Final reminder: You have unpaid taxes for 2004

Amount due: [REDACTED]

As we notified you before, you have [REDACTED] due in unpaid taxes.

This unpaid tax is the result of an adjustment to your amended 2004 tax return, where you elected to reduce your casualty loss by the amount of the hurricane-related housing grant you later received.

Billing Summary

Amount due by July 30, 2010 [REDACTED]

What you need to do immediately

What you need to do immediately-
continued

Pay immediately--continued

- If you can't pay the amount due, pay as much as you can now and make payment arrangements that allow you to pay off the rest over time. Visit www.irs.gov and search for keyword: "tax payment options" for more information about:
 - Installment and payment agreements—download required forms or save time and money by applying online if you qualify
 - Automatic deductions from your bank account
 - Payroll deductions
 - Credit card payments

Or, call us at 1-800-829-8374 to discuss your options.

If you've already paid your balance in full within the past 14 days or made payment arrangements, please disregard this notice.

If we don't hear from you

If you don't pay [REDACTED] by July 30, 2010, interest will increase and additional penalties may apply.

Protection from your spouse's debt

When you file a joint tax return the law may protect you from having to pay for liabilities for which your spouse (or former spouse) is responsible. For example, if some or all of your overpayment from a joint return has been (or will be) applied to pay your spouse's past-due income taxes and other debt (child support, spousal support, student loans), you may be entitled to relief as an injured spouse. If you're eligible, this could change the amount of tax you owe, or you may be entitled to a refund for your share of an overpayment that's been applied to your spouse's debt. For more information, or to submit a claim, go to www.irs.gov and download the Injured Spouse Allocation (Form 8379) or call 1-800-829-3676 to request a copy.

Note: You must submit a claim no later than two years from the date of our first attempt to collect the outstanding debt. This notice is an example of an attempt to collect.
