A message about your 2014 Form [1040/1040A/1040EZ]
Your request for a direct deposit refund

We can't direct deposit your refund because we limit the number of direct deposit refunds to the same bank account or to the same pre-paid debit card.

Also, you cannot deposit any part of a tax refund to an account that doesn't belong to you. This includes accounts belonging to a relative, friend, or tax return preparer.

Because your request exceeded our direct deposit limits, we're sending you a paper check instead.

You should receive a refund check for your 2014 Form [1040/1040A/1040EZ] in the mail in 4 weeks, if there are no pending issues with the tax return.

What you need to do

If you filed this tax return, you're not required to do anything at this time.

You can track your refund on www.irs.gov/refunds. If you haven't received your refund check in the mail in four weeks, you can call the number at the top of this letter.

If you didn't file this tax return and you believe someone used your personal information (such as your name and social security number) to file a tax return, contact the IRS to inform us of the misuse by submitting:

- Form 14039, ID Theft Affidavit, available at www.irs.gov, or
- A police report indicating ID Theft as the issue (send it to the IRS address in the Form 14039 instructions).

You should also monitor your financial accounts to determine if you have been the victim of non-tax fraud. Follow the steps recommended by the Federal Trade Commission at www.ftc.gov/IDTheft.
