Dear :

This responds to a letter dated March 2, 2005, submitted on behalf of X, requesting relief for an inadvertent invalid subchapter S election under § 1362(f) of the Internal Revenue Code.

FACTS

According to the information submitted, X was incorporated on D1 pursuant to the laws of State. X elected to be an S corporation effective on D2. It was discovered that at the time of the S corporation election, a portion of the stock of X was held by an ineligible shareholder, Y. Prior to D3, X was informed by its tax advisors of the invalid election. To rectify the situation, steps were taken to cause Y to become an eligible shareholder on D3.

X and its shareholders have agreed to make any adjustments that the Commissioner may require consistent with the treatment of X as an S corporation.

LAW AND ANALYSIS

Section 1361(a)(1) provides that the term “S corporation” means, with respect to any taxable year, a “small business corporation” for which an election under § 1362(a) is in effect for such year.

Section 1361(b)(1)(B) provides that an S corporation cannot have as a shareholder a person (other than an estate, a trust described in § 1361(c)(2), or an organization described in § 1361(c)(6)) who is not an individual.

Section 1362(d)(2)(A) provides that an election under § 1362(a) will be terminated whenever (at any time on or after the 1st day of the 1st taxable year for which the corporation is an S corporation) such corporation ceases to be a small business corporation. Section 1362(d)(2)(B) provides that the termination shall be effective on and after the date of cessation.

Section 1362(f) provides in relevant part that if (1) an election under § 1362(a) by any corporation was not effective for the taxable year for which made (determined without regard to subsection (b)(2)) by reason of a failure to meet the requirements of § 1361(b) or to obtain shareholder consents, (2) the Secretary determines that the circumstances resulting in such ineffectiveness were inadvertent, (3) no later than a reasonable period of time after discovery of the circumstances resulting in such ineffectiveness, steps were taken (A) so that the corporation is a small business corporation or (B) to acquire the required shareholder consents, and (4) the corporation, and each person who was a shareholder in the corporation at any time during the period specified pursuant to this subsection, agrees to make such adjustments (consistent with the treatment of the corporation as an S corporation) as may be required by the Secretary with respect to such period, then, notwithstanding the circumstances resulting in such ineffectiveness, such corporation shall be treated as an S corporation during the period specified by the Secretary.

CONCLUSION

Based solely upon the facts submitted and the representations set forth above, we conclude that X's S election was ineffective for the taxable year beginning on D2. We also conclude that the ineffectiveness of X's S election constituted an inadvertent invalid election within the meaning of § 1362(f).

Pursuant to the provisions of § 1362(f), X will be treated as continuing to be an S corporation from D2 and thereafter, provided that X's subchapter S election is not otherwise terminated under § 1362(d).

Except as specifically set forth above, no opinion is expressed or implied concerning the federal tax consequences of the above-described facts under any other provision of the Code.
