

TaxHawk, Inc. Continues Their Partnership with IRS to Prevent Identity Theft Tax Return Fraud

Provo, Utah, -- TaxHawk, Inc., the owner of FreeTaxUSA.com, will continue their partnership with the IRS as part of a coalition to address the growing problem of identity theft tax return fraud. The coalition includes both private and public companies, State Departments of Revenue, the IRS, and various trade associations.

In the last year, considerable time and effort has been spent by TaxHawk, Inc. to combat fraud and that effort will continue into the future. Coordination and open discussions with other interested parties has enhanced efforts to prevent identity theft tax return fraud. Prevention methods have and will continue to improve through information sharing and development of best practices. These have been established based on the combined knowledge of industry and government parties.

Scott Rasmussen, TaxHawk, Inc CEO announced "We are pleased with the progress that has been made and look forward to continuing our participation in this coalition. Together with industry and government entities we can discuss and take measures to prevent identity theft tax return fraud. We are dedicating our resources to help find a solution. We have, and will continue, to invest in detecting and preventing fraud. We anticipate working closely with the IRS for as long as it is needed."

TaxHawk, Inc., owner of FreeTaxUSA.com, was founded in 2001 and is an authorized IRS e-file provider. Their online tax software is designed for self-prepared tax returns.