Future Developments

For the latest information about developments related to Form 8050 and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to www.irs.gov/Form8050.

Purpose of Form

File Form 8050 to request that the IRS deposit a tax refund (including a refund of $1 million or more) directly into an account at any U.S. bank or other financial institution (such as a mutual fund or brokerage firm) that accepts direct deposits.

The benefits of a direct deposit include a faster refund, the added security of a paperless payment, and the savings of tax dollars associated with the reduced processing costs.

Who May File

Only a filer requesting a direct deposit refund with its original Form 990-PF, 990-T, 1120-POL, or 4720 may file Form 8050.

The filer is not eligible to request a direct deposit if:

- The receiving financial institution is a foreign bank or a foreign branch of a U.S. bank, or
- The filer has applied for an employer identification number but is filing its tax return before receiving one.

How To File

Attach Form 8050 to the filer's Form 990-PF, 990-T, 1120-POL, or 4720.

Specific Instructions

Line 1. Enter the financial institution's routing number and verify that the institution will accept a direct deposit. See the sample check below for an example of where the routing number may be shown.

For accounts payable through a financial institution other than the one at which the account is located, check with your financial institution for the correct routing number. Do not use a deposit slip to verify the routing number.

Line 2. Enter the filer's account number. Enter the number from left to right and leave any unused boxes blank. See the sample check below for an example of where the account number may be shown.
