Dear :

This is in response to your request dated May 9, 2016, as supplemented by correspondence received on July 26, 2016, in which you request, through your authorized representative, a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement contained in section 408(d)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code").

The following facts and representations have been submitted under penalty of perjury in support of the ruling requested.

Taxpayer A represents that on June 9, 2015, he received a distribution equal to Amount 1 from IRA B, an individual retirement arrangement ("IRA") described in section 408(a) of the Code. Taxpayer A asserts that his failure to accomplish a rollover within the 60-day period prescribed by section 408(d)(3)(A) was due to financial institution error.

Taxpayer A had been a client of Financial Institution C and Individual F, the Vice President of Financial Institution D, for over 10 years. Financial Institution D is affiliated with Financial Institution C. Taxpayer A owned IRA B which was maintained by Financial Institution E. Financial Institution E provides custodial services on behalf of Financial Institution C's clients.

Taxpayer A was preparing for retirement and was advised by Individual F to utilize the 60-day rollover period for IRAs and withdraw the assets of IRA B. Taxpayer A followed Individual F's advice and on June 9, 2015, he received a distribution from IRA B. However, due to mistakes made by Individual F, Taxpayer A was unable to contribute Amount 1 back into an IRA within the 60-day rollover period. On August 11, 2015, two days after the expiration of the 60-day rollover period, Taxpayer A contributed Amount 1 to IRA G, which was also maintained by Financial Institution D. Taxpayer A submitted documentation evidencing the error made by Individual F in his official capacity as the Vice President of Financial Institution D. Taxpayer A represents that Amount 1 has not been used for any other purpose.

Based on the above facts and representations, Taxpayer A requests a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement with respect to the distribution of Amount 1 from IRA B.

Section 408(a) of the Code defines an IRA to mean a trust created or organized in the United States, and requires that the trustee be a bank or an approved non-bank trustee.

Section 408(d)(1) of the Code provides that, except as otherwise provided in section 408(d), any amount paid or distributed out of an IRA shall be included in gross income by the payee or distributee, as the case may be, in the manner provided under section 72.

Section 408(d)(3) of the Code provides the rules applicable to IRA rollovers.

Section 408(d)(3)(A) of the Code provides that section 408(d)(1) does not apply to any amount paid or distributed out of an IRA to the individual for whose benefit the IRA is maintained if:

(i) the entire amount received (including money or any other property) is paid into an IRA for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the day on which the individual receives the payment or distribution; or

(ii) the entire amount received (including money and any other property) is paid into an eligible retirement plan (other than an IRA) for the benefit of such individual not later than the 60th day after the date on which the payment or distribution is received, except that the maximum amount which may be paid into such plan may not exceed the portion of the amount received which is includible in gross income (determined without regard to section 408(d)(3)).

Section 408(d)(3)(B) of the Code provides that section 408(d)(3) does not apply to any amount described in section 408(d)(3)(A)(i) received by an individual from an IRA if at any time during the 1-year period ending on the day of such receipt such individual received any other amount described in section 408(d)(3)(A)(i) from an IRA which was not includible in gross income because of the application of section 408(d)(3).

Section 408(d)(3)(D) of the Code provides a similar 60-day rollover period for partial rollovers.

Section 408(d)(3)(E) of the Code provides that the rollover provisions of section 408(d) do not apply to any amount required to be distributed under section 408(a)(6).

Section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code provides that the Secretary of the Treasury may waive the 60-day requirement under sections 408(d)(3)(A) and 408(d)(3)(D) where the failure to waive such requirement would be against equity or good conscience, including casualty, disaster, or other events beyond the reasonable control of the individual subject to such requirement.

Rev. Proc. 2003-16, 2003-4 I.R.B. 359, provides that the Service will issue a ruling waiving the 60-day rollover requirement in cases where the failure to waive such requirement would be against equity or good conscience, including casualty, disaster or other events beyond the reasonable control of the taxpayer. In determining whether to grant a waiver of the 60-day rollover requirement pursuant to section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code, the Service will consider all relevant facts and circumstances, including: (1) errors committed by a financial institution; (2) inability to complete a rollover due to death, disability, hospitalization, incarceration, restrictions imposed by a foreign country or postal error; (3) the use of the amount distributed (for example, in the case of payment by check, whether the check was cashed); and (4) the time elapsed since the distribution occurred.

The information and documentation submitted are consistent with Taxpayer A's assertion that the failure to accomplish a rollover within the 60-day period prescribed by section 408(d)(3)(A) was due to financial institution error.

Therefore, pursuant to section 408(d)(3)(I) of the Code, the Service waives the 60-day rollover requirement with respect to the distribution of Amount 1. Provided all other requirements of section 408(d)(3), except the 60-day requirement, were met with respect to the contribution of Amount 1 to IRA G, Amount 1 will be considered a rollover contribution within the meaning of section 408(d)(3).
