Dear xxxxxxxxxx:

This letter is in response to your request dated March 11, 2015, as supplemented by correspondence dated June 25, 2015, submitted on your behalf by your authorized representative, in which you request a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement contained in section 408(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code").

The following facts and representations have been submitted under penalty of perjury in support of the ruling requested.

On Date 2, Taxpayer A received a distribution of Amount D from IRA X with the intent to rollover Amount D into a rollover IRA. Taxpayer A asserts that his failure to accomplish a rollover of Amount D within the 60-day period prescribed by section 408(d)(3) of the Code was due to an error committed by Individual M of Bank B.

IRA X was invested in a Certificate of Deposit (CD) which matured on Date 1. Prior to Date 1, Taxpayer A was contacted via telephone by Individual M of Bank B and told that he could receive a better interest rate on IRA X and his savings accounts. On Date 2, Taxpayer A met with Individual M at Bank B and was told that he could obtain a higher interest rate by rolling over IRA X into an IRA CD. Individual M executed withdrawal forms which Taxpayer A signed. Instead of rolling over funds in IRA X, Individual M transferred Amount D into a non-IRA account. Taxpayer A believed the new account was an IRA.

Taxpayer A first became aware that Amount D was not rolled over into another IRA CD account as he intended when he went to his tax preparer for the preparation of his income tax return for year 2010. Taxpayer A immediately contacted Bank B to correct the Form 1099-R that he received, but Bank B refused to do so.

On Date 3, Taxpayer A withdrew Amount D from Bank B and deposited Amount D into his savings account with Bank C.

Taxpayer A represents that upon the advice of his tax preparer, on Date 4, he withdrew Amount D from Bank C and rolled it over into IRA Y.

In a letter from Bank B, it acknowledged its error and stated that Taxpayer A never intended to cause a taxable distribution of funds that he did not touch.

Based on the foregoing facts and representations, you request that the Internal Revenue Service (Service) waive the 60-day rollover requirement contained in section 408(d)(3) of the Code with respect to Amount D.

Section 408(d)(1) of the Code provides that, except as otherwise provided in section 408(d), any amount paid or distributed out of an IRA shall be included in gross income by the payee or distributee, as the case may be, in the manner provided under section 72 of the Code.

Section 408(d)(3) of the Code defines and provides the rules applicable to IRA rollovers.

Section 408(d)(3)(A) of the Code provides that section 408(d)(1) of the Code does not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an IRA to the individual for whose benefit the IRA is maintained if-

- (i) the entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an IRA for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the day on which the individual received the payment or distribution; or
- (ii) the entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an eligible retirement plan (other than an IRA) for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the date on which the payment or distribution is received, except that the maximum amount which may be paid into such plan may not exceed the portion of the amount received which is includible in gross income (determined without regard to section 408(d)(3)).

Section 408(d)(3)(B) of the Code provides that section 408(d)(3) does not apply to any amount described in section 408(d)(3)(A)(i) received by an individual from an IRA if at any time during the 1-year period ending on the day of such receipt such individual received any other amount described in section 408(d)(3)(A)(i) from an IRA which was not included in gross income because of the application of section 408(d)(3).

Section 408(d)(3)(D) of the Code provides a similar 60-day rollover period for partial rollovers.

Section 408(d)(3)(E) of the Code provides that the rollover provisions of section 408(d) do not apply to any amount required to be distributed under section 408(a)(6).

Section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code provides that the Secretary may waive the 60-day requirement under sections 408(d)(3)(A) and 408(d)(3)(D) of the Code where the failure to waive such requirement would be against equity or good conscience, including casualty, disaster, or other events beyond the reasonable control of the individual subject to such requirement. Only distributions that occurred after December 31, 2001, are eligible for the waiver under section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code.

Rev. Proc. 2003-16, 2003-4 I.R. B. 359, provides that in determining whether to grant a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement pursuant to section 408(d)(3)(I), the Service will consider all relevant facts and circumstances, including : (1) errors committed by a financial institution; (2) inability to complete a rollover due to death, disability, hospitalization, incarceration, restrictions imposed by a foreign country or postal error; (3) the use of the amount distributed (for example, in the case of payment by check, whether the check was cashed); and (4) the time elapsed since the distribution occurred.

The information presented and documentation submitted by Taxpayer A is consistent with his assertion that the failure to accomplish a timely rollover was due to an error committed by Bank B.

Therefore, pursuant to section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code, the Service hereby waives the 60-day rollover requirement with respect to the distribution of Amount D from IRA X. Provided all other requirements of Code section 408(d)(3), except the 60-day requirement, are met with respect to such contribution, the contribution of Amount D into IRA Y will be considered a rollover contribution within the meaning of section 408(d)(3) of the Code.

This ruling does not authorize the rollover of amounts that are required to be distributed by section 408(a)(6) of the Code.

No opinion is expressed as to the tax treatment of the transaction described herein under the provisions of any other section of either the Code or regulations which may be applicable thereto.

A copy of this letter is being sent to your authorized representative pursuant to a power of attorney on file in this office.

This letter is directed only to the taxpayer who requested it. Section 6110(k)(3) of the Code provides that it may not be used or cited as precedent.
