What's New

Small business taxpayers. For tax years beginning after December 31, 2017, the following apply.

- A small business taxpayer (defined below), may use a method of accounting for inventories that either: (1) treats inventories as nonincidental materials and supplies, or (2) conforms to the taxpayer's financial accounting treatment of inventories.
- A small business taxpayer is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A.

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form 1125-A to calculate and deduct cost of goods sold for certain entities.

Who Must File

Filers of Form 1120, 1120-C, 1120-F, 1120S, or 1065, must complete and attach Form 1125-A if the applicable entity reports a deduction for cost of goods sold.

Inventories

Generally, inventories are required at the beginning and end of each tax year if the production, purchase, or sale of merchandise is an income-producing factor. See Regulations section 1.471-1. If inventories are required, you generally must use an accrual method of accounting for sales and purchases of inventory items.

Exception for certain taxpayers. A small business taxpayer (defined below), can adopt or change its accounting method to account for inventories in the same manner as material and supplies that are nonincidental, or conform to its treatment of inventories in an applicable financial statement (as defined in section 451(b)(3)), or if it does not have an applicable financial statement, the method of accounting used in its books and records prepared in accordance with its accounting procedures. See section 471(c)(3).

A small business taxpayer claiming exemption from the requirement to keep inventories is changing its method of accounting for purposes of section 481. For additional guidance on this method of accounting, see Pub. 538, Accounting Periods and Methods. For guidance on changing to this method of accounting, see Form 3115 and the Instructions for Form 3115.

Small business taxpayer. A small business taxpayer is a taxpayer that (a) has average annual gross receipts of $25 million or less (indexed for inflation) for the 3 prior tax years, and (b) is not a tax shelter (as defined in section 448(d)(3)). See Pub. 538.

Uniform capitalization rules. The uniform capitalization rules of section 263A generally require you to capitalize, or include in inventory, certain costs incurred in connection with the following.

- The production of real property and tangible personal property held in inventory or held for sale in the ordinary course of business.
- Real property or personal property (tangible and intangible) acquired for resale.
- The production of real property and tangible personal property for use in its trade or business or in an activity engaged in for profit.

A small business taxpayer (defined above) is not required to capitalize costs under section 263A. See section 263A(i).

See the discussion on section 263A uniform capitalization rules in the instructions for your tax return before completing Form 1125-A. Also see Regulations sections 1.263A-1 through 1.263A-3. See Regulations section 1.263A-4 for rules for property produced in a farming business.

What's New

For transfers occurring on or after January 1, 2023, Form 8308, Parts I and II have been expanded; and Parts III and IV have been added. Parts I and II request information regarding the record holder, as well as the beneficial owner of the transferor and transferee of the partnership interest. Part I contains a new check box to report if the transferor is foreign. Part III is added to request information regarding the type of partnership interest transferred. Part IV has been added to report, when there is a section 751(a) exchange, the partnership's and the transferring partner's share of section 751 "hot assets" (unrealized receivables and inventory items) gain (loss), collectibles gain under section 1(h)(5) gain (loss), and unrecaptured section 1250 gain under section 1(h)(6).

No returns or statements are required under section 6050K if the transfer wasn't a section 751(a) exchange. For example, a transfer which in its entirety constitutes a gift for federal income tax purposes isn't a section 751(a) exchange.

A partnership may rely on a written statement from the transferor that the transfer wasn't a section 751(a) exchange unless the partnership has knowledge to the contrary. If a partnership is in doubt whether partnership property constitutes unrealized receivables or inventory items or whether a transfer constitutes a section 751(a) exchange, the partnership may file Form 8308 to avoid the risk of incurring a penalty for failure to file.

When to file. Generally, file Form 8308 as an attachment to Form 1065, U.S. Return of Partnership Income, for the tax year of the partnership that includes the last day of the calendar year in which the section 751(a) exchange took place. Form 8308 is due at the time for filing the partnership return, including extensions.

File Form 8308 for the following situations.

- Untimely or incorrect reporting of section 751(a) exchange by a partner to a BBA partnership (a partnership subject to the centralized partnership audit regime under the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015)—If a BBA partnership is notified of a section 751(a) exchange after it has filed its partnership return (and the time for filing a superseding return has expired) and the amount of 751 gain wasn't reported on the transferor partner's Schedule K-1 (Form 1065), or if the section 751(a) exchange was incorrectly reported, then the partnership must file an Administrative Adjustment Request (AAR) and include Form 8308 as an attachment. See the instructions to Forms 8082 and 1065-X for more information on filing an AAR. For additional information, see <<https://www.irs.gov/businesses/partnerships/file-an-administrative-adjustment-request-under-bipartisan-budget-act-of-2015-bba>>. If the partnership is still permitted to file a superseding return, it may do so rather than file an AAR, before the due date of the return, including extensions.

Note. A superseding return is a subsequent return filed within the same filing period as the original return (including extensions). In contrast, an amended return is a subsequent return filed after the extended due date of the original return.

- Untimely or incorrect reporting of section 751(a) exchange by partner to a non-BBA partnership—If a non-BBA partnership is notified of a section 751(a) exchange after it has filed its partnership return (and the time for filing a superseding return has expired) and the amount of 751 gain was not reported on the transferor partner's Schedule K-1 or if the section 751(a) exchange was incorrectly reported, then the partnership must file Form 8308 with an amended Form 1065 within 30 days of notification, with the service center where Form 1065 was filed, and provide amended Schedule K-1s to the affected partner(s). If the partnership is within time to file a superseding return, it may do so rather than file an amended return.

- Non-filing of Form 8308 by the partnership—If a BBA or non-BBA partnership didn't file Form 8308 with its Form 1065 but reported the correct section 751 gain (loss) on its return and on its Schedule(s) K-1 issued to the relevant partner(s), then the partnership must file Form 8308 separately and within 30 days of notification with the service center where Form 1065 was filed. No AAR is needed for BBA partnerships because there is no change to the originally reported section 751 gain (loss) amount.

- Incorrect reporting of section 751(a) exchange on Form 8308 by partnership but correct reporting of section 751(a) exchange on Schedule K-1—If a BBA or non-BBA partnership provided an incorrect Form 8308 to the transferor and transferee by January 31 of the year following the calendar year in which the section 751(a) exchange or, if later, 30 days after the partnership has notice of the exchange, but the partnership corrected the reporting of the section 751(a) exchange on the Schedule K-1 and provided a correct Form 8308 with its Form 1065 filing, then the partnership should provide a corrected Form 8308 to the partners by the filing date of the Form 1065. No AAR or amended return is needed because there is no change to the Form 1065 filing.

- Incorrect reporting of section 751(a) exchange on Schedule K-1 or K-3
  - BBA partnership: If the partnership incorrectly reported the section 751(a) exchange on Schedule K-1 and the period for filing a superseding return has expired, the partnership must file an AAR to make the correction. A correct Form 8308 that also correctly reports the gain should be attached

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

Purpose of form. Form 8308 is filed by a partnership to report the sale or exchange by a partner of all or part of a partnership interest where any money or other property received in exchange for the interest is attributable to unrealized receivables or inventory items (that is, where there has been a section 751(a) exchange).

Who must file. A partnership must file a separate Form 8308 for each section 751(a) exchange of an interest in such partnership. See Regulations section 1.6050K-1.

Note. Form 8308 doesn't have to be filed if, under section 6045, Form 1099-B, Proceeds From Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions, is required to be filed with respect to the sale or exchange.

A partnership must file Form 8308 once the partnership has notice of the section 751(a) exchange. The partnership has such notice when either:

1. The partnership receives written notification of the exchange from the transferor that includes the names and addresses of both parties to the exchange, the identifying numbers of the transferor and (if known) of the transferee, and the date of the exchange; or
2. The partnership has knowledge that there has been a transfer of a partnership interest and, at the time of the transfer, the partnership had any unrealized receivables or inventory items.
