, defined as the business with the largest amount of gross receipts. A similar dominant or principal industrial activity scheme is used in both the SOI corporation and partnership programs. Data from consolidated corporation returns (as defined by law) and from partnership returns are assigned to the principal industry as indicated by the size of total receipts [6].

MANAGEMENT OF THE SAMPLE

While the sample was being selected, the selection process was monitored by applying prescribed sampling rates for each stratum to the population count for that stratum. A follow-up was required to reconcile differences between the actual number of returns selected and the expected number.

In transcribing and tabulating the information from the returns in the sample, checks were imposed to improve the quality of the resulting estimates. Incorrect or missing entries were altered during statistical editing to make them consistent with other entries on the return and accompanying schedules. Data were also adjusted during editing in an attempt to achieve consistent statistical definitions.

Quality of the basic data abstracted at the processing centers was controlled by a number of techniques. Prior to tabulation, each return record was subjected to numerous computer tests to check for inconsistencies. In addition, the Statistics of Income Division in the National Office conducted an independent reprocessing of a small subsample of the returns as a further check on field processing.

Finally, prior to publication, all statistics and tables were reviewed for accuracy and reasonableness in light of provisions of the tax laws, taxpayer reporting variations and limitations, economic conditions, comparability with other statistical series, and statistical techniques used in data processing.

Information on Sampling Variability

The statistics presented in these tables are based on samples and are therefore subject to sampling variability. Those cells which contain estimates based on fewer than 10 returns are marked with an asterisk (*) or, in the case of very small estimates, are not shown at all and replaced with an "A". Generally, these estimates can be expected to have a coefficient of variation (CV) in excess of 30 percent, at the 68 percent confidence level. In other words, one-third of the samples of this size drawn from the given population would yield estimates that vary from the true figure by more than 30 percent. While a higher proportion of the non-footnoted figures should be within 30 percent of the true value, it is generally true that weighted figures of less than 5,000 should be used with extreme caution.

Year-to-year comparability is affected by the method of assigning industry codes as well as the fact that the returns were not stratified by industry. In addition, beginning with 1981, whenever there were receipts from more than one business reported on the return, only the industry code of the business with the largest gross receipts was reflected in the tables. Thus, small variations in gross receipts for each business may cause a different industry code to be assigned from year to year. The comparability of the data is also affected by changes in law, rulings, and regulations (See pages 21-32).

Details concerning confidence intervals, including the approximation of coefficients of variation (CV's) for combined sample estimates, may be obtained on request by writing to the Director, Statistics of Income Division, D:R:S, Internal Revenue Service, 1111 Constitution Ave., N.W., Washington, DC 20224.

NOTES AND REFERENCES

[1] Sole proprietorship statistics were published annually for 1957 through 1976 in the Statistics of Income--Business Income Tax Returns reports. For 1977 through 1981, sole proprietorship statistics were published in the Statistics of Income--Sole Proprietorship Returns reports. For 1982 and beyond, sole proprietorship statistics have been published in the Statistics of Income Bulletins. Statistics for subsequent years will be added to the Source Book tape annually, and to the published tables every five years.

[2] Detailed descriptions of the sample for each year may be found in the corresponding Statistics of Income--Individual Income Tax Returns reports, since the same samples were used to produce the reports. Note that Forms 1040A also were included in the sample, even though they did not contain sole proprietorship data. Also, farm (Schedule F) returns were stratified separately for some tax years, even though no farm statistics for income years beyond 1980 appear in this publication.

[7] This is true especially for larger-size businesses. For smaller-size businesses, the "business" unit often does coincide with the "establishment".

[8] Double counting in SOI may also occur in the case of a business which is sold during a tax year. The "establishment" remains intact, whereas the "business," for SOI purposes, becomes two businesses because each proprietor filed a proprietorship schedule covering that portion of the year that he or she owned the business.

COMPARISON OF STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICATION CODES AND STATISTICS OF INCOME INDUSTRIES FOR SOLE PROPRIETORSHIPS, FORM 1040

Industrial classifications used for sole proprietorships are similar to those used in the Statistics of Income, Partnership Returns and Statistics of Income, Corporation Returns reports. The major difference between partnership and sole proprietorship industries is that the finance, insurance and real estate division for partnerships is more disaggregated due to heavier emphasis on these industries in partnership tabulations. Corporation statistics are classified by principal business activity using the Enterprise Standard Industrial Classification (ESIC) which follows closely along the lines of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) system. "Not allocable" classifications were established for most Statistics of Income (SOI) major industry groups. Businesses designated as not allocable were those with activities not represented by the existing codes within the SOI industry groups or those with not enough information to classify.

SELECTED LEGISLATIVE CHANGES

Shown below are legislative changes affecting sole proprietorship data for Tax Years 1957 through 1983.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1958	Technical Amendments Act of 1958	The taxation of small businesses was changed by allowing owners of small businesses to incorporate and still be taxed as individuals under Subchapter S.
1958	Small Business Tax Revision Act of 1958	Provided an additional, elective, first-year deduction for depreciation of new or used property purchased after December 31, 1957.
1961	Public Law 86-564	Reduced the amount of gross income attributable to mining and thus reduced the depletion allowable.
1963	Self-Employed Individual Tax Retirement Act of 1963	Clearing land for farming could be treated as deductible expenses rather than as capital charges; contributions to retirement plans were required for employees with at least 3 years of service when owners set up retirement plans for themselves.
1964	Revenue Act of 1964	Difference between straight line depreciation and accelerated depreciation in the sale of buildings which resulted in gain no longer treated as capital gain.
1965	Revenue Procedure 65-13	The limit on the amount of depreciation claimed was increased thereby reducing net profit.
1967	Public Law 89-809	Percentage depletion rates were increased for some minerals, thereby reducing net profit.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1969-1970	Tax Reform Act of 1969	Limits were set on accelerated depreciation of real property (land other than residential rental property). These were 150% of straight line for new property and 100% of straight line for used property. Depreciation on residential rental property, limited to 200% of straight line, and that on certain used residential rental property was limited to 125% of straight line. These may have decreased depreciation and increased net profit. However, amortization could be accelerated on low income rental housing, thereby reducing net profit for Real Estate investment. Depreciation expenses for coal mine safety equipment and pollution control facilities could be transferred to amortization, but shorter asset lives meant reduction in net profit. Net casualty and theft losses became deductible from ordinary business income, thus reducing net profit after 1969. After 1969, citrus grove expenses on trees less than 4 years old had to be capitalized instead of deducted from ordinary income, thus increasing net profit. This was one of the first restrictions on tax shelters in Agriculture. Percentage depletion was reduced for many minerals. The maximum rate for oil and gas was reduced from 15 to 22 percent. This increased net profit in Mining.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1969-1970	Tax Reform Act of 1969 (continued)	Gains on the sale of livestock as a result of depreciation (after 1969) were included in ordinary income thus increasing net profit for Agriculture .
1971	Revenue Act of 1970	The tax credit for investment in certain depreciable business property acquired after August 15, 1971, or ordered after March 21, 1971, was restored. It covered primarily machinery and equipment, but it also included livestock other than horses, and assets accessory to a business, such as store counters. The amount of the investment qualifying for the credit depended on the useful life of the property. If the property had a useful life of 7 years or more, the entire investment qualified; if its life was 5 to 7 years, two-thirds qualified; if 3 to 5 years, one-third qualified. The actual credit allowed was 7 percent (4 percent for public utility property) of "qualified investment," limited to $25,000 plus 50 percent of the excess of tax liability over $25,000.
1971	Revenue Act of 1970	Class life asset depreciation range system was instituted allowing 20 percent change in assets lives from existing rules. Salvage value was lower limit of depreciation. Depreciation could increase thus reducing net profit.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1971	Revenue Act of 1970	Expenses on almond groves less than 4 years old had to be capitalized instead of deducted from ordinary income, thus increasing net profit in Agriculture. Capital expenses on property used for training or child-care centers could be amortized over a short 5-year period, thus reducing net profit.
1972	Revenue Act of 1971	A job development tax credit, known as the Work Incentive or WIN Credit was allowed for taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1972. Employers participating in the WIN Program were allowed a credit against their income tax liability of 20 percent of the salaries and wages paid to employees participating in the Federal Work Incentive Program.
1973	Federal Unemployment Tax Act (FUTA) of 1973	The rate of Federal unemployment tax for 1973 was increased from 3.2 percent to 3.28 percent of the first $4,200 of wages paid to each employee during the calendar year. This tax was imposed solely on the employer thus increasing the taxes paid and reducing net profit.
1974	FUTA of 1974	This reversed FUTA of 1973 with respect to the change above.
1975	Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) of 1974	Additional requirements relating to the participation, vesting, and funding of private pension and employee benefit plans were provided. Payments by an employer to an Individual Retirement Arrangement for its employees were deductible.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1975	Tax Reduction Act of 1975	Repealed the 22 percent depletion allowance for foreign oil except for small producers. The maximum allowance was made 65 percent of net income in oil and its producing properties, before depletion (current year). The small producer is one whose production was limited to 2,000 barrels of crude oil. This limitation was reduced 200 barrels a year until 1980. The reduction in depletion claimed increased net income from Mining, Oil and Gas. Income tax regulations pursuant to Section 471 of the code called for the full absorption method of inventory costing so that indirect as well as direct production costs were included in inventory. To the extent that indirect costs were included in unsold inventory, net profit was increased compared to prior years, when such costs were charged off in the current year.
1976	Tax Reform Act of 1976	Amortization of film production and distribution costs was required. This increased net profit for Services compared to prior years, where cash method accounting permitted deduction of production costs from income in current year. Excess in accelerated depreciation over straight line on the sale of residential real estate was recaptured by including it in net profit. Increased net profit in Agriculture and Real Estate.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1976	Tax Reform Act of 1976 (continued)	Net deficit attributed to partners in (1) farming (2) oil and gas extraction (3) motion picture production or distribution or (4) equipment leasing limited to amount invested plus loan liability (recourse loans). "At risk" provisions increased net profit in Agriculture, Mining, and Services. "At risk" limitation for amounts paid or incurred after 1975 for specified activities such as the holding, producing, or distribution of motion picture films or television tapes and equipment leasing was initiated which, if a loss was incurred, would limit net loss shown to zero. Low-income rental housing amortization received a two year extension (from January 1, 1976 to January 1, 1978) of the special 60-month rapid amortization rate for expenditures incurred to rehabilitate low-income rental housing. Also, the amount of rehabilitation expenditures in computing amortization was increased from $15,000 to $20,000 per dwelling unit, thus potentially reducing net profit. Limit to additional first year depreciation that could be passed to partner set at $2,000. This increased depreciation expenses thus decreasing net profit.

1976	Tax Reform Act of 1976 (continued)	Restrictions on farming syndicates: Expenses for feed, seed and fertilizer could only be deducted for year in which they were used; expenses of poultry purchased for sale could only be deducted for year in which sold; and, most costs of groves, orchards, or vineyards had to be depreciated. All of these changes tended to increase net profit in Agriculture in this first year.
1977	Federal Unemployment Tax Act of 1977	The rates for 1977 were increased from 3.28 percent to 3.4 percent of the first $4,200 of wages paid to an employee during the calendar year.
1977	The Tax Reduction and Simplification Act of 1977	Created a new credit against income tax which provided employers with a tax incentive to create new jobs. For Tax Years beginning in 1977, the jobs credit was 50 percent of the amount of which an employer's FUTA wages (limited to $4,200 per employee) paid during Calendar Year 1977 exceed 102 percent of FUTA wages (similarly limited) paid during Calendar Year 1976. There was also an additional 10 percent credit for hiring certain handicapped individuals. There were certain limitations to this credit.
1977	FUTA of 1977	Taxes paid increased from 3.2 to 3.4 percent of salaries up to $4,200 per annum thus decreasing net profit.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1977	Federal Insurance Contribution Act (FICA) of 1977	Taxes paid increased by .0585 times the increase in FICA tax base ($1,200), decreasing net profit.
1977	Revenue Act of 1977	There was an allowance of an additional 2 cents a mile for the cost of operating a motor vehicle during the first 15,000 miles, decreasing net profit.
1978	FUTA of 1978	The wage base subject to the 3.4% unemployment tax was increased $1,800 for each employee. Taxes paid increased and net profit decreased. The limit on the amount of net earnings subject to self-employment tax was increased to $17,700 for 1978. The rate remained at 8.1 percent. Business Energy Investment Credit allowed businessmen who acquired or constructed and put into service qualified energy investment property after September 30, 1978 to claim a business energy investment credit in addition to the regular investment credit if the property qualified for both credits. This credit was determined separately from the regular investment credit and was limited to the amount of tax liability (except for solar or wind energy property on which the credit was refundable).
1978	FICA of 1978	The wage base subject to the FICA tax increased $1,200 and the tax rate was increased for each employee. Taxes paid increased and net profit decreased.

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1979	Revenue Act of 1979	The "at risk" provisions of 1976, which included four industries, were revised so that loss deductions in all industries, except Real Estate, could not exceed investment plus loan liability. This tended to increase net profit income in all industries except Real Estate. Contribution to retirement plans were limited to 15% of compensation or $7,500 per employee. This may have increased net income by limiting deductions. The limit on the amount of net earnings subject to self-employment tax was $22,900 for 1979 and $25,000 for 1980 and the rate was 8.1 percent for both years. The "new jobs credit" for hiring new employees, in effect for Tax Years 1977 and 1978, was replaced for 1979 by a "targeted jobs credit" for hiring the hard core unemployed and other groups with special employment needs. This credit, which was elective, was limited to 50 percent of the first $6,000 of FUTA wages paid by the employer during the employee's first year of employment, and on 25 percent of the wages for the second year of employment. For Tax Year 1979, the investment credit for purchases of machinery and equipment was limited to the tax liability shown on the return or $25,000 plus 60% of the tax liability in excess of $25,000 (whichever was less).

SOLE PROPRIETORSHIP SOURCE BOOK, 1957 - 1984

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1980	FICA Tax Act of 1980	The FICA base was increased by $6,800 and the rate increased slightly for each employee. This increased taxes and reduced net profit.
1981	Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981	For 1981, the investment tax credit was limited to the lesser of income tax liability of $25,000, plus 80 percent of tax liability exceeding $25,000. This was an increase from 70 percent allowed for 1980. For business years ending after July 29, 1980, a taxpayer/sole proprietor could amortize certain start-up costs incurred if he or she investigated, set up, or acquired a business. These start-up costs could be amortized over a period of time that was not less than 60 months, beginning with the month the business started.
1981	Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981	For income year 1981, a new Accelerated Cost Recovery System was established which provided for more rapid cost recovery. This resulted in increased depreciation and reduced net profit.
1981	Internal Revenue Code Section 168	For income year 1981, a new Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS) replaced the Asset Depreciation Range (ADR) system. ACRs could be applied to most depreciable rent and personal property placed in service after December 31, 1980. Businesses with qualifying property were allowed to deduct a part of the cost of the property each year. The ACRs applied accelerated methods of cost recovery over statutory periods for both new and used property held for the production of income.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1981	Internal Revenue Code Section 168 (continued)	Business Use of Home--Taxpayers were permitted to have a principal place of business for each trade or business in which he or she was engaged. However, the taxpayer now had to meet specific tests and the deduction was limited based on the amount of expenses that were directly or indirectly accrued from the business use of the home. The limit on the amount of net earnings subject to self-employment tax was $25,900 for 1980 and $29,700 for 1981. The rate of tax increased from 8.10 percent in 1980 to 9.30 percent in 1981.
1981	Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981	ERTA of 1981 included the Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS) for depreciating assets on an accelerated schedule. In addition to using ACRS, and in place of the "additional first-year depreciation" allowed under prior law, part of the cost of a qualifying business asset could be treated as a current expense. The remaining cost of the asset was then depreciated in the subsequent years. This provision became effective for 1982 because the amount that could be treated as current expense for 1981 was zero.
1982	Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1980 (TEFRA)	The amount of investment credit which could be claimed for any year was increased, resulting in potentially increased net profit. The targeted jobs credit, scheduled to terminate at the end of 1981, was extended for another year, and changes were made to the definitions of the targeted groups to expand them.

Year Effective	Legislation	Possible Impact on Data
1982	Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982 (TEFRA)(continued)	The maximum amount allowable for annual contributions to a self-employed retirement plan (Keogh) was increased from the prior maximum contribution of $7,500. For 1982, it was the lesser of $15,000 or 15 percent of the taxpayer's net self-employed earned income for owner-employees subject to certain limitations.
1983		The allowable investment credit was reduced slightly under 1983 tax law. As below, 10 percent of the value of qualified investment property acquired and placed in service in Tax Year 1983 was allowed as an investment credit. However, the amount of the credit claimed was limited by the amount of tax liability after certain other tax credits, and was further limited as follows: if tax liability exceeded $25,000, a credit could be claimed for $25,000 plus 85 percent of tax liability over $25,000. This limit differed from that of 1982 tax law, which allowed an investment credit of up to $25,000 plus 90 percent of the tax liability in excess of this amount.
1984	The Tax Reform Act of 1984	The rules governing the calculation of the depreciation deduction was affected under the Tax Reform Act of 1984. The extension of the recovery period for real property placed into service after March 15, 1984 under the Accelerated Cost Recovery System (ACRS) was extended from 15 to 18 years. Other changes included a reduction in the maximum amount deductible for depreciation of passenger automobiles and the limitation on the amount which could be expensed currently.

SELF-EMPLOYMENT TAX INSTRUCTIONS

For years ending after December 31, 1954, individuals deriving income from farming operations are subject to self-employment tax. See page 4 for computation of earnings from self-employment and self-employment tax.

Optional method.—A farmer has an option of figuring his net farm earnings for self-employment tax purposes only. If his gross income for the year from farming is not more than $1,800, he may report two-thirds of his gross-farm income instead of his actual net earnings from farming. If his gross income from farm self-employment is more than $1,800 and his actual net earnings from farming are less than $1,200, he may report $1,200. For the purpose of the optional method, a partner should compute his share of gross profits from a farm partnership in accordance with the partnership agreement. In the case of guaranteed payments, his share is his guaranteed payment plus his share of the gross profits after such gross profits are reduced by all guaranteed payments of the partnership.

SHARE-FARMING ARRANGEMENTS

An individual who undertakes to produce a crop or livestock on land belonging to another for a proportionate share of the crop or livestock produced, or the proceeds thereof, is considered to be an independent contractor and a self-employed person rather than an employee. His net earnings should be reported on Schedule F (Form 1040) for income tax and self-employment tax purposes.

Farm rentals.—Rental income from a farm counts for social security purposes if the arrangement provides for material participation by the landlord and he does participate materially in the production of the crop or livestock or in the management of the production of the farm products. Such rental income is farm earnings and should be reported on page 1 or 2 of this schedule. "Material participation" means the taking of an important part in the actual production or in the making of management decisions.

MORE THAN ONE TRADE OR BUSINESS

If an individual is engaged in farming and in one or more other trades or businesses, his net earnings from self-employment are the combined net earnings from self-employment of all trades or businesses carried on by him. Thus, the loss sustained in one trade or business will operate to reduce the income derived from another trade or business. In such cases, use both Schedule F (Form 1040) and Schedule C (Form 1040) to determine net profit from the farm and nonfarm activities, respectively. Make the combined calculation of self-employment tax on page 3 of Schedule C. Fill in only lines 11 through 13 on page 4 of Schedule F.

JOINT RETURNS

Where husband and wife file a joint income tax return, page 4 of this schedule should show the name of the one with self-employment income from farming. Where husband and wife each had self-employment income, a separate Schedule F, or a separate Schedule C, whichever is appropriate, must be filed by each. However, the total of the amounts shown as profit (or loss) from all businesses should, for income tax purposes, be reported on line 8 or 9, on page 1, Form 1040, and the combined self-employment tax should be entered on line 15, page 1, of Form 1040.

COMMUNITY INCOME

For the purpose of computing net earnings from self-employment (but not for income tax), if any of the income from a trade or business is community income, all the income from such trade or business is considered the income of the husband unless the wife exercises substantially all the management and control of the trade or business, in which case all of such income is considered the income of the wife. (Also see instructions on partnerships below.)

If separate income tax returns are filed by husband and wife, a complete Schedule F or Schedule C, whichever is appropriate, must be attached to the return of the one with self-employment income. Community income included on such a schedule must, however, be allocated, for income tax purposes, between the two returns (on line 8 or line 9, page 1, Form 1040) on the basis of the community property laws.

PARTNERSHIPS

In computing his combined net earnings from self-employment, a partner should include his entire share of such earnings from a partnership including any guaranteed payments. No part of that share may be attributed to the partner's wife (or husband) even though the income may, under State law, be community income. However, in the case of a husband and wife farm partnership, like other partnerships, the distributive share of each must be entered as partnership income in Schedule H, page 3, of Form 1040 for income tax purposes, and on line 11(b), page 4, of separate Schedule F for self-employment tax purposes. (Use separate Schedule C, page 3, to report non-farm income for social security purposes.)

EXCLUSIONS FROM SELF-EMPLOYMENT

In determining the amount of net earnings from self-employment from farming, the following items should be excluded:

Real estate rentals.—Rentals from real estate, including any personal property that is leased with the land. This includes rentals received in cash or crop shares. These amounts should be reported in Schedule G of Form 1040. See, however, "Farm Rentals" above which should be reported on page 1 or 2 of this schedule.

Property gains and losses.—Gains and losses from the sale, exchange, or involuntary conversion of capital assets and other property which is not held primarily for sale to customers. These amounts should be reported on separate Schedule D (Form 1040).

Net operating losses.—In determining the net earnings from self-employment, no deduction for net operating losses of other years shall be allowed. Such deduction should be reflected on line 11, page 1, Form 1040.

SCHEDULE SE (FORM 1040)

To assure proper credit to your account, be sure to enter your name and social security account number on Schedule SE (Form 1040) exactly as they are shown on your social security card. If you do not have a social security account number, you must get one. These account numbers are obtainable from any of the approximately 600 Social Security Administration offices throughout the country. The telephone directory or your local post office will give you the address. Do not delay filing your return beyond the due date.

Regardless of whether joint or separate returns, Form 1040, are filed by husband and wife, Schedule SE (Form 1040) must show only the name of the one with self-employment income. If both had net earnings from self-employment, a separate Schedule SE must be filed by each.
